Fear and Space Joshua Karant, 2004-08 Be afraid be very afraid A natural disaster could strike at any time right now someone is being kidnapped and your morning cereal isn't as healthy as you think Western society is being terrorized by fear Every form of risk is ever present contagious and needs to be accounted for or immediately eradicated This safety and security obsession is leaving behind ever more visible traces especially in public space speed bumps smoke free zones surveillance cameras This second book in the Group Portraits series again gathers four groups of young and talented designers around a central theme and in four chapters explores the various aspects of fear and prevention while considering their impact on contemporary urban space Text photography research and design alternate in a thought provoking sequence and enlighten the role that architecture plays or could potentially play in the culture of fear Architectuur in Nederland, 2004 Archis, 2002 Behind the Postcolonial Abidin Kusno, 2014-04-04 In Behind the Postcolonial Abidin Kusno shows how colonial representations have been revived and rearticulated in postcolonial Indonesia The book shows how architecture and urban space can be seen both historically and theoretically as representations of political and cultural tendencies that characterize an emerging as well as a declining social order It addresses the complex interactions between public memories of the present and past between images of global urban cultures and the concrete historical meanings of the local It shows how one might write a political history of postcolonial architecture and urban space that recognizes the political cultures of the present without neglecting the importance of the colonial past In the process it poses serious questions for the analysis and understanding of postcolonial states Landscape Henk van Blerck, Jörg Dettmar, 1999 The ten Dutch landscape architecture offices brought together in this publication were selected by the Netherlands Architecture Institute on the strength of their body of work to date By showing a representative selection of designs by each of the ten participating offices Landscape 9 1 Young Dutch Landscape Architects presents recent tendencies in landscape architecture as reflected in the work of this new generation of designers This book examines the very latest developments in contemporary landscape architecture in the Netherlands In his introductory essay Henk van Blerck outlines a historical framework for the working methods and the design philosophies of these design offices within the context of the constantly developing Dutch spatial planning discipline Jörg Dettmar's essay draws a comparison between Dutch landscape architecture and international developments in the field The exhaustive documentation of the landscape architects themselves provides insight into their work BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, 1959-02 The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists is the premier public resource on scientific and technological developments that impact global security Founded by Manhattan Project Scientists the Bulletin's iconic Doomsday Clock stimulates solutions for a safer world Dutch Art + Architecture Today, 1986-12 New Directions in Contemporary Architecture Luigi Prestinenza Puglisi, 2008-05-05 Rem Koolhaas has defined architecture as a chaotic adventure Nothing could be more true than that of the last two decades Never has architecture been so unbridled and so extraordinary the architectural cast has never been so wide and their works so diverse What though if you are new to the subject How is it possible to make sense of this seemingly unruly architectural landscape There are so many different types of architecture so many designers with such varying and even contradictory approaches This book is a much needed navigation guide for anyone interested in modern architecture Organised chronologically it enables you to find your way through one of the most prolific periods of building design It looks at buildings in often contrasting styles that have been built almost simultaneously across the world with their roots in very different tendencies and schools of thought A loose but effective framework is provided which pulls all these multiple threads together while key buildings are described individually with a unique clarity and precision Aaron Betsky Director of Cincinnati Art Museum Comprehensive coherent and cogent Puglisi's book sorts out the messy history of the last quarter century of the world's best architecture Professor Iain Borden Head Bartlett School of Architecture UCL Illuminating and insightful a must have read for students Hans Ibelings Editor of A10 new European architecture Lucid and concise Charles Jencks Architecture Critic and Author A compelling comprehensive overview of the avant garde since 1988 as it oscillates in and out of the global star system Bill Menking Editor of The Architect's Newspaper This is the first clear and systematic study of the culture of architecture from the reds of deconstruction to the sustainable greens
