Fayum Portraits:

Mummy Portraits in the J. Paul Getty Museum David L. Thompson, 1982-01-01 These extraordinary Egyptian images produced from Julio Claudian times through the age of Constantine the first four centuries A D seem often to have been commissioned while the subject was still alive and displayed in the home At death the portrait was inserted into the deceased's mummy wrappings Thirteen mummy portraits from the Getty Museum's collection are catalogued in this text by Dr David Thompson professor of Classics at Howard University Placing the works in the context of other so called Fayum paintings Dr Thompson examines their importance as portraits and identifies the hands of individual painters Numerous illustrations accompany his discussion The Mysterious Fayum Portraits Euphrosyne Doxiadis, 2000 Mysterious Fayum Portraits

Euphrosyne Doxiadis, 1995-10-15 In the first three centuries A D in a fertile district of Roman Egypt called the Fayum a diverse community of Greeks Egyptians Romans Syrians Libyans Nubians and Jews flourished These people and many of their contemporaries throughout the Nile Valley embalmed the bodies of their dead and then placed over the faces portraits painted on wooden panels or linen These paintings today known as Fayum or mummy portraits were created to preserve the memory of each individual The Fayum portraits are by far the most important body of portraiture to have survived antiquity Reproduced in this arresting book are some 180 of the finest of the more than 1 000 extant images of men women and children young and old plain and beautiful all of whom seem uncannily alive A few of these faces have become familiar to scholars and museum goers but as a whole they have been neglected by art historians and will be new to most readers

FAYUM Bérénice Geoffroy-Schneiter, 1998 Miraculously preserved in the desert sands the people of Roman Egypt had their likenesses captured in portraits painted on coffins But who created these images This book attempts to piece together the secret of these ancient portraits which can be seen in museums all over the world Ancient Faces Susan Walker, 2020-03-25 From the first major discoveries a century ago the painted portraits of Roman Egypt were a revelation to scholars and the public alike and the recent finding of a new cache of these gilded images which made national headlines have only heightened their mystery and appeal Published to coincide with a new major exhibition of these portraits Ancient Faces is the most comprehensive up to date survey of these astonishing works of art Dating from the later period of Roman rule in Egypt shortly before the birth of Christ the painted mummy portraits are among the most remarkable products of the ancient world a fusion of the traditions of pharonic Egypt and the Classical world They are historical and cultural objects of outstanding importance and beauty superb works of art that represent some of the earliest known examples of life like portraiture Though the subjects of the portraits believed in the traditional Egyptian cults which offered them a firm prospect of life after death they also wished to be commemorated in the Roman manner with their fashion of dress and adornment signaling their status in life Despite their ancient history these portraits speak to the modern eye with a beauty and intensity that would be lost to portraiture until the Renaissance Mummy Portraits from Roman Egypt Paul Roberts, 2008 The mummy portraits of Roman Egypt are haunting images of ancient faces anonymous people painted by anonymous artists And yet they are historical and cultural documents of outstanding interest and importance and many are of superb artistic quality This type of portrait appeared in Egypt in the first century AD and remained popular for around 200 years Though the subjects believed in the traditional Egyptian cults which offered them a firm prospect of life after death they also wished to be commemorated in the Roman manner Portraits were commissioned that would serve as a realistic record of the deceased as he or she had appeared in life These were painted on a wooden board at a roughly lifelike scale which was then placed on the outside of the cartonnage coffin over the head of the individual or carefully placed into the mummy wrappings The images also reveal the adoption of Roman fashions in dress and personal adornment by persons remote from the centre of the empire but likely to have been actively engaged in its local administration By careful assessment of the hairstyles clothes and jewellery it is possible to date the portraits often within a decade or so Many of the finest and best known examples come from the Fayum and are a dazzling testament to the Greek painting tradition in particular the sophistication of the Alexandrian school from which they are derived It is not until some fifteen centuries later in the faces painted by Titian or Rembrandt's depiction of his own features as he saw them reflected in a mirror that the same artistry that characterizes many of the anonymous painters of the Fayum is witnessed again

