Complex Differential Geometry and Supermanifolds in Strings and Fields Petrus J.M. Bongaarts, R. Martini, 1988-10-12 This volume deals with one of the most active fields of research in mathematical physics the use of geometric and topological methods in field theory The emphasis in these proceedings is on complex differential geometry in particular on Kähler manifolds supermanifolds and graded manifolds From the point of view of physics the main topics were field theory string theory and problems from elementary particle theory involving supersymmetry The lectures show a remarkable unity of approach and are considerably related to each other They should be of great value to researchers and graduate students

Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1988-09 Localizability and Space in Quantum Physics Henri Bacry, 1988 This book discusses in detail the concept of light quanta photons and presents a historical survey of the ideas involved It analyses critically the principles of complementarity and correspondence as well as the quantization procedure The work of Wigner Newton and Wightman on localized states is discussed The author presents many new ideas and gives a new way of defining the position operator He invites physicists to look in new directions and aims to convince the reader that light quanta are not compatible with our present concept of space in quantum physics The book should be of interest to students as well as to researchers in modern physics and should revive the discussion of the foundations of modern physics

Atmospheric Aerosols and Nucleation Paul E. Wagner, Gabor Vali, 1988 These proceedings give a rather complete overview of the most recent research in the areas of fundamental processes and phase transitions cloud droplet and ice nucleation in the atmosphere and aerosol formation and aerosol characteristics in the atmosphere Nine review papers on topics of special importance are supplemented by about 200 summaries on topics of greatest current importance The volume should be of interest to scientists working in the atmospheric and environmental sciences in chemistry and in physics as well as to engineers working in these areas
