Fears In Post Communist Society:

Dossierreveillance, Collaboration, and Fear in Society Cristina Plamadeala, 2025-06-25 Exploring the cultural history of surveillance practices of the Securitate Romania's secret police during its communist period the book blends biographical details in a historical inquiry to establish the concepts of psuchegraphy dossierreveillance and banalization of evil in the study of Securitate Archives In the context of communist Romania under the reign of Nicolae Ceau escu 1965-89 dossierreveillance was a type of surveillance that stresses the miasmic effect of Securitate dossiers in the daily life of Romanians Centered around the analysis of this concept the book presents a unique account of the surveillance practices of totalitarian and authoritarian regimes expanding its relevance to fear in the current neo liberal societies This book will appeal to students of Eastern European history and politics criminology sociology anthropology and surveillance studies Freedom, Repression, and Private Property in Russia Vladimir Shlapentokh, Anna Arutunyan, 2013-09-02 This study demonstrates how the emergence of private property and a market economy after the Soviet Union's collapse enabled a degree of freedom while simultaneously supporting authoritarianism Based on case studies Vladimir Shlapentokh and Anna Arutunyan analyze how private property and free markets spawn feudal elements in society These elements are so strong in post Communist Russia that they prevent the formation of a true democratic society while making it impossible to return to totalitarianism The authors describe the resulting Russian society as having three types of social organization authoritarian feudal and liberal The authors examine the adaptation of Soviet era institutions like security forces the police and the army to free market conditions and how they generated corruption the belief that the KGB was relatively free from corruption how large property holdings merge with power and necessitate repression and how property relations affect government management and suppression From Culture of Fear to Society of Trust Janez Juhant, Bojan Žalec, 2013 Fear is an emotion that is strongly connected with violence and with the darkest periods of history including terrorism genocides and totalitarianism It is especially important for theology where it can be considered to have very positive aspects However worldwide cultures are too often burdened with unnecessary fear There are different factors involved in the cultivation of an adequate culture of fear and one of them is the certainty that mankind does indeed know how to cultivate it Therefore awareness and knowledge about the concept of fear is necessary This book helps to increase and widen that understanding Series Theology East West Theologie Ost West Vol 17 Contemporary Russia as a Feudal Society V. Shlapentokh, Joshau Woods, 2007-11-26 The book offers a theoretical discussion of the feudal model and a preliminary application of the model to post Soviet Russia In addition to a review of the feudal model as an ideal type the author explains the analytical benefits of drawing comparisons between countries and across historical contexts Specifically contemporary Russia is compared to Western European countries during the Middle Ages and to the Soviet period in Russian history The book is devoted to illuminating the most important political social and economic characteristics of contemporary Russian society From 'Civil Society' to 'Europe' Grazyna

Skapska,2011-05-23 In East Central Europe constitutionalism comprises an effort by postcommunist societies to consolidate around certain values principles and rules that would facilitate the formation of a new political architecture as well as a new political identity for their countries Based primarily on the experience of Poland in comparison with other East Central European countries this book debates the specific features of postcommunist constitutionalism The result is a theory of reflexive constitutionalism informed by the sociological theory of reflexive modernization which assesses critically the intellectual resources as well as the consolidating potential of the classic foundations of liberal democracy within the reality of postcommunist transformation Popper's Open Society After Fifty Years Ian Jarvie,Sandra Pralong,2005-08-12

Popper s Open Society After Fifty Years presents a coherent survey of the reception and influence of Karl Popper s masterpiece The Open Society and its Enemies over the fifty years since its publication in 1945 as well as applying some of its principles to the context of modern Eastern Europe This unique volume contains papers by many of Popper s contemporaries and friends including such luminaries as Ernst Gombrich in his paper The Open Society and its Enemies Remembering its Publication Fifty Years Ago The Politics of the Postcommunist World Stephen White,Daniel

