Economic Instruments for Air Pollution Control Ger Klaassen,Finn R. Førsund,2012-12-06 Economic theory and empirical models suggest that economic instruments should help us to meet environmental goals at lower cost Practical experience however shows that the cost savings of emission trading are smaller than expected and charges usually have had small incentive impacts This book gives the first comprehensive review of economic theory simulation models and practical experience with the use of economic instruments The book focuses on air pollution control Part I examines theoretical aspects and simulation modeling in a national context Part II surveys the practical experience in a variety of countries Part III explores international issues such as joint implementation Because of its unique blend of theoretical and empirical research the book will prove interesting for both economists and those interested in environmental policy Acid Rain and Emissions Trading Roger K. Raufer,Stephen L. Feldman,1987 Presents a comprehensive examination of the concerns surrounding the implementation of the market approach for dealing with acid rain JOURNAL OF ECONOMIC LITERATURE Air

President,1982 Reports for 2002 include The Annual report of the Council of Economic Advisers Global Plastics Outlook Economic Drivers, Environmental Impacts and Policy Options OECD,2022-02-22 While plastics are extremely useful materials for modern society plastics production and waste generation continue to increase with worsening environmental impacts despite international national and local policy responses as well as industry commitments The first of two reports this Outlook intends to inform and support policy efforts to combat plastic leakage Nonlinear Dynamical Systems in Economics Marji Lines,2007-03-23 Many problems in theoretical economics are mathematically formalized as dynamical systems of difference and differential equations In recent years a truly open approach to studying the dynamical behavior of these models has begun to make its way into the mainstream That is economists formulate their hypotheses and study the dynamics of the resulting models rather than formulating the dynamics and studying hypotheses that could lead to models with such dynamics This is a great progress over using linear models or using nonlinear models with a linear approach or even squeezing economic models into well studied nonlinear systems from other fields There are today a number of economic journals open to publishing this type of work and some of these have become important There are several societies which have annual meetings on the subject and participation at these has been growing at a good rate And of course there are methods and techniques available to a more general audience as well as a greater availability of software for numerical and graphical analysis that makes this type of research even more exciting The lecturers for the Advanced School on Nonlinear Dynamical Systems in Economics who represent a wide selection of the research areas to which the theory has been applied agree on the importance of simulations and computer based analysis The School emphasized computer applications of models and methods and all contributors ran computer lab sessions Economic Reform and Environmental Performance in Transition Economies Gordon Hughes,Magda Lovei,1999-01-01 transition has proved to be a much longer and more difficult process than most had anticipated and progress has varied By 1998 only one country Poland which embarked on economic reform before the rest of the region had reestablished sustained economic growth and surpassed the pretransition level of real gross domestic product GDP From Economic Reform and Environmental Performance in Transition Economies Most global economy and environmental watchers expect the transition to a market economy to yield environmental benefits The changing incentives that a market economy introduces should foster more efficient production better use of resources and increased community input The advanced reformers of the Central and Eastern European CEE

countries proved this to be the case They improved energy efficiency and reduced emissions intensity of pollutants The slower reforming countries of the Newly Independent States NIS also experienced lower pollution However that downturn coincided with the economic decline which shut down many major polluters This report reviews progress in environmental trends since transition began It looks at air and water pollution and health indicators in the trends and in light of the environmental issues identified in the Environmental Action Programme for Central and Eastern Europe It continues and builds on the World Bank s work in analyzing the environmental effects of transition restructuring and privatization with a view to identifying priority areas for investment and policy initiatives The report will interest environmental policy makers and practitioners
