The Anthropology of Morality in Melanesia and Beyond John Barker,2016-04-01 The Anthropology of Morality in Melanesia and Beyond examines how Melanesians experience and deal with moral dilemmas and challenges Taking Kenelm Burridge s seminal work as their starting point the contributors focus upon public situations and types of people that exemplify key ethical contradictions for members of moral communities While returning to some classical concerns such as the roles of big men and sorcerers the book opens new territory with richly textured ethnographic studies and theoretical reviews that explore the interface between the values associated with indigenous village life and the ethical orientations associated with Christianity the state the marketplace and other facets of modernity A major contribution to the emerging field of the anthropology of morality the volume includes some of the most prominent scholars working in the discipline today including Bruce Knauft Joel Robbins F G Bailey Deborah Gewertz and Frederick Errington The Governance of Common Property in the Pacific Region Peter Larmour,2013-03-01 With the inevitable lessening of the importance of traditional forms of management of land and water resources in Pacific island countries accompanying the development of the state and the internationalisation of these economies common property problems have arisen in many natural resource areas This publication covers many of the problem areas which have arisen and discusses various approaches to better management Foreword The Melanesian World Eric Hirsch,Will Rollason,2019-03-28 This wide ranging volume captures the diverse range of societies and experiences that form what has come to be known as Melanesia It covers prehistoric historic and contemporary issues and includes work by art historians political scientists geographers and anthropologists The chapters range from studies of subsistence ritual and ceremonial exchange to accounts of state violence new media and climate change The Melanesian world assembled here raises questions that cut to the heart of debates in the human sciences today with profound implications for the ways in which scholars across disciplines can describe and understand human difference This impressive collection of essays represents a valuable resource for scholars and students alike Pacific 2010 Paul A. McGavin,1997 Examines the growth of employment in Melanasia Suggests that rural based development is a key factor in accelerating employment growth Economic Basis of Pacific Security John E. Starron,Patricia K. Hymson,1982 Art and Life in Melanesia Susan Cochrane,2007 What is Melanesian art today Who are the artists What are the subjects of their art Art and Life in Melanesia provides a timely exploration of contemporary Melanesian artists and their creative voices It covers major cultural themes including kastom Christianity Indigenisation and Globalisation Markets Festivals Diasporas urban culture and politics Each theme focuses on ideas issues and some specific arts practices drawing examples from a few localities Art and Life in Melanesia is based n many years of research in the region and will be an extremely welcome and timely addition to the publishing on this subject Dust jacket Politics, Development and Security in Oceania David

Hegarty, Darrell Tryon, 2013-04-01 French and Australian collaborative research in the humanities and the social sciences in the South Pacific has grown and intensified significantly over the past two decades beginning with the international symposium Changing Identities in the Pacific at the Dawn of the Twenty First Century held at the Australian Embassy in Paris in 1997 In April 2006 another French government sponsored international symposium AGORA Ateliers Gouvernance et Recherche Appliquée was held at IRD Institut de Recherche pour le Développement Noumea New Caledonia major themes being governance and economic development again bringing together Francophone and Anglophone scholars from France and the Pacific region This was followed in October 2009 by two conjoint Francophone Anglophone conferences held at the IRD Centre in Noumea Stability Security and Development in Oceania preceded by AGORA 2 an international conference on Anglophone research in the humanities and the social sciences in the Francophone Pacific sponsored by the French Government and the Government of New Caledonia The first of these conferences was sponsored by the French Fonds Pacifique and the State Society and Governance Program at The Australian National University An edited selection of presentations from this symposium constitutes the present volume Preface Sustaining a Resilient Asia Pacific Community

Kiran Sagoo, Wilmar Salim, 2009-03-26 Coming out of an established international graduate student conference organized by the East West Center this book presents selected papers written by graduate students from different fields of study After identifying historical or contemporary issues in each field these papers propose a framework for resolving these issues whether through global commitment regional cooperation national policy or local knowledge and practice The unifying thread of this book is sustaining resilience in the Asia Pacific We acknowledge this perseverance and try to sustain and disseminate it so that other communities may learn from these practices and experiences Generally a volume like this would address the challenge of this region from a security economics or political perspective This book hopes to add to the literature on resiliency by addressing these issues from a multidisciplinary and multilevel perspective The Oxford

