Footprints of Kate Edger Winifred Macdonald, Molly J. Mabee, 1982 Portraying Lives Tanya Fitzgerald, Josephine May, 2016-04-01 The expansion of women's higher education in the late 19th and early 20th centuries in Australia and New Zealand offered educated women opportunities to broaden their aspirations horizons and experiences across many professional fields Engaged in the public activity of teaching in a range of educational institutions women were able to exercise a level of professional expertise authority and independence Paradoxically women were both empowered by the possibilities of educational careers yet at the same time restricted by the historical era in which they lived and the feminized positions they occupied In this book we draw on Sarah Lawrence Lightfoot and Jessica Hoffmann Davis methodological adoption of the use of portraits and portraiture to frame our history of women educators and highlight their unsettled acceptance of contemporary constraints and pressures exerted on educated women This book will be essential reading for those involved or interested in the historiography of women's education women teachers and headmistresses women's higher education educational biography and visual methodologies This book will also be of particular relevance to those engaged in the study of history sociology women and gender studies teacher education educational research and history of education

Historical Portraits of Women Home Scientists , Women in Higher Education, 1850-1970 E. Lisa Panayotidis, Paul Stortz, 2017-09-19 This edited collection illustrates the way in which women's experiences of academe could be both contextually diverse but historically and culturally similar It looks at both the micro individual women and universities and macro level comparative analyses among regions and countries within regional national trans national and international contexts The contributors integrally advance knowledge about the university in history by exploring the intersections of the lived experiences of women students and professors practices of co education and intellectual and academic cultures They also raise important questions about the complementary and multidirectional flow and exchange of academic knowledge and information among gender groups across programmes disciplines and universities Historical inquiry and interpretation serve as efficacious ways with which to understand contemporary events and discourses in higher education and more broadly in community and society This book will provide important historical contexts for current debates about the numerical dominance and significance of women in higher education and the tensions embedded in the gendering of specific academic programs and disciplines and university policies missions and mandates Outsiders Or Equals? Tanya Fitzgerald, 2009 Shortlisted for the Anne Bloomfield Prize 2010 Across the ninety years of its history the University of New Zealand 1871 1961 appointed four women professors to the academic staff From the outset while the woman professor was an insider to the Academy based on her qualifications and professional credentials on the basis of her gender she was a relative outsider to this deeply patriarchal institution Accordingly academic women and in particular this first generation of women professors were officially invisible both to their male colleagues and to the institution This is not to suggest that the presence of a woman professor was unproblematic or that she sat easily on the margins of men's scholarly worlds This book traces the personal and professional histories of each woman professor and examines their contribution to the expansion of higher education for women On the basis of extensive archival research in New Zealand England and the United States the author uses Bourdieu's notions of habitus field and capital to analyse this intellectual community of women and the professionalisation of academic work The book rehabilitates the woman professor from the margins of historical scholarship and offers an insight into a forgotten aspect of the history of women's higher education the history of women and the professoriate

Women Educators, Leaders and Activists Tanya Fitzgerald, Elizabeth M. Smyth, 2014-07-23 This collection traces women educators' professional lives and the extent to which they challenged the gendered terrain they occupied The emphasis is placed on women's historical public voices and their own interpretation of their selves and lives in their struggle to exercise authority in education

The National Council of Women Dorothy Page, 1996 They came together at the time of the suffrage campaign in the 1890s to plan how to use the vote but the National Council of Women has since worked for equal access to education for prison reform for protection of women from alcohol related violence for equal pay for peace and for the effective control of sexually transmitted diseases
