market competition and economic performance A Century of State Murder? Michael Haynes, Romy Husan, 2003-08-20
Russia has one of the lowest rates of adult life expectancy in the world Average life expectancy for a man in America is 74 in Russia it is just 59 Birth rates and population levels have also plummeted These excess levels of mortality affect all countries that formed the former Soviet bloc Running into many millions they raise comparisons with the earlier period of forced transition under Stalin This book seeks to put the recent history of the transition into a longer term perspective by identifying explaining and comparing the pattern of change in Russia in the last century It offers a sharp challenge to the conventional wisdom and benign interpretations offered in the west of what has happened since 1991 Mike Haynes and Romy Husan have produced the first and most complete and accurate account of Russian demographic crisis from the Revolution to the present

When should new members from Central and Eastern Europe Join the Euro Area? Jozef Vasak, 2003-11-24 Thesis M A from the year 2003 in the subject Politics Topic European Union grade 2 B University of Hamburg European College Hamburg language English abstract After a decade of transition from communist regime with centrally planned economic system to democratic society with market economy and after several years of negotiations on the European Union membership ten candidate countries from Central and Eastern Europe signed the accession treaties at summit in Athen in April 2003 If they conduct public referenda successfully and the present members states complete the ratification they will become members states in May 2004 The membership in the European Union implies the prospect of eventual membership in the Economic and Monetary Union The consequent question is when exactly should they join According to the Maastricht Treaty in order to become members of monetary union new members have to fulfil the convergence criteria As academic and policy discussions show from the perspective of monetary policy and economic reasoning this question so far has no clear answer Politically the majority of new members already expressed the intention to fulfil the Maastricht criteria as soon as possible and to join between 2006 and 2008 The officials of the European Union and the European Central Bank prefer a later entry date or tend to be neutral on the issue Further popular opinion recommends waiting until the euro area consolidates its own monetary policy mechanism Among economists the timing of the eastern enlargement of monetary union is a controversial issue as well Some argue the nominal convergence set by the Maastricht Treaty to be far from sufficient to form a monetary union with less developed economies As long as the real convergence in terms of prosperity functioning institutions or reaction of economy to economic shocks is not achieved a common monetary policy stays undesirable Opposition to these arguments points out that the inclusion of peripheral members of the European Union with characteristic similar to new members so far had no negative effects for those countries or for the monetary union Others oppose the eager ambition of an early accession to the euro area because economies of candidate countries members need a different monetary policy while catching up the present members They stress some of the Maastricht criteria to be contradictory to the catching up process and advise to accept the higher inflation rates leading to real appreciation of exchange rates

Economic Developments in Contemporary Russia Ian Jeffries, 2011-03-07 This book provides a comprehensive overview of economic developments in Russia since the late 1990s Key subjects covered include economic transition privatization and liberalization changes in land ownership and agriculture energy foreign direct investment economic stabilization and economic performance

Overcoming Fragmentation in Southeast Europe Panayiotis Getimis, 2017-11-28 With the expansion of the European Union the countries of Southeast Europe have finally been brought together within one socio political entity The restructuring of these economies following globalization and neoliberalization has meant that this region has become much more open to geopolitical shifts and trends While the various countries have all entered into the slow process of European integration the historic fragmentation of this region has led to various conflicts and contradictions in the restructuring and transition of national economies This volume provides a theoretical and comparative overview which examines the prospects for spatial cohesion in this region With the need to handle persisting problems and conflicts from the past while coping with new economic and political structures Southeast Europe proves to be a challenging yet fruitful testing ground for how best to overcome fragmentation and establish a long term process of social and economic integration

The European Union and Democracy Promotion Richard Gillespie, Richard Youngs, 2002-09-12 The European Union and Democracy Promotion 2002 offers a critical assessment of the strategy upon which the EU promotion of democracy and human rights activity has been based along with an analysis of its strengths and weaknesses Contributors from a variety of European and North African countries show how the obstacles to political change in Algeria Morocco Tunisia and Egypt are not only to be found within these countries but also in EU member states such as France and Spain