Council for Eurasian and East European Research (U.S.),1998 Army and State in Postcommunist Europe David Betz,John Lowenhardt,2014-04-08 This study explores the complex military issues that are raised by the transition to post communist rule with particular reference to Russia Ukraine Bulgaria and the new members of NATO All faced similar problems yet their responses it emerges were surprisingly diverse The SAGE Handbook of Social Geographies Susan J Smith,Rachel Pain,Sallie A Marston,John Paul Jones III,2009-10-21 With clarity and confidence this vibrant volume summons up the social in geography in ways that will excite students and scholars alike Here the social is populated not only by society but by culture nature economy and politics Kay Anderson University of Western Sydney This is a remarkable collection full of intellectual gems It not only summarises the field of social geography and restates its importance but also produces a

manifesto for how the field should look in the future Nigel Thrift Vice Chancellor University of Warwick The book aims to be accessible to students and specialists alike Its success lies in emphasizing the crossovers between geography and social studies The good editorial work is evident and the participating contributors are well established scholars in their respective fields Miron M Denan Geography Research Forum An excellent handbook that will attract a diversity of readers It will inspire undergraduate postgraduate students and stimulate lecturers researchers interested in the complexity and diversity of the social realm As the first of its kind in the sub discipline it is a book that is enjoyable to read and will definitely add value to a personal or library collection Michele Lobo New Zealand Geographer The social relations of difference from race and class to gender and inequality are at the heart of the concept of social geography This handbook reconsiders and redirects research in the discipline while examining the changing ideas of individuals and their relationship with structures of power Organised into five sections the SAGE Handbook of Social Geographies maps out the connections anchored in social geography Difference and Diversity builds on enduring ideas of the structuring of social relations and examines the ruptures and rifts and continuities and connections around social divisions Geographies and Social Economies rethinks the sociality subjectivity and placement of money markets price and value Geographies of Wellbeing builds from a foundation of work on the spaces of fear anxiety and disease towards newer concerns with geographies of health resilience and contentment Geographies of Social Justice connects ideas through an examination of the possibilities and practicalities of normative theory and frames the central notion of Social geography that things always could and should be different Doing Social Geography is not exploring the how to of research but rather the entanglement of it with practicalities moralities and politics This will be an essential resource for academics researchers practitioners and postgraduates across human geography

The Global Spread of Fertility Decline Jay Winter, Michael Teitelbaum, 2013-06-18 DIV The world's population has grown by five billion people over the past century an astounding 300 percent increase Yet it is actually the decline in family size and population growth that is the issue attracting greatest concern in many countries This eye opening book looks at demographic trends in Europe North America and Asia areas that now have low fertility rates and argues that there is an essential yet often neglected political dimension to a full assessment of these trends Political decisions that promote or discourage marriage and childbearing facilitate or discourage contraception and abortion and stimulate or restrain immigration all have played significant roles in recent trends div

The Weakness of Civil Society in Post-Communist Europe Marc Morjé Howard, 2003-03-27 Over a decade has passed since the collapse of communism yet post communist citizens are still far less likely to join voluntary organizations than people from other countries Why do post communist citizens mistrust public organizations What explains this pattern of weak civil society And what does this mean for democracy in the region This engaging study addresses these questions with a provocative argument about the enduring impact of the communist experience on its countries and citizens Howard argues that the experience of mandatory participation in state controlled organizations and vibrant private networks during the communist period combined with the disappointment with post communist developments have left most citizens with a lasting aversion to public activities Howard analyzes the findings from over 30 democratic countries on the World Values Survey and also presents extensive and original evidence from his own research focused on Eastern Germany and Russia

Fear and Anxiety in the 21st Century: The European Context and Beyond, 2019-07-22 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2015 This inter disciplinary volume is centred upon the complex and ever changing issues entailed by fears and anxieties in contemporary Europe and thence the whole world Indeed the fate of Europe mirrors the fate of the world itself events are no longer localized but as soon as they have occurred they have become part and parcel of our experience as a genuinely cosmopolitan species Some of these fears and anxieties are nurtured by real events whilst others are rooted in imaginary phenomena The experts who have contributed to this exciting work come from different fields of study from history to economics and from anthropology to linguistics yet what they have in common is a genuine commitment to the integrity of inter disciplinary research which teaches mutual respect and scientific curiosity

