Fathers Who Fail Shame And Psychopathology In The Family System:

Fathers Who Fail Melvin R. Lansky, 2013-05-13 Despite the burgeoning literature on the role of the father in child development and on fathering as a developmental stage surprisingly little has been written about the psychiatrically impaired father In Fathers Who Fail Melvin Lansky remedies this glaring lacuna in the literature Drawing on contemporary psychoanalysis family systems theory and the sociology of conflict he delineates the spectrum of psychopathological predicaments that undermine the ability of the father to be a father Out of his sensitive integration of the intrapsychic and intrafamilial contexts of paternal failure emerges a richly textured portrait of psychiatrically impaired fathers of fathers who fail Lansky's probing discussion of narcissistic equilibrium in the family system enables him to chart the natural history common to the symptomatic impulsive actions of impaired fathers He then considers specific manifestations of paternal dysfunction within this shared framework of heightened familial conflict and the failure of intrafamilial defenses to common shame Domestic violence suicide the intensification of trauma posttraumatic nightmares catastrophic reactions in organic brain syndrome and the murder of a spouse are among the major symptoms that he explores In each instance Lansky carefully sketches the progression of vulnerability and turbulence from the father's personality to the family system and thence to the symptomatic eruption in question In his concluding chapter he comments tellingly on the unconscious obstacles on the part of both patients and therapists to treating impaired fathers The obstacles cut across different clinical modalities underscoring the need for multimodal responses to fathers who fail

Importance of Fathers Alicia Etchegoyen, Judith Trowell, 2005-10-05 It is widely acknowledged that children need structure security stability and attachment to develop and flourish and that the father is an important part of this. Issues such as high divorce rates, new family structures, increased mobility, women's liberation and contraception are very common in society. This book sets out to explore what has happened to men and to fathers during all these changes and transitions. Judith Trowell and Alicia Etchegoyen, along with an array of renowned contributors, consider the importance of fathers in various situations including the role of the father at different stages of children's development, the missing father, loss of a father, grandfathers. It is argued that the father is important not only to support the main carer, usually the mother, but also to provide a caring, thinking, comfortable, confident presence. Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1993. First multi-year cumulation covers six years 1965-70. Family Disintegration Anton Purcell, 2002. The contemporary family is being distracted, disturbed and distraught by societal pressures from every direction. The nuclear family concept, believed crucial to child rearing, is becoming passé according to census data. Or has the wave of disruption to families crested? It is hoped that this bibliography will serve as a useful tool to researchers seeking further information on families and the pressures being exerted upon them in the 21st century. Shame Salman Akhtar, 2018-03-29. This book offers ten distinguished analysts' insights on shame from various perspectives which include its developmental substrate, vicissitudes during adolescence and manifestations in the course of aging and infirmity. It seeks to advance clinicians' empathy and therapeutic skills in this realm.

Embodied Shame J. Brooks Bouson, 2010-07-02. How does physical, emotional and sexual abuse shape women's perceptions of their bodies and identities? How are women's psyches affected by the sexual, racial and cultural denigration that occurs when women's bodies are represented as defective, spoiled, damaged or dirtied? Embodied Shame skillfully explores these questions in the context of recent writings by North American women contributing to work in shame theory and to feminist analyses of the intersections of theories of the body, affect, emotions, narrative and trauma. By examining popular contemporary fictional and nonfictional texts including Alice Munro's Lives of Girls and Women, Dorothy Allison's Bastard Out of Carolina, Toni Morrison's The Bluest Eye, Edwidge Danticat's Breath Eyes Memory and Lucy Grealy's Autobiography of a Face, J. Brooks Bouson illuminates how deeply entrenched bodily shame continues to operate in contemporary culture even as we celebrate the supposed freeing of the female body from the social and cultural constraints that have long bound it. Femininity and Shame Barbara L. Eurich-Rascoe, Hendrika Vande Kemp, 1997. Femininity is a source of shame for some men and women. Scholarship and therapeutic practice have not reckoned with femininity or its shamefulness in helpful healing ways. Thus women and men continue to hide their feminine selves. This book asserts the positive worth and power of femininity for men and women; men's and women's need for validation of their femininity and the need to create child rearing and therapeutic practices that achieve incorporation of femininity in men's conscious self understanding. A Gift Grows in the Ghetto Jay-Paul Michael Hinds, 2022-10-25. In his classic essay Of Our Spiritual

