Renaissance is the best known and most widely studied cultural movement in African American history. Now in Harlem Renaissance Lives, esteemed scholars Henry Louis Gates Jr and Evelyn Brooks Higginbotham have selected 300 key biographical entries culled from the eight volume African American National Biography, providing an authoritative who's who of this seminal period. Here readers will find engagingly written and authoritative articles on notable African Americans who made significant contributions to literature, drama, music, visual art, or dance, including such central figures as poet Langston Hughes, novelist Zora Neale Hurston, aviator Bessie Coleman, blues singer Ma Rainey, artist Romare Bearden, dancer Josephine Baker, jazzman Louis Armstrong, and the intellectual giant W. E. B. Du Bois. Also included are biographies of people like the Scottsboro Boys, who were not active within the movement but who nonetheless profoundly affected the artistic and political statements that came from Harlem Renaissance figures. The volume will also feature a preface by the editors, an introductory essay by historian Cary D. Wintz, and 75 illustrations.

Inventing Entertainment Brian Dolan, 2009-01-16 Brian Dolan's social and cultural history of the music business in relation to the history of the player piano is a critical chapter in the story of contemporary life. The player piano made the American music industry and American music itself modern. For years, Tin Pan Alley composers and performers labored over scores for quick ditties destined for the vaudeville circuit or librettos destined for the Broadway stage. But the introduction of the player piano in the early 1900s transformed Tin Pan Alley's guild of composers, performers, and theater owners into a music industry. The player piano, with its perforated music rolls that told the pianos what key to strike, changed musical performance because it made a musical piece standard, repeatable, and easy rather than something laboriously learned. It also created a national audience because the music that was played in New Orleans or Kansas City could also be played in New York or Missoula, as new music, ragtime, and dance, fox trot styles crisscrossed the continent along with the player piano's music rolls. By the 1920s, only automobile sales exceeded the amount generated by player pianos and their music rolls. Consigned today to the realm of collectors and technological arcane, the player piano was a moving force in American music and American life.

African Americans in the Performing Arts Steven Otfinoski, 2010 Provides short biographies of African Americans who have contributed to the performing arts.

Atlantic Communities Maria Teresa Caneda-Cabrera, Rui Carvalho Homem, David Johnston, 2022-12-26 Historically, the Atlantic Ocean has served to define the relationship between the so-called worlds of the Old and the New. A geographical divide between continents, it is also no less a historical space across which peoples have travelled, sharing ideas and cultural practices, a site of encounter and exchange that has shaped the lives of communities and nations across the globe. This book maps this productive web of multi-layered connections, not just in terms of military, migratory, economic, and commercial actions and processes, but also of shifting lines of translation that have mobilised ideas, fomented the exchange of experiences, and opened up channels of communication. The Atlantic is considered here a global translation zone that has been created through a myriad of crossings, physical and conceptual, and historically shaped through the reciprocal influences between the different communities situated around and beyond its shores In the final analysis the book explores the Atlantic as a zone of created relation characterised by the interaction between processes of translation mobility and in the best of cases of hospitality and most importantly as a space no longer defined by economic and military power but by the multiplicity of identities forged in its ambit This book will be of interest to scholars and advanced students of translation studies literature history human geography politics sociology and cultural studies It was originally published as a special issue of the journal Atlantic Studies

Stealing the Show Miriam J. Petty, 2016-03-08 Stealing the Show is a study of African American actors in Hollywood during the 1930s a decade that saw the consolidation of stardom as a potent cultural and industrial force Petty focuses on five performers whose Hollywood film careers flourished during this period Louise Beavers Fredi Washington Lincoln Stepin Fetchit Perry Bill Bojangles Robinson and Hattie McDaniel to reveal the problematic stardom and the enduring interdependent patterns of performance and spectatorship for performers and audiences of color She maps how these actors though regularly cast in stereotyped and marginalized roles employed various strategies of cinematic and extracinematic performance to negotiate their complex positions in Hollywood and to ultimately steal the show Drawing on a variety of source materials Petty explores these stars reception among Black audiences and theorizes African American viewership in the early twentieth century Her book is an important and welcome contribution to the literature on the movies
