Re-Imagining Resilient Productive Landscapes Carla Brisotto,Fabiano Lemes de Oliveira,2022-03-09 This book explores how lessons from past

urban planning experiences can inform current debates on urban agriculture Productive landscapes today have been posited as instruments for the positive transformation related to territorial fragility and abandonment promoting social cohesion food security and wider environmental and economic benefits The book will re map the way in which seeming landscape limitations and challenges can be turned into potential innovation and a new lease of urban rural life It does so by drawing on significant past urban agricultural experiences in planning as vectors for new critical reflections relevant to re igniting ideas for future envisioning of urban scenarios in which productive landscapes play fundamental transformative roles The focus is on planning ideas and the roles of key individual planners all of which have designed agricultural strategies for the city at some point in their careers It intends to help us today reimagine urban rural relationships and the transformation of under or mis used urban open spaces peri urban areas fringe conditions and in between spaces

100 Million Years of Food Stephen Le, 2016-02-02 There are few areas of modern life that offer as much information and advice often contradictory as diet and health eat a lot of meat don t eat meat whole grains are healthy whole grains are a disaster and on it goes Biological anthropologist Stephen Le cuts through the confusing mass of information to present the long view of our diet In 100 Million Years of Food Le takes readers on an historic and geographic tour of how different cuisines have evolved in tandem with their particular environments as our ancestors took advantage of the resources and food available to them Like his mentor Jared Diamond Le uses history and science to present a fascinating and wide ranging tour of human history as viewed through what and how we eat Travelling the world to places as far flung as Vietnam Kenya Nova Scotia and Iowa Le visits people producing food using traditional methods as well as modern techniques and looks at how our relationship to food has strayed from centuries of tradition to mass produced assembly lines dependent on chemicals that bring with them a host of problems 100 Million Years of Food argues that our ancestral diets and lifestyles are the best first line of defence in protecting our health the optimal diet is to eat what your ancestors ate In this clear cut and compelling book we learn not only what to eat but how our diets are the product of millions of years of evolution

Enzymes of Psychrotrophs in Raw Food Robin C. McKellar, 1989-03-31 This book draws together theoretical and applied aspects of extracellular hydrolytic enzymes in spoilage and thus provides information and analysis of interest to microbiologists and biochemists as well as up to date methods and recommendations of value to food scientists and processors The first section deals with psychrotroph proteinases lipases and phospholipases in milk and dairy products and covers such aspects as producer microorganisms biochemical classification of enzymes physical and biochemical properties thermal stability regulation and control of synthesis and assay methods Particular emphasis is placed on commercially important areas such as physical and biochemical effects in food components and influence on shelf life and product quality The problems of standardization and control of enzymes in dairy products as well as areas for future research are critically examined The poorly understood role of psychrotroph extracellular enzymes in meat fish and poultry is also discussed in a separate section under such headings as physical and biochemical effects on tissue and contribution to growth and penetration of the producer organism

Social-Psychological Perspective on Food-Related Behavior Marta L. Axelson, David Brinberg, 2012-12-06 Many of the diseases which afflict people in an affluent society like the United States seem to be related to food consumption e g adult onset diabetes mellitus hyperlipidemia and colon cancer In recent years the health related professions have become aware that their exclusive aim of disease treatment must be expanded to include health promotion Professionals in food and nutrition health education social marketing and psychology as well as others have become interested in finding ways to promote healthy behaviors such as appropriate food consumption patterns To modify food related behavior knowledge about why people eat what they eat is required Both biological and sociocultural factors determine people s consumption behavior This monograph however examines only the sociocultural determinants of individuals food related behaviors within their zone of biological indifference The sociocultural variables are divided into two major categories sociodemographic and psychological Sociodemographic variables are often called external variables and include income ethnicity age and the like Psychosocial variables are thought to reflect the individual s internal state and commonly examined variables include knowledge beliefs and attitudes Getting Something to Eat in Jackson Joseph C. Ewoodzie Jr., Joseph C Ewoodzie, 2023-10-31 James Beard Foundation Book Award Nominee Winner of the Ida B Wells Barnett Book Award Association of Black Sociologists Winner of the C Wright Mills Award the Society for the Study of Social Problems A vivid portrait of African American life in today s urban South that uses food to explore the complex interactions of race and class

Getting Something to Eat in Jackson uses food what people eat and how to explore the interaction of race and class in the lives of African Americans in the contemporary urban South Joseph Ewoodzie Jr examines how foodways food availability choice and consumption vary greatly between classes of African Americans in Jackson Mississippi and how this reflects and shapes their very different experiences of a shared racial identity Ewoodzie spent more than a year following a group of socioeconomically diverse African Americans from upper middle class patrons of the city s fine dining restaurants to men experiencing homelessness who must organize their days around the schedules of soup kitchens Ewoodzie goes food shopping cooks and eats with a young mother living in poverty and a grandmother working two jobs He works in a Black owned BBQ restaurant and he meets a man who decides to become a vegan for health reasons but who must drive across town to get tofu and quinoa Ewoodzie also learns about how soul food is changing and why it is no longer a staple survival food Throughout he shows how food choices influence and are influenced by the racial and class identities of Black Jacksonians By tracing these contemporary African American foodways Getting Something to Eat in Jackson offers new insights into the lives of Black Southerners and helps challenge the persistent homogenization of blackness in American life
