Fate of a Cockroach Tawfiq Ḥakīm, 1973 The sultan's dilemma When the Sultan finds out that he has not been properly emancipated from his former slave days he can either rule by the sword or the law Choosing the latter he puts himself up for auction with the request that he be freed by his new owner He is bought but will his conditions be met The Arabic Literary Heritage Roger Allen, 2005-10-17 Roger Allen here offers an account of the cultural tradition of literary texts in Arabic from their unknown beginnings in the fifth century AD to the present day Allen's organising principle is not that of traditional literary histories but is rather based on an account of the major genres of Arabic literature After introductory chapters on principles and contexts there are chapters devoted to the Qur'an as literature poetry belletristic prose drama and criticism Within each chapter the emphasis is on the texts themselves and those who created and commented on them but Allen also demonstrates his awareness of recent Western theoretical and critical approaches The volume as a whole which contains extensive quotations in English translation a chronology and a guide to further reading makes a major non-Western literary tradition newly accessible to students and scholars of the West Memories in Translation Denys Johnson-Davies, 2006 Presents the life and works of Denys Johnson Davies who was described by the late Edward Said as the leading Arabic English translator of our time With more than twenty five volumes of translated Arabic works to his name and a career spanning some sixty years he has brought the Arabic writing to an ever widening English readership An Introduction to Arabic Literature Roger Allen, 2000-07-13 An accessible introduction to Arabic literature from the fifth century to the present Rewriting Narratives in Egyptian Theatre Sirkku Aaltonen, Areeg Ibrahim, 2016-03-31 This study of Egyptian theatre and its narrative construction explores the ways representations of Egypt are created of and within theatrical means from the 19th century to the present day Essays address the narratives that structure theatrical textual and performative representations and the ways the rewriting process has varied in different contexts and at different times Drawing on concepts from Theatre and Performance Studies Translation Studies Cultural Studies Postcolonial Studies and Diaspora Studies scholars and practitioners from Egypt and the West enter into dialogue with one another expanding understanding of the different fields The articles focus on the ways theatre texts and performances change are rewritten when crossing borders between different worlds The concept of rewriting is seen to include translation transformation and reconstruction and the different borders may be cultural and national between languages and dramaturgies or borders that are present in people's everyday lives Essays consider how rewritings and performances cross borders from one culture nation country and language to another They also study the process of rewriting the resulting representations of foreign plays on stage and representations of the Egyptian revolution on stage and in Tahrir Square This assessment of the relationship between theatre practices exchanges and rewritings in Egyptian theatre brings vital coverage to an undervisited area and will be of interest to developments in theatre translation and beyond Cairo Deborah Cowley, Aleya Serour, 1981

Artists, Writers and The Arab Spring Riad Ismat, 2018-12-14 The book aims to explore the foresight of prominent Middle Eastern authors and artists who anticipated the Arab Spring which resulted in demands for change in the repressive and corrupted regimes Eventually it led to cracking down on the protests with excessive force which caused tremendous human suffering destruction and also escalation of extreme insurgency The author analyzes major literary and artistic works from Egypt Syria and Tunisia and their political context This monograph will be helpful to scholars and students in the growing field of Middle Eastern and North African Studies and everyone who is interested in the politics of MENA

The Undergraduate's Companion to Arab Writers and Their Web Sites Dona S. Straley, 2004-08-30 This companion provides information on the lives and works of about 150 authors who write primarily in Arabic covering the first known works of Arabic literature in the 5th and 6th centuries A D to the present day While concentrating on literary authors writers from the fields of history geography and philosophy are also represented The individuals represented were chosen primarily from the Encyclopedia of Arabic Literature Among the major authors are Najib Mahfuz the 1988 Nobel laureate Nawal Saadawi the Egyptian physician who is the leading female literary author in the Arab world and the most frequently translated into English Abu al Ala al Ma'arri the 11th century poet whose verses are taught to every Arab schoolchild and Avicenna the great physician and philosopher transmitter and interpreter of Aristotle whose work on medicine was long the standard not only in the Middle East but also in Latin translation in Europe In addition entries will be included for the anonymous romances so common in Arabic literature such as The Arabian Nights a cycle of stories perhaps even better known in the West than in the Arab world Interest in the history and culture of the Arab world at U S universities has taken a quantum leap since the events of September 11 2001 In this book the author demonstrates that at least three major distinct literary and cultural traditions are included within the fields of Middle Eastern and Islamic studies Arabic Persian and Turkic The Arabic tradition is the oldest largest and most widely dispersed Undergraduate courses in Arabic literature and culture are now being taught at both lower and upper levels at many universities Such courses are often used by undergraduates to fulfill basic educational requirements for their degrees Students in such courses often have difficulty finding information on Arab writers and this volume fills the void

Modern Arabic Drama in Egypt Muḥammad Muṣṭafā Badawī, 1987 This book is the first critical survey of modern Egyptian drama during the period of its maturity from the 1930s to the present day A discussion of the work of Tawfiq al Hakim is followed by an examination of the less experimental plays of his successors Mahmud Taymur Bakathir and Fathi Radwan

Books in Series, 1980 A Brief Introduction to Modern Arabic Literature David Tresilian, 2012-03-12 Modern Arabic literature remains little known and poorly understood despite growing curiosity among European readers This brief introduction offers a unique overview focusing on developments over the last fifty years It provides a guide to the literary landscape indicating the major landmarks in the shape of authors ideas and debates The picture that emerges shows that the literature of the modern Arab world Europe's closest neighbour is not so far from us as we are sometimes encouraged to think This is a timely contribution to the dialogue between East and West bringing modern Arabic literature into the mainstream for English speaking readers Modern Arabic Literature Muḥammad Muṣṭafá Badawī,1992 This volume provides an authoritative survey of creative writing in Arabic from the mid nineteenth century to the present day Encyclopedia of Arabic Literature Julie Scott Meisami,Paul Starkey,1998 This reference work covers the classical transitional and modern periods Editors and contributors cover an international scope of Arabic literature in many countries Encyclopedia of Literary Translation Into English: A-L O.