Internationalization of the Social Sciences Michael Kuhn, Doris Weidemann, 2015-07-15 Internationalization of the social sciences rests on the setup of international scientific infrastructures networks and research agendas Yet it has also stimulated discussions on academic dependency and the need for the indigenization of theories and methods This book traces phenomena that accompany the internationalization of social sciences in different parts of the world Contributions from East Asia India Russia Turkey Lebanon Jordan South Africa and Latin America offer manifold perspectives on the pathways and desiderata of internationalization and make this volume an important basis for future debates

The Struggle for Freedom from Fear Alison Brysk, 2018-08-08 How can we understand and contest the global wave of violence against women In this book Alison Brysk shows that gender violence across countries tends to change as countries develop and liberalize but not in the ways that we might predict She shows how liberalizing authoritarian countries and transitional democracies may experience more shifting patterns and greater levels of violence than less developed and democratic countries due to changes and uncertainties in economic and political structures Accordingly Brysk analyzes the experience of semi liberal developing countries at the frontiers of globalization Brazil India South Africa Mexico the Philippines and Turkey to map out patterns of gender violence and what can be done to change those patterns As the book shows gender violence is not static nor can it be attributed to culture or individual pathology rather it varies across a continuum that tracks economic political and social change While a combination of international action law public policy civil society mobilization and changes in social values work to decrease gender violence Brysk assesses the potential limits and balance of these measures Brysk shows that a human rights approach is necessary but not sufficient to address gender violence and that insights from feminist and development approaches are essential

Capital, Coercion, and Postcommunist States Gerald Easter, 2012-10-15 The postcommunist transitions produced two very different types of states The contractual state is associated with the countries of Eastern Europe which moved toward democratic regimes consensual relations with society and clear boundaries between political power and economic wealth The predatory state is associated with the successors to the USSR which instead developed authoritarian regimes coercive relations with society and poorly defined boundaries between the political and economic realms In Capital Coercion and Postcommunist States Gerald M Easter shows how the cumulative result of the many battles between state coercion and societal capital over taxation gave rise to these distinctive transition outcomes Easter s fiscal sociology of the postcommunist state highlights the interconnected paths that led from the fiscal crisis of the old regime through the revenue bargains of transitional tax regimes to the eventual reconfiguration of state society relations His focused comparison of Poland and Russia exemplifies postcommunism s divergent institutional forms The Polish case shows how conflicts over taxation influenced the emergence of a rule of law contractual state social market capitalism and civil society The Russian case reveals how revenue imperatives reinforced the emergence of a rule by law predatory state concessions style capitalism and dependent society

Political Restructuring in Europe Chris Brown,2003-09-02 A distinguished selection of contributors provide the theoretical background to the restructuring of Europe that is currently underway It attempts to situate the ethical debates in a historical legal and constitutional context considering important and topical issues such as the rights to secession and self determination of minorities in Eastern Europe and the question of whether national movements are justified in using force to achieve their ends The authors number legal and constitutional scholars political philosophers and international relations theorists There are contributions from Poland and Croatia

Liquid Society and Its Law Jiří Přibáň,2016-05-06 This collection of essays brings together Zygmunt Bauman and a number of internationally distinguished legal scholars who examine the influence of Bauman s recent works on social theory of law and socio legal studies Contributors focus on the concept of liquid society and its adoption by legal scholars The volume opens with Bauman s analysis of fears and policing in liquid society and continues by examining the social and legal theoretical context and implications of Bauman s theory

Religion and Civil Society David Herbert,2017-03-02 This book presents the first full length study of the relationship between religion and the controversial concept of civil society Across the world in the last two decades of the twentieth century religions re entered public space as influential discursive and symbolic systems apparently beyond the control of either traditional religious authorising institutions or states This differentiation of religion from traditional institutions and entry into secular public spheres carries both dangers and possible benefits for democracy Offering a fresh interdisciplinary approach to understanding religion in contemporary societies this book provides an invaluable resource for students and researchers in religious studies sociology politics and political philosophy theology international relations and legal studies Part one presents a critical introduction to the interaction between religion modernization and postmodernization in Western and non Western settings America Europe the Middle East and India focussing on discourses of human rights civil society and the public sphere and the controversial question of their cross cultural application Part two examines religion and civil society through case studies of Egypt Bosnia and Muslim minorities in Britain and compares Poland as an example of a Christian majority society that has experienced the public reassertion of religion
