Fathers, Families, and the State in France, 1914-1945 Kristen Stromberg Childers, 2018-07-05 The state's policy with regard to fathers and fatherhood had a great impact on concepts of citizenship and gender in France in the era of the two World Wars Drawing on new material that has only recently become available from the archives of the Vichy regime Kristen Stromberg Childers analyzes the ways fathers were promoted as saviors of the nation after France's humiliating defeat by the Germans in June 1940 Childers argues that concern for the family and for the status of fathers in modern France was not merely a response to falling birthrates and German aggression but was fundamental to the very notion of citizenship and political participation The debate on men as gendered beings Childers demonstrates is central to the political social and cultural history of France in the modern age The father figure became a focus as participants from all classes and across the political spectrum debated what was wrong with the French family and what policies were needed to remedy the problem Childers examines how these policies were implemented what they reveal about the development of the welfare state in France and how they help explain the importance of Vichy in twentieth century French history Twenty eight illustrations including fifteen photographs many never previously published complement her argument

Fathers, Families and the State in France, 1914 - 1945 Kristen E. Stromberg, 1998 PATRIMONIAL POWER in the MODERN WORLD Julia Adams, Mounira M. Charrad, 2011-07 During the 2011 uprisings in the Arab world protesters demanded the ouster of authoritarian forms of rule and an end to the influence of ruling families on politics society and the economy These upheavals revealed that patrimonial power in its diverse forms is still a dynamic force in global politics able to shape world events This volume brings the study of patrimonialism back to center stage and presents the concept as a useful tool to analyze how nations global developments and international relations are influenced and transformed Leading scholars show that patrimonial practices present throughout history are important features of global capitalist modernity The authors analyze patrimonial politics in regions throughout the world including in the United States Tunisia Chile France Iraq Lebanon Morocco Poland and Russia This volume will appeal to students of politics and policy and to a multidisciplinary scholarly audience in political sociology historical social science history and social theory Marriage, Law and Modernity

Julia Moses, 2017-11-16 Marriage Law and Modernity offers a global perspective on the modern history of marriage Widespread recent debate has focused on the changing nature of families characterized by both the rise of unmarried cohabitation and the legalization of same sex marriage However historical understanding of these developments remains limited How has marriage come to be the target of national legislation Are recent policies on same sex marriage part of a broader transformation And has marriage come to be similar across the globe despite claims about national cultural and religious difference This collection brings together scholars from across the world in order to offer a global perspective on the history of marriage It unites legal political and social history and seeks to draw out commonalities and differences by exploring connections through empire international law and international migration France's Long Reconstruction Herrick Chapman, 2018-01-08 Postwar recovery required a transformation of France but what form it should take remained a question Herrick Chapman charts the course of France's reconstruction from 1944 to 1962 offering insights into the ways the expansion of state power produced fierce controversies at home and unintended consequences abroad in France's crumbling empire Gender, Sexuality, and the Cold War Philip E. Muehlenbeck, 2021-04-30 As Marko Duman i writes in his introduction to Gender Sexuality and the Cold War despite the centrality of gender and sexuality in human relations their scholarly study has played a secondary role in the history of the Cold War It is not an exaggeration to say that few were left unaffected by Cold War gender politics even those who were in charge of producing disseminating and enforcing cultural norms were called on to live by the gender and sexuality models into which they breathed life This underscores the importance of this volume as here scholars tackle issues ranging from depictions of masculinity during the all consuming space race to the vibrant activism of Indian peasant women during this period to the policing of sexuality inside the militaries of the world Gender Sexuality and the Cold War brings together a diverse group of scholars whose combined research spans fifteen countries across five continents claiming a place as the first volume to examine how issues of gender and sexuality impacted both the domestic and foreign policies of states far beyond the borders of the United States during the tumult of the Cold War Table of Contents Preface Introduction Hidden in Plain Sight The Histories of Gender and Sexuality during the Cold War Marko Duman i Part I Sexuality Faceless and Stateless French Occupation Policy toward Women and Children in Postwar Germany 1945 1949 Katherine Rossy Patriarchy and Segregation Policing Sexuality in US Icelandic Military Relations Valur Ingimundarson Queering Subversives in Cold War Canada Patrizia Gentile Nonreligious Activities Sex Anticommunism and Progressive Christianity in Late Cold War Brazil Benjamin A Cowan Manning the Enemy US Perspectives on International Birthrates during the Cold War Kathleen A Tobin Part II Femininities Indian Peasant Women's Activism in a Hot Cold War Elisabeth Armstrong The Medicalization of Childhood in Mexico during the Early Cold War 1945 1960 Nichole Sanders Africa's Kitchen Debate Ghanaian Domestic Space in the Age of the Cold War Jeffrey S Ahlman Mobilizing Women State Feminisms in Communist Czechoslovakia and Socialist Egypt May Hawas and Philip E Muehlenbeck A Vietnamese Woman Directs the War Story Duc Hoan 1937 2003 Karen Turner Global Feminism and Cold War Paradigms Women's International NGOs and the United Nations 1970 1985 Karen Garner Part III Masculinities Men of the World or Uniformed Boys Hegemonic Masculinity and the British Army in the Era of the Korean War Grace Huxford Yuri Gagarin and Celebrity Masculinity in Soviet Culture Erica L Fraser People, Nations and Traditions in a Comparative Frame DMaris Coffman, Harold James, Nicholas Di Liberto, 2021-03-10 If the turn of the twenty first century was characterised by the history wars in which bitter internecine battles raged between different historical schools Jonathan Steinberg was noteworthy for his methodological pluralism His own historical work spanned diplomatic history military history the social history of war biography social history banking history political culture and genocide studies He often employed a comparative historical approach which teased out deep historical explanations by examining personalities nations and traditions simultaneously This book offers a critical appreciation of his contribution to modern historical practice with contributions by former students and colleagues whose own interests are as diverse as those of Steinberg himself

