Med tvenne i koppar graverade tabeller, ritade och tillika med texten utgifne af I. W. Palmstruch Conrad QUENSEL, 1804 BACCHIUS IUDAEUS James M. Scott, 2015-08-19 James M Scott examines a denarius minted in Rome in 55 bce which is visually fascinating but conceptually enigmatic On its obverse around the head of a female figure with turreted crown appears the name A Plautius who held the office of aedilis curulis in that year on its reverse is a camel in front of which a male figure kneels on his right leg holding the camel's reins in his left hand and extending a branch in his right hand the legend reads BACCHIVS IVDAEVS Scott's study argues that the oft suggested connection between Aristobulus' gift of the golden vine from the Temple and the Bacchius Iudaeus denarius does seem to merit further investigation To that end he examines first Pompey's own agenda in having the coin minted It is shown that the year the denarius appeared 55 bce was the same year in which Pompey dedicated his spectacular theater temple in Rome and furthermore that these very public displays are related as expressions of Pompey's Dionysian pretensions. Second, Scott examines each element of the denarius in question looking for clues as to the meaning of Bacchus Iudaeus. It is shown that the Latin inscription refers first and foremost to the god Bacchus Dionysus via an interpretatio Romana. Finally, he explores the possible implications of his investigation for the precise date of the fall of Jerusalem in 63 BCE. Scott's study delves deeply into Judaism at the beginning of the Roman era using the Roman coin to highlight the complex interface between Greco-Roman and Jewish religious and cultural institutions of the period. Endocrine, Physical and Behavioural Correlates of Musth in African Elephants (Loxodonta Africana), 2004
