Food Fights:

Food Fights Charles C. Ludington, Matthew Morse Booker, 2019-08-29 What we eat where it is from and how it is produced are vital questions in today's America. We think seriously about food because it is freighted with the hopes, fears, and anxieties of modern life. Yet critiques of food and food systems all too often sprawl into jeremiads against modernity itself while supporters of the status quo refuse to acknowledge the problems with today's methods of food production and distribution. Food Fights sheds new light on these crucial debates using a historical lens. Its essays take strong positions, even arguing with one another as they explore the many themes and tensions that define how we understand our food from the promises and failures of agricultural technology to the politics of taste. In addition to the editors, contributors include Ken Albala, Amy Bentley, Charlotte Biltekoff, Peter A. Coclanis, Tracey Deutsch, S. Margot Finn, Rachel Laudan, Sarah Ludington, Margaret Mellon, Steve Striffler, and Robert T. Valgenti.

Food Fights & Culture Wars Tom Nealon, 2017-03-14 In this eclectic book of food history, Tom Nealon takes on such overlooked themes as carp and the Crusades, brown sauce and Byron, and chillies and cannibalism, and suggests that hunger and taste are the twin forces that secretly defined the course of civilization. Through war and plague, revolution and migration, people have always had to eat. What and how they ate provoked culinary upheaval around the world as ingredients were traded and fought over and populations desperately walked the line between satiety and starvation. Parallel to the history books, a second, more obscure history was also being recorded in the cookbooks of the time, which charted the evolution of meals and the transmission of ingredients around the world.

Food Fights and Culture Wars: A Secret History of Taste explores the mysteries at the intersection of food and society and attempts to make sense of the curious area between fact and fiction. Beautifully illustrated with material from the collection of the British Library, this wide-ranging book addresses some of the fascinating forgotten stories behind everyday dishes and processes. Among many conspiracies and controversies, the author meditates on the connections between the French Revolution and table settings, food thickness and colonialism, and lemonade and the Black Plague.

Food Fight Stuart Gillespie, 2025-04-10 Essential

CHRIS VAN TULLEKEN, Punchy JULIAN BAGGINI, Gripping TIM SPECTOR Food is life, but our food system is killing us. Our global food system lies in the tight grip of a handful of powerful players who are prioritising profit at any cost, despite rising obesity, ill health, and a worsening climate crisis, aided by governments who are letting them get away with it. Stuart Gillespie, a veteran of four decades at the frontline of global food policy, reveals how we can transform it into a system that can nourish all of us, as well as the planet we live on. Both unflinching exposé and revolutionary call to arms, Food Fight maps a way towards a new system and reveals the solutions within our grasp.
