Fed Up And Hungry Women Oppression And Food:

Fed Up and Hungry, 1992 Fed Up and Hungry Marilyn Lawrence, 1987 Fed Up and Hungry Marilyn

Lawrence, 1987 This collection expands on Susie Orbach's claim that obsessive eating or non eating behavior is an individual albeit political response to a complex set of social circumstances in which women find themselves Theoretical pieces here bolster her views exploring the neopuritanical replacement of sex by food compulsive eating as anger and symmetries between the bulimic and anorexic internalization of ego boundaries and strategies for control Essays highlighting alternative therapies are full of case references and the compelling voices of sufferers Blood on the Table Jean Anderson, Carolina

Miranda, Barbara Pezzotti, 2018-04-13 Written from a multicultural and interdisciplinary perspective this collection of new essays explores the semiotics of food in the 20th and 21st century crime fiction of authors such as Anthony Bourdain Arthur Upfield Sara Paretsky Andrea Camilleri Fred Vargas Ruth Rendell Stieg Larsson Leonardo Padura Georges Simenon Paco Ignacio Taibo II and Donna Leon The collection covers a range of issues such as the provision of intra peri or paratextual recipes the aesthetics and ethics of food eating rituals as indications of cultural belonging and regional national and supranational identities It also tackles eating disorders and other seemingly abnormal habits as signs of Otherness Also mentioned are the television productions of the Inspector Montalbano series 1999 ongoing the Danish Swedish Bron Broen 2011 The Bridge and its remakes The Tunnel 2013 France UK and The Bridge 2013 USA Deleuze and Research

Methodologies Rebecca Coleman, 2013-02-25 Shows how Deleuze's philosophy is shaking up research in the humanities and social sciences Deleuzian thinking is having a significant impact on research practices in the Social Sciences not least because one of its key implications is the demand to break down the false divide between theory and practice This book brings together international academics from a range of Social Science and Humanities disciplines to reflect on how Deleuze's philosophy is opening up and shaping methodologies and practices of empirical research Men, Women and Madness

Joan Busfield, 2017-03-01 This book focuses on the complex patterning of mental disorder identified in men and women The first part of the book examines the gendered landscape of mental disorder key concepts and approaches and the way in which gender is embedded in constructs of mental disorder The second part considers theories of the causes of mental disorder and the extent to which the different causes can account for the gendered landscape of disorder It concludes with a discussion of the policy implications of the analysis The Wasting Heroine in German Fiction by Women 1770-1914

Anna Richards, 2004 In this broad ranging study of German fiction by women between 1770 1914 the author aims to add a new dimension to existing debates on the association of women and illness in literature She constructs a history of women's self starvation eating behaviour and wasting diseases Culture and Weight Consciousness Mervat Nasser, 2003-09-02

Anorexia nervosa and bulimia are among the few psychiatric syndromes with a plausible socio cultural model of causation Issues of culture and slimness are usually considered in terms of the experience of the western world but there is a growing body of research suggesting that concern with slimness is becoming more prevalent in non western cultures In Culture and Weight Consciousness Mervat Nasser brings together this research and looks at the recent emergence of eating disorders in cultures that were previously free of such problems She relates the feminist theories that have been put forward to explain the phenomenon of eating disorders in the west to the condition of modern women in many non western cultures and concludes that their position is not at all that different from that of their western counterparts This leads her to address the current limitations of the concept of culture and draw out the implications for future research

The Body and Social Theory Professor Chris Shilling,2003-03-27 Praise for the First Edition Essential to any collection of work on the body health and illness or social theory Choice Sophisticated and acutely perceptive of the importance of the complex dialectic between social institutions culture and biological conditions Times Higher Education Supplement Chris Shilling has done us all a splendid service in bringing together and illustrating the tremendous diversity and richness of sociological thinking on the topic of human embodiment and its implications Sociological Review This updated edition of the bestselling text retains all the strengths of the first edition Chris Shilling provides a critical survey of the field demonstrates how developments in diet sexuality reproductive technology genetic engineering and sports science have made the body a site for social alternatives and individual choices and elucidates the practical uses of theory in striking and accessible ways In addition new original material explores the latest feminist phenomenological and action oriented approaches to the body examines the latest work on body projects and the relationship between the body and self identity and outlines a compelling theoretical framework that provides a radical basis for the consolidation of body studies

Psychological Responses to Eating Disorders and Obesity Julia Buckroyd, Sharon Rother,2008-03-31 This is an edited book that brings together many of the most distinguished researchers and clinicians in the field of food misuse The papers included are drawn from the conferences on psychological approaches to eating disorders and obesity held at the University of Hertfordshire in 2005 and 2006 It presents current research while focusing on the application of this new knowledge It covers both eating disorders and obesity in one volume thus positioning obesity firmly at one end of the food misuse continuum Chapters will cover subjects such as psychological and cultural aspects of food use using CBT for treating eating disorders and CBT group therapy for obesity

Women in the Spanish Novel Today Kyra A. Kietrys, Montserrat Linares,2014-01-10 This collection of new essays examines the representation of the female self in recent novels written by Spanish women The essays explore the myriad ways in which women s struggle with self definition and self fulfillment is contemplated in Spain during a time in which democracy has taken hold and women s rights have taken shape Authors covered include Carmen Martin Gaité Josefina Aldecoa Rosa Montero Dulce Chacón Clara Sánchez Lucía Etxebarria Care Santos Eugenia Rico Espido Freire and others

The Body in Qualitative Research John Richardson, Alison Shaw,2019-05-23 First published in 1998 the three main themes of the book are representation images and symbols which depict the body regulation the social control of bodies and resistance strategies which challenge dominant representation and regulation These themes run through the various chapters which span a wide spectrum of bodily topics The chapters deal not only with major issues such as media images of male and female bodies but also with neglected problems such as workplace bullying unusual settings such as residential institutions for trainee clergy and exotica such as naturism and fetish practices The topics range from the healthy and sporting bodybuilding clubs and rugby culture through to the health problems of Crohn's Disease sufferers and the self harm practices of women in bail hostels Also the book sheds light on the ageing process by including not just young people teenage girls in physical education lessons but also the older and increasingly assertive generation of wrinklies

Women And Health Sue Wilkinson,Celia Kitzinger,2013-10-11 this comprehensive volume provides a broad sample of contemporary British feminist work on women and health It spans the disciplines of psychology sociology social policy social anthropology and economics and demonstrates the development of feminist theorizing and activism in these areas over the past decade Topics include global and national politics of women's health the psychologization of health sexuality and AIDS body image and pregnancy reproductive technology substance abuse breast cancer and the long term health problems of women Calling for a greater understanding of women and health the contributors acknowledge the gender based inequities of women's experiences and address the need for social and political change in order to improve the health and health care of women across the lifespan
