how form genre and subject work to determine the roles Mexican American fathers are allowed to occupy She also calls our attention to the cultural landscape that has allowed such a racialized representation of Mexican American fathers to continue unopposed for so many years Fatherhood in the Borderlands brings readers right to the intersection of the white cultural mainstream in the United States and Mexican American cultural productions carefully considering the legibility and illegibility of Brown fathers in contemporary media

Land of Smoke and Mirrors Vincent Brook, 2013-01-22 Unlike the more forthrightly mythic origins of other urban centers think Rome via Romulus and Remus or Mexico City via the god Huitzilopochtli Los Angeles emerged from a smoke and mirrors process that is simultaneously literal and figurative real and imagined material and metaphorical physical and textual Through penetrating analysis and personal engagement Vincent Brook uncovers the many portraits of this ever enticing ever ambivalent and increasingly multicultural megalopolis Divided into sections that probe Los Angeles's checkered history and reflect on Hollywood's own self-reflections the book shows how the city despite considerable remaining challenges is finally blowing away some of the smoke of its not always proud past and rhetorically adjusting its rear view mirrors Part I is a review of the city's history through the early 1900s focusing on the seminal 1884 novel Ramona and its immediate effect but also exploring its ongoing impact through interviews with present day Tongva Indians attendance at the 88th annual Ramona pageant and analysis of its feature film adaptations Brook deals with Hollywood as geographical site film production center and frame of mind in Part II He charts the events leading up to Hollywood's emergence as the world's movie capital and explores subsequent developments of the film industry from its golden age through the so-called New Hollywood citing such self-reflexive films as Sunset Blvd Singin' in the Rain and The Truman Show Part III considers LA noir a subset of film noir that emerged alongside the classical noir cycle in the 1940s and 1950s and continues today The city's status as a privileged noir site is analyzed in relation to its history and through discussions of such key LA noir novels and films as Double Indemnity Chinatown and Crash In Part IV Brook examines multicultural Los Angeles Using media texts as signposts he maps the history and contemporary situation of the city's major ethno-racial and other minority groups looking at such films as Mi Familia Latinos Boyz n the Hood African Americans Charlotte Sometimes Asians Falling Down Whites and The Kids Are All Right LGBT

What does it mean to be Chicana o That question might not be answered the same as it was a generation ago As the United States witnesses a major shift in its population from a white majority to a country where no single group predominates the new mix not only affects relations between ethnic groups but also influences how individuals view themselves This book addresses the development of individual and social identity within the context of these new demographic and cultural shifts It identifies the contemporary forces that shape group identity in order to show how Chicana os sense of personal identity and social identity develops and how these identities are affected by changes in social relations The authors both nationally recognized experts in social psychology are concerned with the subjective definitions individuals have about the social groups with which they identify as well as with linguistic cultural and social contexts Their analysis reveals what the majority of Chicanas os experience using examples from music movies and the arts to illustrate complex concepts In considering Qui n Soy Who Am I they discuss how individuals develop a positive sense of who they are as Chicanas os with an emphasis on the influence of family schools and community Regarding Qui nes Somos Who Are We they explore Chicanas os different group memberships that define who they are as a people particularly reviewing the colonization history of the American Southwest to show how Chicanas os group identity is influenced by this history A chapter on Language Culture and Community looks at how Chicanas os define their social identities inside and outside their communities whether in the classroom neighborhood or region In a final chapter the authors speculate how Chicana o identity will change as Chicanas os become a significant proportion of the U S population and as such factors as immigration intermarriage and improvements in social standing influence the process of identification At the end of each chapter is an engaging exercise that reinforces its main argument and shows how psychological approaches are applicable to real life Chicana o Identity in a Changing U S Society is an unprecedented introduction to psychological issues that students can relate to and understand It complements other titles in the Mexican American Experience series to provide a balanced view of issues that affect Mexican Americans today

The Other in Contemporary Migrant Cinema Guido Rings,2016-01-08 As a rapidly aging continent Europe increasingly depends on the successful integration of migrants Unfortunately contemporary political and media discourses observe and frequently also support the development of nationalist eurosceptic and xenophobic reactions to immigration and growing multiethnicity Confronting this trend European cinema has developed and disseminated new transcultural and postcolonial alternatives that might help to improve integration and community cohesion in Europe and this book investigates these alternatives in order to identify examples of good practices that can enhance European stability While the cinematic spectrum is as wide and open as most notions of Europeanness the films examined share a fundamental interest in the Other In this qualitative film analysis approach particular consideration is given to British French German and Spanish productions and a comparison of multiethnic conviviality in Chicano cinema