Children, Families, and States Cristina Allemann-Ghionda, Karen Hagemann, Konrad H. Jarausch, 2011-03-01 Due to the demand for flexible working hours and employees who are available around the clock the time patterns of childcare and schooling have increasingly become a political issue Comparing the development of different time policies of half day and all day provisions in a variety of Eastern and Western European countries since the end of World War II this innovative volume brings together internationally known experts from the fields of comparative education history and the social and political sciences and makes a significant contribution to this new interdisciplinary field of comparative study Mother Is Gold, Father Is Glass Lorelle D. Semley, 2010-11-29 Lorelle D Semley explores the historical and political meanings of motherhood in West Africa and beyond showing that the roles of women were far more complicated than previously thought While in K tu B nin Semley discovered that women were treasurers advisors ritual specialists and colonial agents in addition to their more familiar roles as queens wives and sisters These women with special influence made it difficult for the French and others to enforce an ideal of subordinate women As she traces how women gained prominence Semley makes clear why powerful mother figures still exist in the symbols and rituals of everyday practices The Law of Kinship Camille Robcis, 2013-04-19 In France as elsewhere in recent years legislative debates over single parent households same sex unions new reproductive technologies transsexuality and other challenges to long held assumptions about the structure of family and kinship relations have been deeply divisive What strikes many as uniquely French however is the extent to which many of these discussions whether in legislative chambers courtrooms or the mass media have been conducted in the frequently abstract vocabularies of anthropology and psychoanalysis In this highly original book Camille Robcis seeks to explain why and how academic discourses on kinship have intersected and overlapped with political debates on the family and on the nature of French republicanism itself She focuses on the theories of Claude Levi Strauss and Jacques Lacan both of whom highlighted the interdependence of the sexual and the social by positing a direct correlation between kinship and socialization Robcis traces how their ideas gained recognition not only from French social scientists but also from legislators and politicians who relied on some of the most obscure and difficult concepts of structuralism to enact a series of laws concerning the family Levi Strauss and Lacan constructed the heterosexual family as a universal trope for social and psychic integration and this understanding of the family at the root of intersubjectivity coincided with the role that the family has played in modern French law and public policy The Law of Kinship contributes to larger conversations about the particularities of French political culture the nature of sexual difference and the problem of reading and interpretation in intellectual history

Psychoanalysis and the family in twentieth-century France Richard Bates, 2022-02-08 In the last quarter of the twentieth century if French people had a parenting problem or dilemma there was one person they consulted above all Fran oise Dolto 1908-88 But who was Dolto How did she achieve a position of such influence What ideas did she communicate to the French public This book connects the story of Dolto's rise to two broader histories the dramatic growth of psychoanalysis in postwar France and the long running debate over the family and the proper role of women in society It shows that Dolto's continued reputation in France as a liberal and enlightened educational thinker is at best only partially deserved and that conservative and anti feminist ideas often underpinned her prominent public interventions While Dolto retains the status of a national treasure her career has had far reaching and sometimes harmful repercussions for French society particularly in the treatment of autism