Strivings W E B Du Bois asks how does it feel to be a problem This question has become a means of diagnosing the lived experience of Black men particularly in America s most neglected and feared environment the ghetto What is often overlooked however is the vital role that spirituality has in remedying the problem A Gift Grows in the Ghetto examines how not being in relationship with one s gift can lead to feelings of despair entrapment and abandonment all of which contribute to Black men feeling as though they are nothing more than a problem By utilizing the biblical story of Ishmael s miraculous survival growth and giftedness in the wilderness the book encourages Black men to embrace a life of faith that is dependent on the God who always sees nurtures and is in relationship with us and our gifts in the wilderness and the ghetto The Culture of Shame Andrew P. Morrison,1998 In The Culture of Shame Harvard psychiatrist Andrew P Morrison argues that shame pervades our culture From its early references in biblical stories to the works of philosophers such as Nietzsche and Sartre and contemporary novelists Philip Roth and Toni Morrison the experience of shame emerges as a theme of human experience Yet until recently professional psychology did not acknowledge the role of shame focusing instead on guilt Indeed our modern culture which emphasizes independence and personal responsibility tends to view shame as the mark of an inferior or self absorbed individual Fierce and Tender Men Clinton J. Jesser,1996-04-30 This book takes the reader on a journey through some men s land and into some men s houses Along the way we look at whether or not there is a men s movement what men s studies might consist of where men have belonged in society through history the nature of men s wounds and pain femininity and masculinity men s boy s differentiation from their mothers and their search for their fathers and a refreshing view of men and sex fatherhood and work Finally we look at men coming together in men s support groups amending the wrongs of their past blessing each other in word story ritual and spirit and creating projects that forward new missions and end men s isolation from each other Fierce and Tender Men is critical analytical and inspirational drawing on current research in gender on students views in gender classes and on the author s own experience and his participation in men s work over the last eight years This book confronts but does not scapegoat men Torment Me, But Don't Abandon

Me Leon Wurmser,2007 Torment Me But Don t Abandon Me Psychoanalysis of the Severe Neuroses in a New Key offers analysts and psychodynamic therapists an innovative way of understanding the theoretical intersection of masochism perversion shame guilt narcissism substance abuse This constellation of psychopathology frequently is seen in clinical practice and often proves to be a difficult personality organization to treat While Dr Wurmser relies on elements of classical analysis to construct his theoretical framework including a theoretical and clinical analysis of super ego analysis he incorporates contemporary relational and intersubjective perspectives understanding that the analyst s involvement of the self is critical for the successful treatment of the serious neuroses Interpersonal Neurobiology and Clinical Practice

Progress in Self Psychology, V. 20

William J. Coburn, 2013-07-04 Transformations in Self Psychology highlights the manner in which contemporary self psychology has become in the words of series editor William Coburn a continuing series of revolutions within a revolution Of special note are contributions that explore the bidirectional influences between self psychology and other explanatory paradigms The volume begins with Stern's thoughtful attempt to integrate self psychological and relational perspectives on transference countertransference enactments Fosshage and Munschauer's presentation of a case of extreme nihilism and aversiveness elicits a series of discussions that constructively highlights divergent perspectives on the meaning and role of enactment in treatment and on the so called empathy authenticity dichotomy The productive exploration of theoretical differences also enters in the redefinition of notions of gender and sexuality a topic of increasing interest to self psychologists Differing perspectives which give rise to differing clinical emphases emerge in the exchanges of Clifford and Goldner and of VanDerHeide and Hartmann The special contextualist demands of work with intercultural couples foster a more integrative sensibility with self psychological borrowings from interpretive anthropology and attachment theory Clinical contributors to Volume 20 explore manifestations of a tension that permeates all analytic work that between the patient's newly emerging ability to expand the self in growth consolidating ways and the countervailing dread to repeat Enlarged by Malin's personal reflections of Fifty Years of Psychoanalysis and by book review essays focusing on the writings of Lachmann and Stolorow respectively Transformations in Self Psychology bespeaks the continuing vitality of contemporary self psychology

Narrating Estrangement Lisa P. Z. Spinazola, David F. Purnell, 2022-05-09 The stories in Narrating Estrangement Autoethnographies of Writing Of f Family demonstrate the pain anguish and even relief felt by those who contemplate estranging or who are estranged whether by choice or circumstance Despite the social assumptions persisting about the everlasting nature of family relationships when people make the complicated and often difficult decision to disconnect from family members they experience shame stigma and isolation because of social pressures to maintain those relationships at all costs Each contributor uses the act of storytelling and the autoethnographic mode of scholarship and writing to find clarity in their individual unique and complex situations Several authors explorations restore some of what they have lost through estrangement such as a sense of identity emotional health and well being and feelings of belonging due to the breakdowns in social and family support systems meant to be unconditional and permanent The stories display the wide array of reasons why family members become estranged delving into different types of estrangement permanent and or intermittent In doing so the writers in this book demonstrate that family relationships are neither easily categorized nor neatly ended their impact on an individual s life continues and changes even in and through estrangement This book adds to the ongoing scholarly conversations about family estrangement for students and researchers interested in autoethnography and qualitative inquiry in a wide range of disciplines in the social sciences healthcare and communication studies

Bending Bodies Thomas Johansson,Soren Ervo,2024-11-01 This title was first published in 2003 The contributing authors have sought to integrate a gender perspective into their respective fields without isolating it from other theoretical accounts The chapters attempt to employ insights from feminist work and gender studies in general yet insist on criticizing monolithic accounts of masculinity and elaborating on more differentiated historically and socially embedded accounts of men s lives and their construction of masculinities The volume is the result of interdisciplinary workshops focusing on questions of male sexuality the male body and masculine representations primarily investigating the relationship between change and continuity within western patriarchal society and the theoretical rather than political implications of the new reserach in men and masculinities This volume differs from the first in that it deals with the construction of masculine identities on an individual level the individual man s relationship with his own body and sexuality
