Explaining Contemporary Asian Military Modernization Sheryn Lee, 2021-04-19 This book proposes a novel theoretical framework of interactive arming in order to explain armament dynamics in contemporary Asia Frequently the modernisation of contemporary naval forces in Asia is described as an arms race with the underlying assumption being that weapons acquisitions and increases in defence expenditure are competitive and bilateral and due to conflicting purposes or mutual fears This book argues that the concept of an arms race is an unsuitable one for explaining contemporary military modernisation in 21st century Asia Instead it proposes a novel and innovative concept of interactive arming and argues that what drives conflict is political rivalry not weapons acquisitions Instead of perceiving arming as abnormal behaviour the book views arming as a natural strategic behaviour of states and military modernisation as a basic requirement for a state's ability to survive This book will be of much interest to students of Asian security strategic studies and international relations in general

Study On International Politics In Contemporary China Yuyan Zhang, 2020-07-14 China's guiding principle for foreign relations and its focus on states and regions has shifted a lot from the first 30 years of the founding of the People's Republic of China PRC in 1949 to 1978 and beyond after reform and opening up However PRC's diplomatic practice has been continuous whether it was participation in the Korean War breaking up with the former Soviet Union after a honeymoon period China's self defense war over Sino Indian border participation in the Vietnam War breakthrough in the Sino US relation or PRC's self defense war over the Sino Vietnamese border These historical events brought the need for theoretical study in International Politics IP The development of China's IP research was slow and filled with complications but it signified a breakthrough from scratch This book has filled gap by depicting a complete scroll of China's IP research in over 60 years since 1949 This book has followed two principles one is according to the classification of the IP discipline and the other is to recommend adaptations according to China's actual conditions

Growing Green Infrastructure in Contemporary Asian Cities Ian Mell, 2024-08-27 Growing Green Infrastructure in Contemporary Asian Cities examines to what extent green infrastructure GI is being implemented in East and Southeast Asian cities. The book reflects upon the integration of contemporary approaches to landscape planning alongside traditional forms of green space design and cultural understandings of the landscape in China, Hong Kong, Japan, Singapore, and South Korea. Working from a multi-locational perspective, the book illustrates how political, socio-cultural, economic, and ecological factors influence the delivery of GI and the consequences of these decisions. The book provides a set of best practice recommendations for the design, development, and management of greener urban areas. It both explains how GI is being utilised in East and Southeast Asia to address climate change, promote economic prosperity, and support the development of more livable places, and identifies future trends in its use. It is a key resource for any practitioners, students, and academics working in landscape planning and green infrastructure in an Asian context.

Press Freedom in Contemporary Asia Tina Burrett, Jeffrey Kingston, 2019-11-05 This book analyzes the constraints on press freedom and the ways in which independent reporting and reporters are at risk in contemporary Asia to provide a barometer of democratic development in the region. Based on in-depth country case studies written by academics and journalists, and some who straddle both professions from across the region, this book explores the roles of mainstream and online media and how they are subject to abuse by the state and vested interests. Specific country chapters provide up-to-date information on Bangladesh, Kashmir, Malaysia, Myanmar, Nepal, Pakistan, Sri Lanka, Taiwan, Thailand, and Vietnam, as well as on growing populist and nationalist challenges to media freedom in the Philippines, India, Indonesia, and Japan. The book includes a theoretical chapter pulling together trends and common constraints facing newsrooms across Asia and a regional overview on the impact of social media. Three chapters on China provide insights into the country's tightening information environment under President Xi Jinping. Moreover, the legal environment of the media, political and external pressures, economic considerations, audience support, and journalists' standards and ethics are explored. As an international and interdisciplinary study, this book will appeal to undergraduates, graduates, and scholars engaged in human rights, media studies, democratization, authoritarianism, and Asian Studies, as well as Asia specialists, journalists, legal scholars, historians, and political scientists.

