Ecology Environment And Education:

Environmental Education and Advocacy Edward A. Johnson, Michael J. Mappin, 2005-03-03 Environmental education has often blurred the distinction between ecological science and environmental advocacy. Growing public awareness of environmental problems and desire for action may be contributing to this blurring. There is a need to clarify the distinction between the role of ecological science and the role of social and political values for the environment within environmental education. This book addresses this need by examining the changing perspectives of ecology in education and the changing perspectives of education in environmental education. Guidelines are provided for assessing the science and education perspectives within environmental education along with suggested frameworks for development of programs and resources that integrate current science education and action. This book will be of interest to environmental educators, ecologists interested in environmental education and curriculum and resource developers.

Ecology, Environment, and Education

R. Thomas Tanner, 1974 Environmental Education Trilochan S. Bakshi, Zev Naveh, 2013-03-09 The environmental movement of the 1960s made educationists in some parts of the world aware of the significance and importance of ecology in curricula at all levels of education from kindergarten to post secondary. A great deal of progress was made in the early 1970s in incorporating environmental awareness programs into educational systems so that what was once considered a fad was gradually becoming a part of formal education in a number of institutions especially in Canada and the U.S.A. It was therefore appropriate that an international scientific body devote some time to the issue of ecology in education. Early in 1976 I suggested to the International Association for Ecology Inteco¹ that a symposium on Environmental Education be included in the program of the Second International Congress of Ecology scheduled to be held in Jerusalem in September 1978. In the first draft program of the Congress the topic was included as a poster session. I considered this inadequate and appealed to the Congress Steering Committee to focus greater attention on environmental education. The first draft program contained phrases like utilization of resources, conservation problems, environmental monitoring and irreversible changes. These phrases more or less assumed that people in general understood ecological principles. Literature on environmental education seems to suggest that a wide gap separated most of the professional ecologists from a large portion of mankind primarily because we the ecologists have paid scant attention to the ecological education of world's citizens.

International Handbook of Research on Environmental Education Robert B. Stevenson, Michael Brody, Justin Dillon, Arjen E.J.

Wals, 2013-05-02 The environment and contested notions of sustainability are increasingly topics of public interest, political debate and legislation across the world. Environmental education journals now publish research from a wide variety of methodological traditions that show linkages between the environment, health, development and education. The growth in scholarship makes this an opportune time to review and synthesize the knowledge base of the environmental education (EE) field. The purpose of this 51 chapter handbook is not only to illuminate the most important concepts, findings and theories that have been developed by EE research but also to critically examine the historical progression of the field its current debates and controversies what is still missing from the EE research agenda and where that agenda might be headed Published for the American Educational Research Association AERA Ecology in Education Monica Hale,1995-09-28 Ecological and environmental education in schools and institutes of further and higher education has gained increasing importance in recent years both as an area of study in its own right and as a component of other disciplines There is now a requirement in many countries to include the environment in both formal and informal curricula This volume presents a long overdue account of the status progress and underlying concepts of ecological education It explores areas of recent development and debate in ecological and environmental education describes the evolution and development of environmental education in different countries and examines the importance and provision for fieldwork Case studies illustrate how ecological studies are undertaken in several culturally different settings This book will interest teachers and research workers in ecology environmental science and education The Failure of Environmental Education (And How We Can Fix It) Charles Saylan,Daniel Blumstein,2011-05-25 At a time when wild places everywhere are vanishing before our eyes Charles Saylan and Daniel T Blumstein offer this passionate indictment of environmental education along with a new vision for the future Writing for general readers and educators alike Saylan and Blumstein boldly argue that education today has failed to reach its potential in fighting climate change biodiversity loss and environmental degradation In this forward looking book they assess the current political climate including the No Child Left Behind Act a disaster for environmental education and discuss how education can stimulate action including decreasing consumption and demand developing sustainable food and energy sources and addressing poverty Their multidisciplinary perspective encompasses such approaches as school gardens using school buildings as teaching tools and the greening of schoolyards Arguing for a paradigm shift in the way we view education as a whole The Failure of Environmental Education demonstrates how our education system can create new levels of awareness and work toward a sustainable future Environmental Education Ian Robottom,1987 Produced for unit ECT317 offered by the School of Education in Deakin University s Open Campus Program The Ecology of the School John Eggleston,2012 Within a single educational system that of England and Wales the nature of schooling available to a child can be dramatically different Even between residential areas the differences in educational climate can be striking Apart from differences in the organization of schools and the availability of buildings teachers and resources there are also significant ideological variations between local education authorities This book considers the evidence of such differences some of the environmental factors political social and economic that may account for their distribution and the consequences that appear to spring from them Environmental Education Projects, Fiscal Year United States. Office of Education. Office of Environmental Education,1972 Environmental Education Projects United States. Environmental Protection Agency. Office of Environmental Education,1972 Towards Critical Environmental Education Aristotelis S.

Gkiolmas, Constantine D. Skordoulis, 2020-11-03 This volume discusses theory philosophy praxis and methods in Environmental and Ecological education and considers the junction with the main visions and issues of Critical Pedagogy The volume and its separate chapters address four axes which can also be seen as the guidelines of the content as well as the central objectives of the book The first axis concerns the missing theoretical and practical pieces at this point in time The volume considers the issues that are not included in contemporary Environmental Education and thus deprive it from critical orientations This implies that in Environmental Education very little discussion exists about the political economic racial gender and class issues that in most cases govern the actions of leaders and stake holders The second axis concerns what has been done so far and in what directions This involves descriptions of theoretical approaches or actual applied methodologies in the classroom such as curricula or syllabus used or the kind of actions certain educators have taken to infuse the issues of justice and critical reflection within the Environmental Education teaching agenda The third axis examines proposals It looks at ways to enrich domains of Environmental Education with the argumentations of Critical Pedagogy The fourth axis concerns the way in which proposals can be effectuated This part contains specific methodologies and teaching sequences depicting ways of including major aspects of Critical Pedagogy and Critical Education in Environmental Education Examples are Non anthropocentric ecological approaches in the classroom political activism in the Curricula mixture of field activities and political activities
