Food In Painting From The Renaissance To The Present:

Food in Painting Kenneth Bendiner, 2004 In this sumptuous exploration of food images in European and American painting from the early Renaissance to the present Kenneth Bendiner sees food painting as a separate classification of art with its own history The Aesthetics of Taste: Eating within the Realm of Art Dorota Koczanowicz, 2023-02-17 When does eating become art The Aesthetics of Taste answers this question by exploring the position of taste in contemporary culture and the manner in which taste meanders its way into the realm of art The argument identifies aesthetic values not only in artistic practices where they are naturally expected but also in the spaces of everydayness that seem far removed from the domain of fine arts As such it seeks to grasp what artists who offer aesthetic as well as culinary experiences actually try to communicate while also pondering whether a cook can be an artist Handbook of Historical Animal Studies Mieke Roscher, André Krebber, Brett Mizelle, 2021-06-08 The handbook provides a comprehensive evaluation of approaches topics and research areas of the rapidly developing field of Historical Animal Studies The so called animal turn specifically inspired new takes on writing history This upsurge in research has led to immense amounts of new empirical studies as well as approaches to historiography which this handbook aims to systemize The Museum of the Senses Constance Classen, 2017-11-02 Traditionally sight has been the only sense with a ticket to enter the museum The same is true of histories of art in which artworks are often presented as purely visual objects In The Museum of the Senses Constance Classen offers a new way of approaching the history of art through the senses revealing how people used to handle smell and even taste collection pieces Topics range from the tactile power of relics to the sensuous allure of cabinets of curiosities and from the feel of a Rembrandt to the scent of Monet's garden The book concludes with a discussion of how contemporary museums are stimulating the senses through interactive and multimedia displays Classen a leading authority on the cultural history of the senses has produced a fascinating study of sensual and emotional responses to artefacts from the middle ages to the present The Museum of the Senses is an important read for anyone interested in the history of art as well as for students and researchers in cultural studies and museum studies The SAGE Encyclopedia of Food Issues Ken Albala, 2015 The SAGE Encyclopedia of Food Issues explores the topic of food across multiple disciplines within the social sciences and related areas including business consumerism marketing and environmentalism In contrast to the existing reference works on the topic of food that tend to fall into the categories of cultural perspectives this carefully balanced academic encyclopedia focuses on social and policy aspects of food production safety regulation labeling marketing distribution and consumption A sampling of general topic areas covered includes Agriculture Labor Food Processing Marketing and Advertising Trade and Distribution Retail and Shopping Consumption Food Ideologies Food in Popular Media Food Safety Environment Health Government Policy and Hunger and Poverty This encyclopedia introduces students to the fascinating and at times contentious and ever so vital field involving food issues Food and Museums Nina Levent, Irina D.

Eating and Ethics in Shakespeare's England David B. Goldstein,2013-11-07 David B Goldstein argues for a new understanding of Renaissance England from the perspective of communal eating Rather than focus on traditional models of interiority choice and consumption Goldstein demonstrates that eating offered a central paradigm for the ethics of community formation The book examines how sharing food helps build demarcate and destroy relationships between eater and eaten between self and other and among different groups Tracing these eating relations from 1547 to 1680 through Shakespeare Milton religious writers and recipe book authors Goldstein shows that to think about eating was to engage in complex reflections about the body s role in society In the process he radically rethinks the communal importance of the Protestant Eucharist Combining historicist literary analysis with insights from social science and philosophy the book s arguments reverberate well beyond the Renaissance Ultimately Eating and Ethics in Shakespeare s England forces us to rethink our own relationship to food

The Still Life in the Fiction of A. S. Byatt Elizabeth Hicks,2010-08-11 This book explores the ways in which English writer A S Byatt s visual still lifes descriptions of real or imagined artworks and what are termed verbal still lifes scenes such as laid tables rooms and market stalls are informed by her veneration of both realism and writing It examines Byatt s adoption of the Barthesian concept of textual pleasure showing how her ekphrastic descriptions involve consumption and take time to unfold for the reader thereby highlighting the limitations of painting It also investigates the ways in which Byatt's still lifes demonstrate her debts to English modernist author Virginia Woolf French writer Marcel Proust and the Pre Raphaelite Brotherhood of nineteenth century Britain A number of Byatt's verbal still lifes are read as semiotic markers of her characters particularly with regard to economic status and class Further her descriptions uniting food and sexuality are perceived as part of her overall representation of pleasure Finally Byatt's employment of vanitas iconography in many of her portrayals of death is discussed showing how her recurring motif of Keats's Ode on a Grecian Urn teases out the still life's inherent tension between living passion and cold artwork

Genre Imagery in Early Modern Northern Europe Arthur J. DiFuria, 2017-07-05 Exploring the rich variety of pictorial rhetoric in early modern northern European genre images this volume deepens our understanding of genre's place in early modern visual culture From 1500 to 1700 artists in northern Europe pioneered the category of pictures now known as genre portrayals of people in ostensibly quotidian situations Critical approaches to genre images have moved past the antiquated notion that they portray uncomplicated slices of life describing them instead as heavily encoded pictorial essays laden with symbols that only the most erudite contemporary viewers and modern iconographers could fully comprehend These essays challenge that limiting binary revealing a more expansive array of accessible meanings in genre's deft grafting of everyday scenarios with a rich complex of experiential cultural political and religious references Authors deploy a variety of approaches to detail genre's multivalent relations to older more established pictorial and literary categories the interplay between the meaning of the everyday and its translation into images and the multifaceted concerns genre addressed for its rapidly expanding unprecedentedly diverse audience