Women and Mass Consumer Society in Postwar France Rebecca Pulju, 2011-02-14 Examines the emergence of a citizen consumer role for women during postwar modernization and reconstruction in France

"Material Women, 1750-1950" Maureen Daly Goggin, 2017-07-05 With the volume's global perspective and comparative framework this collection contributes to the ongoing scholarly examination of consumption by taking the topic of women material culture and consumption into new arenas The essays explore the connections between consumption and subjectivity they build upon and complicate the idea that consumption as a form of meaning making is key to the construction of gendered classed and national identities Providing a cross cultural perspective on consumption the essays are historically specific case studies While some essays examine women's consumption in a range of Anglophone and Francophone locations primarily in Britain France Australia Canada and the US other essays on Chinese Senegalese Indian and Mexican women's consumption particularly as it relates to fashion and design provide a comparative framework that will recalibrate ongoing discussions about consumption and domesticity dress and identity and desire and subjectivity In addition to its focus on gender and consumption this volume addresses gender and collecting exploring the tensions between accumulation and systematic collecting Also examined is the way in which the display of collected objects in Impressionists paintings in mass produced illustrations in the glass cases of museums and department stores participates in the construction of particular identities as well as serving as a kind of value producing material practice

Conscription, Family, and the Modern State Dorit Geva, 2013-08-12 The development of modern military conscription systems is usually seen as a response to countries security needs and as reflection of national political ideologies like civic republicanism or democratic egalitarianism This study of conscription politics in France and the United States in the first half of the twentieth century challenges such common sense interpretations Instead it shows how despite institutional and ideological differences both countries implemented conscription systems shaped by political and military leaders concerns about how taking ordinary family men for military service would affect men's presumed positions as heads of families especially as breadwinners and figures of paternal authority The first of its kind this carefully researched book combines an ambitious range of scholarly traditions and offers an original comparison of how protection of men's household authority affected one of the paradigmatic institutions of modern states

Disintegrating Empire Elise Franklin, Jewish Youth and Identity in Postwar France Daniella Doron, 2015-09-28 Highlights the debates surrounding family and identity as French Jewish communities slowly recovered and reestablished their place in the French nation

Choice At the end of World War II French Jews faced a devastating demographic reality thousands of orphaned children large numbers of single parent households and families in emotional and financial distress Daniella Doron suggests that after years of occupation and collaboration French Jews and non Jews held contrary opinions about the future of the nation and the institution of the family At the center of the disagreement was what was to become of the children Doron traces emerging notions about the postwar family and its role in strengthening Jewish ethnicity and French republicanism in the shadow of Vichy and the Holocaust Doron's book appears at a key moment Its emphasis on children emerging from hunger displacement and war should render it standard reading for policymakers NGOs and others interested in shaping the destinies of today's abandoned children

French History Raises fundamental questions for the understanding of not only Jewish reconstruction in post World War II France but also Holocaust memory postwar French society and culture and the history of postwar European families and children

French Politics Culture and Society Doron's deftly argued and well researched book is an important intervention into a growing body of scholarship on the postwar decade She convincingly documents the central role that the rehabilitation of Jewish children and the reconstruction of Jewish families played in post war French Jewish reconstruction and underscores the importance of the decade following the war in shaping Jewish historical evolution in France

Reproductive Citizens Nimisha Barton, 2020-09-15 In the familiar tale of mass migration to France from 1880 onward we know very little about the hundreds of thousands of women who formed a critical part of those migration waves

In Reproductive Citizens Nimisha Barton argues that their relative absence in the historical record hints at a larger and more problematic oversight the role of sex and gender in shaping the experiences of migrants to France before the Second World War

Barton's compelling history of social citizenship demonstrates how through the routine application of social policies state and social actors worked separately toward a shared goal repopulating France with immigrant families

Filled with voices gleaned from census reports municipal statistics naturalization dossiers court cases police files and social worker registers Reproductive Citizens shows how France welcomed foreign born men and women mobilizing naturalization family law social policy and welfare assistance to ensure they would procreate bearing French assimilated children

Immigrants often embraced these policies because they too stood to gain from pensions family allowances unemployment benefits and French nationality

By striking this bargain they were also guaranteed safety and stability on a tumultuous continent

Barton concludes that in return for generous social provisions and refuge in dark times immigrants joined the French nation through marriage and reproduction breadwinning and child rearing in short through families and family making which made them
