Feathers Of Death:

The Feathers of Death Simon Raven, 1972      The Feathers of Death (Valancourt 20th Century Classics) Simon Raven, 2018-05-29 When Lieutenant Alastair Lynch shoots young Drummer Malcolm Harley in the back for desertion in the face of an enemy attack his action seems to be clearly justified by military precedent But after a court martial is convened to examine the facts of the case a different story emerges A tale of passionate love possessiveness and jealousy between the two men a brazen and scandalous relationship that ended in Harley s violent death The tension builds as the truth about the two men s liaison and Lynch s decision to pull the trigger gradually emerges leading to a shocking finale Simon Raven s classic first novel The Feathers of Death 1959 is a gripping thriller told in the clever witty and compulsively readable style for which Raven is known This edition features a new introduction by Gregory Woods One of the finest novelists of the post war years the most entertaining of writers a novelist of supreme merit Charles Spencer The Telegraph Extraordinary entertaining gripping and in fact memorable Sunday Times An exceptional gift for storytelling told with a narrative verve so rare those with the stomach for a tough and ugly tale will find it enthralling The Times London      Feather, a Child's Death and Life Robert Peters, 1997 With great tenderness poet and critic Robert Peters recalls the brief life and sudden death of his son Richard a four year old called Feather by his sister Meredith and brother Rob Feather returns home ill one day from nursery school spends the afternoon in bed with his father and his stuffed toy seal and dies that evening Looking back after decades on that February day in 1960 when the skinned knees colds and fevers of childhood were obliterated by the unthinkable fatal meningitis Peters sees with harrowing clarity the image of that little boy in the tugboat pajamas lying still on a gurney one bare foot visible at the edge of the sheet He recalls his anger his confusion What shall I do with my hands Feather A Child's Death and Life is an album of poetic and sometimes visceral snapshots portraits of a family a house a strained marriage a father reading poems to his children a young academic struggling to establish himself Peters catches his family in moments of almost transcendent joy and crushing grief The children s happiness on Christmas morning in summer at a Canadian lake or ice skating is shadowed by lessons in accepting death a succession of pet turtles mice and goldfish succumb Dad butchers the Thanksgiving turkey nicknamed Gobble in the snowy backyard The fourth book in Robert Peters series of memoirs Feather not only illuminates the lives of father and child but also reflects a moment in the life of a writer as Peters grief for his son finds expression in his first collection of poetry Songs for a Son      The Death of Aztec Tenochtitlan, the Life of Mexico City Barbara E. Mundy, 2018-03-22 Winner Book Prize in Latin American Studies Colonial Section of Latin American Studies Association LASA 2016 ALAA Book Award Association for Latin American Art Arvey Foundation 2016 The capital of the Aztec empire Tenochtitlan was in its era one of the largest cities in the world Built on an island in the middle of a shallow lake its population numbered perhaps 150 000 with another 350 000 people in the urban network clustered around the lake shores In 1521 at the height of Tenochtitlan s power which extended over much of Central Mexico Hernando Cort s and his followers conquered the city Cortés boasted to King Charles V of Spain that Tenochtitlan was destroyed and razed to the ground But was it Drawing on period representations of the city in sculptures texts and maps The Death of Aztec Tenochtitlan the Life of Mexico City builds a convincing case that this global capital remained through the sixteenth century very much an Amerindian city Barbara E Mundy foregrounds the role the city's indigenous peoples the Nahuatl played in shaping Mexico City through the construction of permanent architecture and engagement in ceremonial actions She demonstrates that the Aztec ruling elites who retained power even after the conquest were instrumental in building and then rebuilding the city Mundy shows how the Nahuatl entered into mutually advantageous alliances with the Franciscans to maintain the city's sacred nodes She also focuses on the practical and symbolic role of the city's extraordinary waterworks the product of a massive ecological manipulation begun in the fifteenth century to reveal how the Nahuatl struggled to maintain control of water resources in early Mexico City

