Economic Games People Play Shlomo Maital, Sharone L. Maital, 1984-05-20 Neural Substrates of Decision-Making in Economic Games Angela A. Stanton, 2008-03-25 In economic experiments decisions often differ from game theoretic predictions Why are people generous in one shot ultimatum games with strangers Is there a benefit to generosity toward strangers Research on the neural substrates of decisions suggests that some choices are hormone dependent By artificially stimulating subjects with neuroactive hormones we can identify which hormones and brain regions participate in decision making to what degree and in what direction Can a hormone make a person generous while another stingy In this paper two laboratory experiments are described using the hormones oxytocin OT and arginine vasopressin AVP Concentrations of these hormones in the brain continuously change in response to external stimuli OT enhances trust Michael Kosfeld et al 2005b reduce fear from strangers C Sue Carter 1998 and has anti anxiety effects Kerstin Uvn s Moberg Maria Peterson 2005 AVP enhances attachment and bonding with kin in monogamous male mammals Jennifer N Ferguson et al 2002 and increases reactive aggression C Sue Carter 2007 Dysfunctions of OT and or AVP reception have been associated with autism Miranda M Lim et al 2005

The Games People Play Robert Ellis, 2014-04-21 In The Games People Play Robert Ellis constructs a theology around the global cultural phenomenon of modern sport paying particular attention to its British and American manifestations Using historical narrative and social analysis to enter the debate on sport as religion Ellis shows that modern sport may be said to have taken on some of the functions previously vested in organized religion Through biblical and theological reflection he presents a practical theology of sport s appeal and value with special attention to the theological concept of transcendence Throughout he draws on original empirical work with sports participants and spectators The Games People Play addresses issues often considered problematic in theological discussions of sport such as gender race consumerism and the role of the modern media as well as problems associated with excessive competition and performance enhancing substances As Ellis explains Sporting journalists often use religious language in covering sports events Salvation features in many a headline and talk of moments of redemption is not uncommon Perhaps somewhere beyond the cliched hyperbole there is some theological truth in all this after all

Economics in a Changing World Jean-Paul Fitoussi, 1995-06-12 Growth patterns have changed radically over the last two decades to which capital and the labour markets appear to have failed to adapt Unemployment in Europe has been growing almost without remission to levels unseen since the Great Depression These facts are somewhat at odds with the development of growth theory which has mainly been orientated towards an equilibrium full employment framework The main message of equilibrium theory of fluctuations was precisely that the policy maker is impotent Now with the universal acceptance of endogenous growth theory the common consensus proposition would be we