Handbook of International Law in Asia and the Pacific Simon Chesterman, Hisashi Owada, Ben Saul, 2019-09-12 The growing economic and political significance of Asia has exposed a tension in the modern international order Despite expanding power and influence Asian states have played a minimal role in creating the norms and institutions of international law today they are the least likely to be parties to international agreements or to be represented in international organizations That is changing There is widespread scholarly and practitioner interest in international law at present in the Asia Pacific region as well as developments in the practice of states The change has been driven by threats as well as opportunities Transnational issues such as climate change and occasional flashpoints like the territorial disputes of the South China and the East China Seas pose challenges while economic integration and the proliferation of specialized branches of law and dispute settlement mechanisms have also encouraged greater domestic implementation of international norms across Asia These evolutions join the long standing interest in parts of Asia notably South Asia in post colonial theory and the history of international law The Oxford Handbook of International Law in Asia and the Pacific brings together pre eminent and emerging specialists to analyse the approach to and influence of key states of the region as well as whether truly Asian trends can be identified and what this might mean for international order

Customary Land Tenure and Registration in Australia and Papua New Guinea James F. Weiner, Katie Glaskin, 2007-06-01 The main theme of this volume is a discussion of the ways in which legal mechanisms such as the Land Groups Incorporation Act 1974 in PNG and the Native Title Act 1993 in Australia do not as they purport serve merely to identify and register already existing customary indigenous landowning groups in these countries Because the legislation is an integral part of the way in which indigenous people are defined and managed in relation to the State it serves to elicit particular responses in landowner organisation and self identification on the part of indigenous people These pieces of legislation actively contour the progressive evolution of landowner social territorial and political organisation at all levels in these nation states The contributors to this volume provide in depth anthropological case studies of social structural and cultural transformations engendered by the confrontation between states developers and indigenous communities over rights to customarily owned land

Circulation in Population Movement (Routledge Revivals) Murray Chapman, R. Mansell Prothero, 2013-09-05 First published in 1985 this collection of essays deals with processes of population movement and how they have operated over time It is also about people Melanesians who number some five million and inhabit the region stretching from the Indonesian province of Irian Jaya to the Independent State of Fiji Standard work on Movement in third world societies has emphasized migration involving a shift in residence from one domicile to another at the expense of the interchange of people between diverse places and different circumstances Many moves as from villages and towns are circulatory they begin at go away from but ultimately end in the same dwelling place and community This book focuses on the full range of territorial mobility especially circulation and its meanings for the people involved This volume brings together indigenous scholars foreign field researchers and international authorities from many of the social sciences anthropology demography economics geography and sociology It presents a set of multicultural statements about the mobility of particular peoples within a region of the third world This collection about specifically Melanesian issues aims to stimulate broader visions among population scholars and it underlines the pressing need for more theoretical and empirical work on a volatile yet neglected category of population movement

