airports Aviation had developed greatly and grass airstrips gave way to concrete runways as glorified shacks and Nissen huts made way for sophisticated terminal buildings During the 1950s Fr Browne took commercial flights to visit family in England Eddie O'Donnell SJ has once again researched the Father Browne Archive and has put together a truly fascinating collection of photographs telling the story of the early years of aviation in Ireland Father Browne's Titanic Album E. E. O'Donnell,2021-04-01 As a passenger on the first two legs of Titanic's ill fated voyage Father Francis Browne SJ's photographs are an immensely important record As well as taking a unique set of photos Father Browne also assembled an incredibly valuable album of Titanic material such as an original deck plan menus letters to him from fellow passengers contemporary newspaper cuttings and other documents many of which are reproduced here Thanks to the gift of a ticket from his uncle a young Jesuit named Francis Browne travelled on the Titanic during her maiden voyage from Southampton to Cherbourg to Cork Invited to remain with the ship as it crossed the Atlantic Fr Browne was saved from possible disaster by a telegram from his Jesuit superior ordering him to get off that ship When the unthinkable happened and the Titanic sank Fr Browne's photographs appeared on the front pages of newspapers all around the world For many years the photographs of Fr Browne were forgotten until 1985 when Fr Eddie O'Donnell happened across an old tin trunk in the Jesuit archives and rediscovered 42 000 photographs including the Titanic collection Father Browne's Ships and Shipping Edward Eugene O'Donnell, Frank Browne, 2000 Father Frank Browne became famous in the wake of the Titanic disaster when his photographs the only ones of the ship in sail were published by newspapers all over the world This new collection of Browne's photographs brings together a huge store of images of the great liners of the first half of the twentieth century with the lesser working vessels such as ferries mailboats and tugs and the people who worked and traveled on them Father Browne's Cork Frank Browne, Edward Eugene O'Donnell, 1995 Forming part of the Father Browne series this title focuses on the people and places in Cork Wandering Wicklow with Father Browne Robert O'Byrne, 2020-12-12 Ireland's finest photographer in the 20th century Fr Frank Browne repeatedly visited County Wicklow across almost half a century Over that time he had the opportunity to capture images of this part of the country as it underwent change and yet somehow retained its essential character The earliest photograph for example is of the Dargle Valley a spot that looks much the same today as it did when Fr Browne first went there in 1910 Other pictures show landmark beauty spots such as the Powerscourt Waterfall and the Sugarloaf Mountain as well as the rugged landscape of the Sally Gap The monastic remains of Glendalough are exquisitely caught along with the still waters of Lough Tay But while his eye was able to spot the timeless beauty of this rural idyll Fr Browne also noted the modern and innovative capturing key moments in the development of a newly independent Ireland such as the construction of the Poulaphuca Reservoir in the late 1930s and workers in the newly opened Solus Teoranta Lightbulb Factory in Bray Cars are few but bicycles plentiful in his photographs The advent of modern technology contrasts with traditional pastimes a horse fair in Blessington sheep dipping on a farm a thatcher repairing the roof of an old cottage He shows bustling preparations for the International Eucharistic Congress of June 1932 along with commercial activity in towns such as Arklow and Wicklow New schools are shown being built in the first older pursuits like fishing continue in the second And Fr Browne's ability to gain access everywhere means he was able to photograph many of Wicklow's most famous historic houses like Powerscourt before its interiors were tragically destroyed by fire and Shelton Abbey which he visited just a year before the building and its contents were sold The book is divided into five six sections each offering readers the chance to follow in Fr Browne's footsteps and explore a different part of the county Fr Browne's Trains and Railways Frank Browne, E.