The Virtual Mummy Sarah Underhill Wisseman, 2003 The Virtual Mummy is a thoroughly readable introduction to the nondestructive techniques used by contemporary researchers to analyze the artifacts and culture of ancient Egypt It tells the captivating story of the virtual unwrapping of an Egyptian mummy and the interdisciplinary project that allowed researchers at the University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign to investigate the person inside by way of an autopsy performed by computer The mummy acquired by the university's Spurlock Museum in 1989 was from the Fayum region of Egypt and is dated to about 100 AD Although other mummy projects have used destructive analytical techniques the Spurlock mummy was never even unwrapped Minute samples of loose material were taken for dating and for textile and wood analysis without affecting the integrity or display quality of the artifact Faculty and staff members from area hospitals and University of Illinois departments including classics anthropology chemistry textile sciences and entomology were recruited by the Program on Ancient Technologies and Archaeological Materials for the project The interdisciplinary team implemented a research plan that relied on medical imaging techniques including X rays and CT scans They also utilized for the first time in the history of mummy research a Cray II supercomputer at the university's National Center for Supercomputing Applications to render three dimensional images of the mummy's skull and body Replete with illustrations Sarah U Wisseman's engaging chronicle of teamwork and research gives readers the chance to experience how ancient history melded with contemporary technology The Virtual Mummy also includes a review of the development of mummification and a general history of mummy research

Mummy Portraits of Roman Egypt Marie Svoboda, Caroline Cartwright, 2020-08-25 This publication presents fascinating new findings on ancient Romano Egyptian funerary portraits preserved in international collections Once interred with mummified remains nearly a thousand funerary portraits from Roman Egypt survive today in museums around the world bringing viewers face to face with people who lived two thousand years ago Until recently few of these paintings had undergone in depth study to determine by whom they were made and how An international collaboration known as APPEAR Ancient Panel Paintings Examination Analysis and Research was launched in 2013 to promote the study of these objects and to gather scientific and historical findings into a shared database The first phase of the project was marked with a two day conference at the Getty Villa Conservators scientists and curators presented new research on topics such as provenance and collecting comparisons of works across institutions and scientific studies of pigments binders and supports The papers and posters from the conference are collected in this publication which offers the most up to date information available about these fascinating remnants of the ancient world The free online edition of this open access publication is available at www.getty.edu/publications/mummyportraits and includes zoomable illustrations and

graphs Also available are free PDF EPUB and Kindle MOBI downloads of the book Pro refrigerio animae: Death and Memory in East-Central Europe Angela Jianu, Gheorghe Lazăr, 2023-08-04 The historiography of death memory and testamentary practices is already abundant in Western Europe and a fairly large number of extra European regions For East Central Europe there are many short studies in various regional languages mainly on anthropological ethnographic aspects of the funeral rituals This is an edited collection of studies by international scholars on the interlocking themes of attitudes and discourses on death commemorative practices and inheritance testamentary strategies in the Balkans and East Central Europe These and other related themes are addressed comparatively and cover areas including Albania Bulgaria Romania Greece and areas of the former Yugoslavia Hungary and Austria from the perspective of imperial Ottoman and Habsburg legacies Pro refrigerio animae Death and Memory in East Central Europe contributes to this subject by linking anthropological religious cultural approaches to death to the legal economic aspects of inheritance commemoration adding a still absent East Central European and Habsburg Balkan and Ottoman dimension to the study of death memorialization and testaments and presenting an abundant primary and secondary material in English translation and thus placing research on death and testaments by East Central and Greek scholars within the international scholarly circuit Belarus in Autoethnographic Narratives Victor Martinovich, 2025-08-19 This book offers an autoethnographic exploration of the interplay of art memory and resilience in Eastern Europe weaving together the personal and collective histories of Belarusians those who survived two World Wars and their contemporaries who are now looking for a way out of a political crisis in the region Set against the history of Belarus it recounts the story of the author's great-grandfather Amyalyan a Belarusian peasant executed by the Nazis after saving a Jewish man during World War II along with reflections on artists like Cha m Soutine and Marc Chagall whose journeys reflect the region's cultural endurance Combining autoethnography and art history this book presents art as a medium of empathy challenging readers to engage with paintings emotionally rather than through a purely analytical lens Each chapter functions as both a historical reflection and an invitation to see art as a means of reclaiming personal narratives making historical traumas accessible and relatable Themes of compassion forgiveness and the humanizing power of art emerge as essential elements guiding readers through the complex intersections of personal and collective memory This book is a valuable addition for researchers and students interested in ethnography and autoethnography Eastern European studies art history cultural studies and memory studies