Social Change in Melanesia Paul Sillitoe, 2000-04-13 This book first published in 2000 is a companion volume to An Introduction to the Anthropology of Melanesia 1998 It gives a clear and absorbing account of social change in Melanesia since the arrival of Europeans covering the history of the colonial period and the new postcolonial states Paul Sillitoe deals with economic and technological change labour migration and urbanisation and formation of the modern state but he also describes the sometimes violent reactions to these dramatic transformations in the form of cargo cults secession movements and insurrections against multinational companies He discusses development projects but brings out associated policy dilemmas reviews developments that threaten the environment and implications for local identity such as romanticises primitive culture This fascinating account of social change in the pacific is addressed to students with little or no background in the region s history and development An Introduction to Ministry in Melanesia Brian Schwarz,1985 Moral Economic Transitions in the Mongolian Borderlands Hedwig Amelia Waters,2023-06-15 Since the early 1990s Mongolia began its hopeful transition from socialism to a market democracy becoming increasingly dependent on international mining revenue Both shifts were promised to herald a new age of economic plenty for all Now roughly 30 years on many of Mongolia s poor and rural feel that they have been forgotten Moral Economic Transitions in the Mongolian Borderlands describes these shifts from the viewpoint of the self proclaimed excluded the rural township of Magtaal on the Chinese border In the wake of socialism the population of this resource rich area found itself without employment and state institutions yet surrounded by lush nature 30 kilometres from the voracious Chinese market A two tiered resource extractive political economic system developed Whilst large scale formal legally sanctioned conglomerates arrived to extract oil and land for international profits the local residents grew increasingly dependent on the Chinese funded informal illegal cross border wildlife trade More than a story about rampant capitalist extraction in the resource frontier this book intimately details the complex inner worlds moral ambiguities and emergent collective politics constructed by individuals who feel caught in political economic shifts largely outside of their control Offering much needed nuance to commonplace descriptions of Mongolia s post socialist transition this study presents rich ethnographic detail through the eyes and voices of the state s most geographically marginalized It is of interest not only to experts of political economy and post socialist transition but also to non academic readers intrigued by the interplay of value s and capitalism Creating Economic Incentives for Land Mobilisation in Papua New Guinea Luke Trebor Jones,2000 Asia-Pacific Regional Security Assessment 2021 The International Institute for Strategic Studies (IISS),2021-06-07 The Asia Pacific Regional Security Assessment 2021 provides insight into key regional strategic geopolitical economic military and security topics Among the topics explored are US China decoupling and its regional security implications Japan s security policy and China India s emerging grand strategy Southeast Asia amid rising great power rivalry Australia s new regional security posture NATO s evolving approach to China The United Kingdom s tilt to the Indo Pacific and Emerging technologies and future conflict in the Asia Pacific Authors include leading regional analysts and academics Kanti Bajpai Gordon Flake Franz Stefan Gady Prashanth Parameswaran Alessio Patalano Samir Puri Sarah Raine Tan See Seng Drew Thompson Ashley Townshend Joanne Wallis and Robert Ward The Water, Energy, and Food Security Nexus in Asia and the Pacific Andrew Dansie,Heidi K. Alleway,Benno Böer,2024-04-15 This open access book considers the water energy food WEF nexus in the Pacific region The region comprises seventeen sovereign countries and seven territories spread across the Pacific Ocean a blue expanse that covers a fifth of the world s surface area but contains only 0.5% of the population or 44.5 million people The uniqueness of the Pacific and the need for a Pasifika led approach to sustainability across environmental societal and economical spheres requires this blue continent to be considered in a separate volume under the Water Security in a New World series This Pacific volume is focussed on water energy and food security in Pacific Island Countries and Territories PICTs and the challenges produced by the impacts of anthropogenic climate change and human population pressures The diversity of culture traditional knowledge and ways of life across the Pacific are united by similar geographies and opportunities to apply a Pacific specific WEF nexus approach a coordinated approach to manage water energy and food that is centred on active decision making across the three sectors to increase the security of each Importantly a WEF nexus approach builds on national and international efforts to date in the Pacific which include Integrated Water Resource Management Ridge to Reef Source to Sea UNESCO Biosphere Reserves Integrated Coastal Zone Management and other similar approaches In this book contributions by authors from governments regional bodies multilateral agencies and academia describe water security and its intersectionality with both the energy and food sectors highlighting the significance of both land and marine food systems and connectivity between water and energy in a Pacific focussed context It is demonstrated that these systems cannot be separated from the challenges associated with healthy environments and functioning ecological services transport and waste that are unique to this vast archipelagic region To achieve meaningful change it is essential that solutions are cognizant of the world s colonial past and the global inequalities that persist today The path forward for water and food systems is one that is Pasifika led and builds on traditional knowledge and local capacity National energy demands must consider the future with solutions comprising both WEF integrated approaches and new energy technologies to hasten the transition away from fossil fuels Globally major greenhouse gas emitters both past and present need to step up for the environmental and economic benefit of all by rapidly reducing greenhouse gas emissions and supporting Pasifika leadership on highly ambitious net zero goals This book is a highly recommended source of information and inspiration for policy makers decision makers research communities and practitioners dealing with any aspect of water energy or food security in the Pacific Papua New Guinea Ila Temu,1997