Asian Economic Systems Steven Rosefielde, 2013 Asian Economic Systems provides readers with a crisp analytic framework, concepts, and narrative.

highlighting contemporary Asia's systemic diversity. The framework facilitates insightful comparison with the western neoclassical ideal. This method allows students to easily appreciate the special virtues of various Asian economic systems and compare them with those offered in the west. This objective is buttressed with background material on Asian economic history where appropriate together with basic data on Asian and global economic performance to help students integrate concepts with experience. The approach provides an objective platform for discussing Asia's place and future in the new global order. It makes it clear that there is no universally best economic system. There are a variety of good systems and nations should choose the system that best suits their cultural heritage values and aspirations. The approach informs discussions about the wisdom of forming regional free trade zones economic communities like ASEAN and unions analogous to the European Union as well as forging a one world system of economic governance. Also Asian Economic Systems has a secondary goal. It provides the tools needed for training students in how to apply microeconomic macroeconomic and financial principles to practical issues of systems and policies. The book focuses on East and Southeast Asia. The term Asia is used as a shorthand for the cultural region dominated historically by Confucian kinship networks Japanese communalism and Theravada Buddhism and more recently by Marxist/Communist Leninist communism. It excludes the Middle East Central Asia the Himalayan states South Asia Malaysia Indonesia the Philippines Russia and America's Asia Pacific possessions. The book identifies and elaborates four rival market systems in contemporary Asia each with its own distinctive performance characteristics potentials and humanist properties: 1 communist China Vietnam Laos and Cambodia 2 Confucian Taiwan Singapore Hong Kong and South Korea 3 communal Japan and 4 Theravada Buddhist Thailand and Sri Lanka. Their comparative merit is partly obscured by differences in stages of economic development epochal and conjunctural factors but their special positive and negative attributes are unmistakable and are compared with North Korea's communist command system which is the region's fifth core alternative to democratic free enterprise.

Japan and Malaysian Economic Development K. S. Jomo, 2006-10-19 The Japanese presence in Southeast Asia is treated variously with either suspicion or encouragement. Japan and Malaysian Development critically assesses different dimensions of Japan Malaysia economic relations. The work presents a balanced collection of essays examining Japanese involvement in Malaysia. The volume also discusses the impact and consequences of Malaysian Prime Minister Mahathir's Look East policy which advocated greater emphasis on trading relations with Japan.

A Regional Contemporary C. J. W.-L. Wee, 2025-03-18 The first critical account of the enormous upsurge in cultural expression across Asian countries from 1979-2008 and the new possibilities it presented for the aesthetic and cultural re-imagining of a unified contemporary Asia. Biennial style art exhibitions New discourses in modern and contemporary art. The production and circulation of increasingly debordered popular culture. A Regional Contemporary by C. J. W. L. Wee is an investigative account of the dramatic increase in cultural expression in Asia from 1979 to 2008 with the 1990s as the focal point of this period. The so-called East Asian miracle Wee argues projected a fictive but shared contemporary regional identity onto Northeast and Southeast Asia collectively taken as East Asia The new cultural explosion was notably enabled by expanded capitalist energies that reached a level critical enough to reposition the region s postcolonial and Cold War era nationalisms and this book examines the resulting implications A sophisticated and compelling study A Regional Contemporary is the first to examine the conjunction of high and popular culture in the region Moreover Wee reveals how the various cultural formations of this regional contemporary were able to traverse if not overcome uneven national economies the memory of Japanese empire and the geopolitical rifts of post Cold War nationalisms While foregrounding new cultural expression Wee simultaneously examines how novel economic conditions bolstered a more confident questioning of Western modernity s dominance and enhanced the capacity for regional dialogue in the bid to overcome colonial era legacies even as those legacies were being absorbed into the region

East Asian Development Model Shiping Hua,Ruihua

Hu,2014-12-17 Given the impressive growth in East Asia after World War II initially led by Japan the region's development models have been scrutinized since the 1980s The shared Confucian cultural heritage strong government guidance and export led economies were often cited as contributors to the impressive growth However major changes have taken place in Asia on and around the turn of the century Japan experienced two decades of economic slow down while World Bank figures reveal that China is poised to become the largest economy in the world in 2014 overtaking the United States Bearing this in mind is it even possible to formulate an East Asian development model in the context of a shifting twenty first century And if so what is it This book addresses this issue by looking at the economic political and cultural perspectives of China Japan and South Korea focusing on dynamism and potential consensus regarding an East Asian development model The chapters offer a historical background to the East Asian development model as well as in depth case studies of each of the countries concerned to show that whilst the East Asian development model does have distinct characteristics as compared with other areas and other countries may draw some insights from the East Asian experience it is not a panacea that fits all circumstances and fits all times This book will be welcomed by students and scholars of Asian economics Asian politics international political economy and development studies      Globalization and Economic Nationalism in Asia Anthony P. D'Costa,2012-06-14 This volume documents the ways in which Asian governments have been pursuing economic nationalism It challenges the view that globalization renders the state redundant and demonstrates how they shape trade investment and financial outcomes Countries covered include India China South Korea Singapore Japan and the East Asian region
