Watson,2000 This biography offers an in depth look at the life of Jigoro Kano 1860 1938 he founder of Judo and the driving force behind the Olympic event practised by millions worldwide Judo Memoirs of Jigoro Kano Brian N. Watson,2008-10-03 In 1882 Kano opened his Kodokan dojo in Tokyo where he taught jujutsu to his first class of nine students His choice of the name Kodokan symbolizes precocity in one so young and is highly significant for it means the institute where one is guided along the road to follow in life that is to say a road that one travels as a means of self cultivation which Kano regarded as the optimum way to live ones life This cultivation however can only be attained following long years of training made with vigorous exertion in an effort to reach the ultimate goal self perfection At the age of twenty four Kano abruptly gave up the teaching of this ancient and altogether brutal activity and never taught jujutsu again In his attempt to create for the modern age a non violent spiritually inspiring antagonistic art he carried out research on several styles of jujutsu Primarily in the interests of both safety and practicality he altered and added his own devices to the techniques that he was later to incorporate into his newly conceived system of skills which he named Kodokan judo In lectures Kano often stated the following The ultimate object of studying judo is to train and cultivate body and mind through practice in attack and defense and by thus mastering the essentials of the art to attain perfection of oneself and bring benefits to the world He had sought to create in judo therefore something positive out of something largely negative Judo Memoirs of Jigoro Kano Brian N. Jujutsu and Judo in the West Michael DeMarco,2018-04-24 The late 19th century saw a dynamic growth of contacts between Western countries and the Far East Along with the increase in travel came a wave of educational opportunities for Americans and Europeans to gain first hand experience of living in countries such as China India and Japan Likewise adventurous individuals from the Orient made their way to the West Scholars politicians and business people became experts in their adapted culture Some learned the native language and became experts in their second culture often writing and lecturing on a variety of topics including martial traditions By the early 20th century a number of Japanese jujutsu and judo instructors were teaching their exotic arts in Germany Spain the United Kingdom and the United States How were these instructors viewed by those in their host countries What similarities and differences were seen between the Japanese combatives and the local traditions such as Catch as Catch Can Greco Roman and Pancrase wrestling and styles of boxing Chapters in this anthology present an excellent overview of the early days when jujutsu and judo took foothold in the USA and Europe with particular emphasis on England and the influence of The Budokwai in London which as noted on Wikipedia is the oldest Japanese martial arts club in Europe It was founded in 1918 by Gunji Koizumi and initially offered tuition in jujutsu kendo and other Japanese arts It was the first judo club in Europe This anthology offers a historical view of how and why jujutsu and judo became living traditions in the West and developed over the decades There are six technical chapters by David Finch well known for his knowledge of judo and famed for his professional photography The last chapter is a fitting finale presenting a comprehensive history and technical description of The Budokwai Kime no kata a judo kata created during the earlier period of the institute The fourteen chapters in this anthology most from the Journal of Asian Martial Arts and a few newer writings also discuss many of the leading practitioners of jujutsu judo As these arts adapted and transformed to Western countries the purpose and modes of practice have also changed This is important for all to study since knowledge of the past is vital for how these forms of combat and sport will evolve in the future

International Sport: A Bibliography, 2000 Richard William Cox,2013-10-23 There has been an explosion in the quantity of sports history literature published in recent years making it increasingly difficult to keep abreast of developments The annual number of publications has increased from around 250 to 1 000 a year over the last decade This is due in part to the fact that during the late 1980s and 90s many clubs leagues and governing bodies of sport have celebrated their centenaries and produced histories to mark this occasion and commemorate their achievements It is also the result of the growing popularity and realisation of the importance of sport history research within academe This international bibliography of books articles conference proceedings and essays in the English language is a one stop for the sports historian to know what is new

Judo & Life Brian N. Watson,2019-01-22 The three body mind relationship goals that Jigoro Kano advised his judo students to aspire to namely to perfect themselves physically intellectually and morally are all aimed at the same objective self improvement The first goal is perhaps the easiest and the one that many judokas achieve by gaining a dan grade after a few years training and perhaps by winning a few medals along the way The next two goals are psychological in nature and usually take longer to attain The intellectual goal is focused on educating oneself for what one wishes to become in life whether it be an engineer a teacher an accountant or whatever one s desire These goals however often require much book learning Because time and tide wait for no man one must read read and read some more in order to expand one s vocabulary and acquire the necessary knowledge The third goal is mainly focused on the moral lessons that one should have learnt after completion of the previous two These teachings should prove useful in helping one to succeed in one s endeavors and enable one to impart proper moral guidance to others especially the young when teaching judo
