Magoon, 2025-01-14 Ojibway Drums by Marian W Magoon is a captivating novel that brings to life the rich traditions culture and resilience of the Ojibway people With poetic prose and heartfelt storytelling Magoon weaves a tale of identity connection and the enduring power of heritage in the face of change Set in the lush forests and shimmering lakes of the Great Lakes region the story follows a young Ojibway protagonist as they navigate the challenges of growing up in a world where modern influences and traditional ways of life collide At the heart of the narrative is the ceremonial drum a symbol of unity spiritual connection and the heartbeat of the Ojibway community Through its rhythm the protagonist discovers a deeper understanding of their culture family and the values that define their people Magoon s storytelling is infused with vivid descriptions of Ojibway customs legends and ceremonies offering readers an authentic glimpse into the community s way of life As the protagonist faces personal struggles and larger societal pressures they embark on a journey of self discovery and reconciliation guided by the wisdom of elders and the powerful symbolism of the drum Ojibway Drums is a celebration of cultural preservation and the strength found in embracing one s roots Magoon s narrative highlights themes of resilience respect for nature and the importance of storytelling in passing down traditions from one generation to the next Perfect for readers of all ages Ojibway Drums is an evocative and moving tale that will resonate with anyone who values the intersection of heritage identity and the timeless stories that connect us all It s a tribute to the enduring spirit of the Ojibway people and a reminder of the power of community and tradition Collected Poems of John Wheelwright John Wheelwright, 1983 Movement That Fits: Dalcroze Eurhythmics and the Suzuki® Method Joy Yelin, Comprised of singing and body movement activities which incorporate the principles of music educator Jaques Dalcroze and using the repertoire of the Suzuki Method Movement That Fits was written by Dalcroze educator Joy Yelin who is also knowledgeable about the Suzuki Method There is an introduction by the editor Ken Guilmartin director of the Center for Music and Young Children and himself a certified Dalcroze instructor Movement That Fits consists of sequentially structured singing and movement activities presented in easy to read outline form Lifelike drawings and other visual aids accompany each activity along with information about the Dalcroze approach to rhythm movement and music reading Suzuki Method favorites such as Twinkle and Go Tell Aunt Rhody serve as the basis for the various activities Olga's Room Dea Loher,2013-01-09 The only way not to be a heroine a martyr a victim is to make myself an accomplice a collaborator Communist Jew Revolutionary Lover Mother Olga Benario s story is a searing tale of survival as alongside her fellow prisoners she struggles to hold onto her disintegrating sense of self Based on real events of the 1930s 40s focusing on Benario s time in Brazil and Germany this gripping play was the first work by one of Europe s foremost contemporary dramatists Dea Loher and was originally performed in 1992 After their highly successful run in Luxembourg City Speaking in Tongues bring the English language world premiere to London The Folk-tales of the Kiwai Papuans Gunnar Landtman,1917 Matters of Taste among common things; with a theory of Taste applicable to them ,1862

Harnessed Mark Changizi,2011-08-02 The scientific consensus is that our ability to understand human speech has evolved over hundreds of thousands of years After all there are whole portions of the brain devoted to human speech We learn to understand speech before we can even walk and can seamlessly absorb enormous amounts of information simply by hearing it Surely we evolved this capability over thousands of generations Or did we Portions of the human brain are also devoted to reading Children learn to read at a very young age and can seamlessly absorb information even more quickly through reading than through hearing We know that we didn t evolve to read because reading is only a few thousand years old In Harnessed cognitive scientist Mark Changizi demonstrates that human speech has been very specifically designed to harness the sounds of nature sounds we ve evolved over millions of years to readily understand Long before humans evolved mammals have learned to interpret the sounds of nature to understand both threats and opportunities Our speech regardless of language is very clearly based on the sounds of nature Even more fascinating Changizi shows that music itself is based on natural sounds Music seemingly one of the most human of inventions is literally built on sounds and patterns of sound that have existed since the beginning of time From Library Journal Many scientists believe that the human brain s capacity for language is innate that the brain is actually hard wired for this higher level functionality But theoretical neurobiologist Changizi director of human cognition 2AI Labs The Vision Revolution brilliantly challenges this view claiming that language and music are neither innate nor instinctual to the brain but evolved culturally to take advantage of what the most ancient aspect of our brain does best process the sounds of nature it will certainly intrigue evolutionary biologists linguists and cultural anthropologists and is strongly recommended for libraries that have Changizi s previous book From Forbes In his latest book Harnessed neuroscientist Mark Changizi manages to accomplish the extraordinary he says something compellingly new about evolution Instead of tackling evolution from the usual position and become mired in the usual arguments he focuses on one aspect of the larger story so central to who we are it may very well overshadow all others except the origin of life itself communication Sing to Me, Dreamer Shonagh Koea,2011-11-01 A quirky much loved novel about a return home a past love affair and an elephant It is many years since I turned the pages of the little book I wrote for the holy man and the ivory covers creak as I open on the story of how I went to India As my voice ascends thin as the song of a lark I see again the black eyes of the holy man irises flecked with gold as he hands me the pen and paper Oh sing to me dreamer he said and I began to write Back home as she sorts out her deceased Mother's estate Margaret Harris reflects on her time in India as mistress to a Maharajah But there are many things that she has to confront in the present her bullying lawyer the aggressive neighbour and the spectre of her failed relationship with her mother

