chemists     The Soils of Aotearoa New Zealand Allan E. Hewitt, Megan R. Balks, David J. Lowe, 2021-02-19 This book offers an introduction to the soils of Aotearoa New Zealand structured according to the New Zealand soil classification system. Starting with an overview of the importance and distribution of New Zealand soils, it subsequently provides essential information on each of the 15 New Zealand soil orders in separate chapters. Each chapter, illustrated with diagrams and photographs in colour, includes a summary of the main features of the soils in the order, their genesis and relationships with landscapes, their key properties including examples of physical and chemical characteristics and their classification, use and management. The book then features a chapter on soils in the Ross Sea region of Antarctica and concludes by considering New Zealand soils in a global context, soil formation pathways and methods used in New Zealand to evaluate soils and assist in land management decisions. Information about how to access detailed information via links to the Manaaki Whenua Landcare Research website is also included.

The Best American Science and Nature Writing 2015 Rebecca Skloot, 2020-12-15 This anthology of essays and articles explores topics ranging from untouched wilderness to scientific ethics and the nature of curiosity itself. Scientists and writers are both driven by a dogged curiosity, immersing themselves in detailed observations that over time uncover larger stories. As Rebecca Skloot says in her introduction, all the stories in this collection are written by and about people who take the time and often a substantial amount of risk to follow curiosity where it may lead, so we can all learn about it. The Best American Science and Nature Writing 2015 includes work from both award-winning writers and up-and-coming voices in the field. From Brooke Jarvis on deep ocean mining to Elizabeth Kolbert on New Zealand's unconventional conservation strategies, this is a group that celebrates the growing diversity in science and nature writing alike. Altogether, the writers honored in this volume challenge us to consider the strains facing our planet and its many species while never losing sight of the wonders we're working to preserve for generations to come. This anthology includes essays and articles by
