Antony S. R. Manstead, Nico Frijda, Agneta Fischer, 2004-04-05 Emotions are central to human behavior and experience Yet scientific theory and research ignored emotions during most of the twentieth century This situation changed dramatically during the last 30 years of that century which witnessed an upsurge of interest in emotions in a number of disciplines This book arises from the 24 keynote papers presented at a symposium held in June 2001 that had the same title as this volume The aim of that meeting was to review the state of research on emotions from a multidisciplinary perspective Each chapter is authored by an acknowledged authority in the field Together they provide an overview of what is being studied and thought about emotions in disciplines ranging from neurophysiology and experimental psychology to sociology and philosophy

Redeeming Fear Jason C. Whitehead, 2013-06-01 Our brains are hard wired to experience the emotion of fear Yet do not be afraid is a common refrain from the Bible used for both comfort and chastening We have often treated fear as something to be dismissed or suppressed Being afraid means more than simply fighting or running from a threat to be afraid is to remember that something in life is worth living for Whitehead helps us find the roots of hope in the soil of our fears so that we can form lives and communities of hope in the midst of a culture of fear Internet-Delivered Therapeutic

Interventions in Human Services Jerry Finn, Dick Schoech, 2014-06-03 There has been exponential growth in use of the Internet to deliver therapeutic and supportive human services Online interventions are known by a variety of names including online practice e therapy and others All refer to the delivery of services over the Internet through a variety of delivery systems including asynchronous email video and chat communication and closed circuit video conferencing They include services delivered by professionals such as psychiatrists social workers psychologists counsellors and nurses as well as self help groups with a therapeutic purpose and supportive services provided by trained volunteers This book presents the most current research on online practice Topics include descriptions of innovative online practice evaluation studies of online practice with specific disorders meta analysis of the effectiveness of online practice education and training of online practitioners methods for the delivery of online practice organizational policy and ethical issues related to online practice online crisis intervention and hotline services and considerations for meeting legal and ethical requirements of online practice This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Technology in Human Services Emotional Choices Robin Markwica, 2018-03-06 Why do states often refuse to yield to military threats from a more powerful actor such as the United States Why do they frequently prefer war to compliance International Relations scholars generally employ the rational choice logic of consequences or the constructivist logic of appropriateness to explain this puzzling behavior Max Weber however suggested a third logic of choice in his magnum opus Economy and Society human decision making can also be motivated by emotions Drawing on Weber and more recent scholarship in sociology and psychology Robin Markwica introduces the logic of affect or emotional choice theory into the field of International Relations The logic of affect posits that actors behavior is shaped by the dynamic interplay among their norms identities and five key emotions fear anger hope pride and humiliation Markwica puts forward a series of propositions that specify the affective conditions under which leaders are likely to accept or reject a coercer s demands To infer emotions and to examine their influence on decision making he develops a methodological strategy combining sentiment analysis and an interpretive form of process tracing He then applies the logic of affect to Nikita Khrushchev s behavior during the Cuban missile crisis in 1962 and Saddam Hussein s decision making in the Gulf conflict in 1990 1 offering a novel explanation for why U S coercive diplomacy succeeded in one case but not in the other Relational Rituals and Communication D. Obsessive-Compulsive Disorder Richard P. Swinson, Martin M. Antony, S. Rachman, Margaret A. Richter, 2001-10-31 Drawing upon extensive interviews and assessments of school age children who have lost a parent to death this book offers a richly textured portrait of the mourning process in children The volume presents major findings from the Harvard Child Bereavement Study and places them in the context of previous research shedding new light on both the wide range of normal variation in children's experiences of grief and the factors that put bereaved children at risk. The book also compares parentally bereaved children with those who have suffered loss of a sibling to death or of a parent through divorce, exploring similarities and differences in these experiences of loss. A concluding section explores the clinical implications of the findings and includes a review of intervention models and activities as well as a screening instrument designed to help identify high risk bereaved children.

Global/Local Rob Wilson, Wimal Dissanayake, 1996-05-27 This groundbreaking collection focuses on what may be for cultural studies the most intriguing aspect of contemporary globalization: the ways in which the postnational restructuring of the world in an era of transnational capitalism has altered how we must think about cultural production. Mapping a new world space that is simultaneously more globalized and localized than before, these essays examine the dynamic between the movement of capital, images and technologies without regard to national borders and the tendency toward fragmentation of the world into increasingly contentious enclaves of difference, ethnicity and resistance. Ranging across issues involving film, literature and theory as well as history, politics, economics, sociology and anthropology, these deeply interdisciplinary essays explore the interwoven forces of globalism and localism in a variety of cultural settings, with a particular emphasis on the Asia Pacific region. Powerful readings of the new image culture, transnational film genre and the politics of spectacle are offered, as is a critique of globalization as the latest guise of colonization. Articles that unravel the complex links between the global and local in terms of the unfolding narrative of capital are joined by work that illuminates phenomena as diverse as yellow cab interracial sex in Japan, machinic desire in Robocop movies and the Pacific Rim city. An interview with Fredric Jameson by Paik Nak Chung on globalization and Pacific Rim responses is also featured, as is a critical afterword by Paul Bovens. Positioned at the crossroads of an altered global terrain, this volume, the first of its kind, analyzes the evolving transnational imaginary, the full scope of contemporary cultural production by which national identities of political allegiance and economic regulation are being undone and in which imagined communities are being reshaped at both the global and local levels of everyday existence.

Passenger Behaviour Robert Bor, 2017-03-02 With 2003 being the 100th anniversary of modern aviation, Passenger Behaviour was published at a milestone for the aviation industry. Remarkable achievements in engineering have made air travel highly accessible within the span of a single lifetime. However, when evolutionary barriers are exceeded, various penalties are exacted. The most common experienced by air passengers include motion sickness, jetlag and increased arousal and stress at different stages of flight. Air travel also brings us into closer contact with strangers, making our examination and understanding of the social psychology of behaviour within groups among passengers especially relevant. This book examines a wide range of topics that help the reader to acquire a psychological understanding of how air travel impacts on human relationships, behaviour as well as physiological functions. Written by leading authorities in their areas, it is intended primarily for those with an interest in passenger behaviour and those who work professionally in commercial aviation This includes pilots cabin crew ground staff airline and airport managers aviation psychologists human factors specialists aerospace medical nursing personnel and aircraft designers and manufacturers As air travel being an integral part of most people's lives this book will also be of interest to anyone who travels either on a frequent or infrequent basis

Lets delve into the realm of top-selling books, exploring the engaging narratives that have charmed audiences this year. The Must-Read :

Colleen Hoover "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has gripped readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover skillfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail.

Fears Phobias And Rituals Panic Anxiety And Their Disorders : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This captivating historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery.

Fears Phobias And Rituals Panic Anxiety And Their Disorders : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting.

These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered.

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and thrilling novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
