Journal of Oil & Fat Industries ,1925 The Future Is Fat Jen Rinaldi, May Friedman, Emily R.M. Lind, Crystal Kotow, Tracy Tidgwell, 2021-08-12 Fat bodies of today are commonly assumed to have no future at all In this line of thinking a fat life is framed as failure and a fast track towards death itself Meanwhile the histories of modern fat existence communities activists and artists have been essentially unknown written out of origins and existence Most medical and cultural evaluations of fat have rendered the fat body more and more visible and yet the lived experiences of fat people are continually erased At a moment when scholars from various disciplines are contending with the question of who has a future this book explores the relationship between fat experience and the social construction of time The works in this volume draw from fields as diverse as social geography women and gender studies critical race theory disability studies cultural studies visual art and craft social work communication studies and queer theory generating renewed understandings of the relationship between fatness and temporality The Future Is Fat reimagines understandings of time to allow for new expressions of fat experience The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Fat Studies An Interdisciplinary Journal of Body Weight and Society Reducing Saturated Fats in Foods G Talbot, 2011-04-19 The need to reduce saturated fat levels in food and the different ways of doing this are among the most important issues facing the food industry Reducing saturated fats in foods reviews the sources and effects of saturated fats in food and the ways in which the food industry can effectively reduce saturates Part one covers the functional and nutritional aspects of saturated fats in foods with chapters covering sources of dietary saturated fats their functional attributes and the health issues associated with saturated fatty acids Part two focuses on reducing saturated fats through food reformulation concentrating on both the technologies used and the food categories affected Chapters cover topics such as emulsion technology for reduction of saturated fats and the application of diacylglycerol oils as well as different food categories including milk and dairy products processed meats fried foods and pastry products With its distinguished editor and international team of contributors Reducing saturated fats in foods is an essential reference for oils and fats processors and food manufacturers as well as those researching saturated fats in the academic sector Reviews the sources and effects of saturated fats in food and the ways in which the food industry can effectively reduce saturates Explores the functional and nutritional aspects of saturated fats in foods covering sources of dietary saturated fats and their functional attributes Focuses on reducing saturated fats through food reformulation concentrating on both the technologies used and the food categories affected

Queer Futures Elahe Haschemi Yekani, Eveline Kilian, Beatrice Michaelis, 2016-04-15 Following debates surrounding the anti social turn in queer theory in recent years there has been a renewed interest in the role of activism the limits of the political and the question of normativity and ethics Queer Futures engages with these concerns exploring issues of complicity and agency with a central focus on the material and economic as well as philosophical dimensions of sexual politics Presenting some of the latest research in queer theory this book draws together diverse perspectives to shed light on possible queer futures when different affective temporal and local contexts are brought into play As such it will appeal to scholars of cultural political literary and social theory as well as those with interests in gender and sexuality activism and queer theory