The Feathers of Death, 19?? The Metaphysics of Death John Martin Fischer, 1993 This collection of seventeen essays deals with the metaphysical as opposed to the moral issues pertaining to death For example the authors investigate among other things the issue of what makes death a bad thing for an individual if indeed death is a bad thing This issue is more basic and abstract than such moral questions as the particular conditions under which euthanasia is justified if it is ever justified Though there are important connections between the more abstract questions addressed in this book and many contemporary moral issues such as euthanasia suicide and abortion the primary focus of this book is on metaphysical issues concerning the nature of death What is the nature of the harm or bad involved in death If it is not pain what is it and how can it be bad Who is the subject of the harm or bad if the person is no longer alive how can he be the subject of the bad An if he is not the subject who is Can one have harm with no subject When does the harm take place Can a harm take place after its subject ceases to exist If death harms a person can the harm take place before the death occurs If death can be a bad thing would immortality be a desirable alternative This family of questions helps to frame the puzzle of why and how death is bad Other subjects addressed include the Epicurean view that death is not a misfortune for the person who dies the nature of misfortune and benefit the meaningfulness and value of life and the distinction between the life of a person and the life of a living creature who is not a person There is an extensive bibliography that includes science fiction treatments of death and immortality

Death on Earth Jules Howard,2016-03-10 There is nothing more life affirming than understanding death in all its forms Natural selection depends on death little would evolve without it Every animal on Earth is shaped by its presence and fashioned by its spectre We are all survivors of starvation drought volcanic eruptions meteorites plagues parasites predators freak weather events tussles and scraps and our bodies are shaped by these ancient events Some animals live for just a few hours as adults others prefer to kill themselves rather than live unnecessarily for longer than they are needed and there are a number of animals that can live for centuries There are parasites that drive their hosts to die awful deaths and parasites that manipulate their hosts to live longer healthier lives There is death in life Amongst all of this there is us the upright ape perhaps the first animal in the history of the universe fully conscious that death really is going to happen to us all in the end With a narrative featuring a fish with a fake eye the oldest animal in the world the immortal jellyfish and some of the world s top death investigating biologists Death on Earth explores the never ending cycle of death and the impact death has on the living and muses on how evolution and death affect us every single day Why are we so weird about death Where does this fear come from Why are we so afraid of ageing And how might knowledge of ageing in other animals help us live better lives free of the diseases of old age      The Death of Evolution Wallace Johnson,2001-01-02 Mr Johnston confesses that he used to be a believer in Evolution But reading a book on the subject opened his eyes and after much study he wrote this present book He gives both scientific findings and Catholic teaching to show that the theory of Evolution is incompatible with both Catholic teaching and common sense His reason for studying Evolution as he quotes one eminent writer is that Every attack on the Christian Faith made today has as its basis the doctrine of Evolution      Death by Talons Tiddy Smith,2023-03-14 A re examination of the infamous 2001 North Carolina Staircase murder through the outrageous theory that an owl was the killer and not Michael Peterson On December 9 2001 Kathleen Peterson was found dead at the bottom of a staircase in her Durham North Carolina home Her scalp was laced with deep incisions and her blood was strewn from outside to inside the house The sinister truth of that night turned her murder into North Carolina s most enigmatic criminal case capturing media attention across the globe Police zeroed in on Kathleen s husband Michael Peterson and charged him with murder But was it the truth A neighbor Larry Pollard came up with an alternative killer He claimed an owl attacked Kathleen outside her house He said it sliced her scalp with its fierce talons and caused her to run inside collapsing at the stairwell and bleeding to death When the media heard about his theory Larry was mocked And Michael was convicted Now twenty years later author Tiddy Smith explores Pollard s theory and questions whether law enforcement ignored or even hid evidence to convict Michael Peterson And was an owl in fact the real killer In Death by Talons Tiddy Smith gives insight into the Staircase and the
