Rosenof,2000-11-09 Though understandably preoccupied with the immediate problems of the Great Depression the generation of economists that came to the forefront in the 1930s also looked ahead to the long term consequences of the crisis and proposed various solutions to prevent its recurrence Theodore Rosenof examines the long run theories and legacies of four of the leading members of this generation John Maynard Keynes of Great Britain who influenced the New Deal from afar Alvin Hansen and Gardiner Means who fought over the direction of New Deal policy and Joseph Schumpeter an opponent of the New Deal Rosenof explores the conflicts that arose among long run theorists arguing that such disputes served eventually to set the stage for the emergence and domination of a short run Keynesian approach to economic policy that collapsed under the impact of 1970s stagflation Tracing the subsequent revival of long run theories Rosenof demonstrates their relevance to an understanding of the economy's problems over the past quarter century and to the current debate over public policy Originally published in 1997 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value The Impact of International Trade and Investment on Employment ,1978

Policy Studies Review Annual Ray C. Rist,1986-09-01 In the tradition of the Policy Studies Review Annual series Volume Eight continues to offer the best of recent writing and analysis in a number of policy relevant area Indeed reflecting the shifting nature of policy debates and public attention Volume Eight has introduced seven entirely new substantive areas including such sensitive issues as the viability of the safety net information policy work and labor policy immigration policy and environmental policy The volume is also characterized by explicit attention to two critical aspects of the policy analysis craft the strengths and weaknesses of various methodological approaches and the role noneconomic factors should play in economic policy analysis Drawing from such public sector administrators as William Ruckelshaus and Eleanor Chelimsky academic policy analysts such as Martin Feldstein and Irving Louis Horowitz and two congressional support agencies CBO and GAO the volume provides the most timely and relevant assessments of current policy issues It also provides the reader with a framework within which to approach substantive areas as widely disparate as national security and health care The volume is an indispensable tool for those who seek to sort through the confusions and contradictions of present policy statements in order to gain a cogent view of how these and other issues are framed and what viable policy options are available
