Secondary Schools and Cooperative Learning Jon E. Pedersen, Annette D. Digby, 2014-03-18 Original essays by noted scholars explore cooperative learning curriculum development and teaching strategies Focusing on grades 9 through 12 the volume first emphasizes theories underlying the use of selected cooperative learning strategies in secondary schools and then examines strategies and practical applications for classrooms Contributors include David Johnson Roger Johnson Ruven Lazarowitz Yael Sharan Shlomo Sharan Robert Slavin Karl Smith and others who have successfully implemented cooperative learning strategies in science math social studies English language arts and gifted and talented These contributors focus on how models are utilized and implemented Discussions involve obstacles that impede success problems and concerns solutions and suggestions for problem solving An index is provided Meeting the Needs of Youth at Risk ,1996 Health Promotion and Quality of Life in Canada Dennis Raphael, 2010-02-01 Health and quality of life are vital social reflections The way a society distributes resources amongst its population tells us a great deal about the society itself This unique volume unites readings that explore the integral link between quality of life and public policy choices The first section discusses individual perspectives on health promotion and quality of life and provides a conceptual basis for determining an individual's or community's standard. The next section addresses community and policy perspectives to show how quality of life is related both to the health of the population as a whole and to collective choices that determine how material resources are distributed in society. Part three places quality of life and population health within a political economy framework and uses the social determinants of health concept to illustrate how societies differ in their willingness to support their members' quality of life and health. Part four examines vulnerable populations and their issues: the Indigenous community, persons with disabilities, women, and the gender gap, and the effects of race and immigrant status on employment opportunities. The final section suggests ways in which health promotion, quality of life, and the social determinants of health agendas can come together. It provides an up-to-date analysis of the barriers facing those attempting to improve quality of life and health, as well as the means to accomplish those goals. Prevention Report, 1992 Annual Editions Fred Schultz, 1995.
