Franklin Freeman, left, and Ricardo Sanders are escorted to their arraignment in Los Angeles in the shotgun deaths of three people at a Bob's Big Boy restaurant

Big Boy suspects plead innocent

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A teenage girl, her boyfriend and another young man pleaded innocent Wednesday to 20 counts of murder, robbery and assault with a deadly weapon in connection with an execution-style triple murder at a Bob's Big Boy restaurant two weeks ago.

Carletha Stewart, 19, Rickie Sanders, 25, and Franklin Freeman, 22, also each denied special allegations which could mean the death penalty if they are convicted.

"We have 20 counts and they're practically identical for each of the defendants," Deputy District Attorney Harvey Giss said before the arraignment.

Los Angeles Municipal Court Judge Giles Jackson set a Jan. 8 preliminary hearing for the defendants but the public defender representing Freeman indicated that date will be changed.

Because they're accused of a capital crime, no bail was set.

The young woman who used to work at the restaurant, her boyfriend Sanders, and Freeman are each charged with three counts of murder, one count of conspiracy to commit robbery, eight counts of robbery and eight counts of assault with a deadly weapon with great bodily injury and use of a shotgun.

The special circumstances which qualify the case for a possible death penalty under California law are the charges of multiple murder committed during the course of a robbery.