Resonances of Chindon-ya Marié Abe, 2018-02-06 In this first book length study of chindon ya Mari Abe investigates the intersection of sound public space and sociality in contemporary Japan Chindon ya dating back to the 1840s are ostentatiously costumed street musicians who publicize a business by parading through neighborhood streets Historically not considered music but part of the everyday soundscape this vernacular performing art provides a window into shifting notions of musical labor the politics of everyday listening and sounding and street music at social protest in Japan Against the background of long term economic downturn growing social precarity and the visually and sonically saturated urban streets of Japan this book examines how this seemingly outdated means of advertisement has recently gained traction as an aesthetic economic and political practice after decades of inactivity Resonances of Chindon ya challenges Western conceptions of listening that have normalized the way we think about the relationship between sound space and listening subjects and advances a growing body of interdisciplinary scholarship that examines the ways social fragmentation is experienced and negotiated in post industrial societies Hardcover is un jacketed

Pattering Feet Arthur Stanley Bourinot, 1925 Acta Societatis scientiarum fennicae, 1917 Composing the Music of Africa Malcolm Floyd, 2018-12-17 First published in 1999 this volume explores the great diversity of music created by African communities is reflected in this book which discusses the ways in which a wide range of musical forms are composed and performed from Egypt to South Africa and from Ghana to Kenya As two composers explain here this diversity provides much inspiration for western contemporary composition Particular attention is paid to the contexts generate musical creativity Ceremonies and festivals celebrating birth death marriage or rites of passage provide the impetus for much composition and performance enabling young people to pick up early on some of the techniques and styles of which they then become the new exponents The book also looks at the role played by formal music education programmes and bodies such as the South African Music Rights Organization and the South African Broadcasting Corporation in fostering musical activity as well as the contribution of composers to the social and political changes that have dominated South African life in recent years Walking on the Wind Michael Tlanusta Garrett,1998-05-01 In the spirit of the highly acclaimed Medicine of the Cherokee coauthored with his father J T Garrett Michael Garrett shares with us the delightful all ages stories passed down from his great grandfather and other medicine teachers Blending his background as an Eastern Cherokee with his skills as a counselor Michael reveals through these tales how to make sense of our experiences in life see beauty in them and be at peace with our choices Michael s blend of traditional Cherokee ways with that of science and psychology illustrates that both Native and non Native peoples can learn to thrive together for the betterment of all Native Peoples magazine Patricia Johanson's House & Garden Commission Xin Wu,2007 Patricia Johanson was one of the earliest minimalist painters and a friend of Tony Smith Robert Smithson Robert Morris all artists trying to supersede the Modernist agenda for the arts set by Clement Greenberg In 1969 the course of her career was dramatically deflected by an unexpected garden commission from the House Garden magazine It resulted in 150 garden proposals 146 of which survived and are presented here and seven companion essays Neither these proposals nor the essays have ever been published or exhibited as an entity before this book The House Garden Commission redefined the course of Johanson s art She immediately gave up painting and started to create art in landscapes through a highly personal way This commission reveals an unknown development of the late 60s New York Art world putting forth a renewal of garden art in defiance of well known cultural trends of the time formalism and modernism earthworks and environmentalism A comparison between Johanson and Scottish poet gardner Ian Hamilton Finlay demonstrates two parallel attempts to reinstate an ethical dimension in the arts and their profound differences since Finlay builds an intimate garden upon a return to the classical Mediterranean world while Johanson translateds non Western natural ethics and aesthetics into answers to issues of contemporary urban society Thus the House Garden Commission proposes beyond a renewal of garden design a new role for the visual arts in pursuit of the unfinished project of modernity The Harvard Lampoon ,1879

Chambers's Journal ,1927 History of Carroll and Harrison Counties, Ohio H. J. Eckley,1921
