Regulation and Regulators after Global Financial Crises Aleksandra Jordanoska, 2024-12-31 This book provides an original theoretically and empirically grounded analysis of regulatory enforcement activism in post crisis periods and the ensuing regulatory interactions. It critically addresses the more regulation enforcement agenda relating to financial misconduct in the aftermath of the 2008 financial crisis showing how misconduct was constructed through the enforcement policies and practices of the powerful UK financial conduct regulator and its interactions with the subjects of enforcement proceedings and their legal representatives during a tumultuous time in the financial markets. Drawing from interviews with regulators, professional intermediaries and markets participants, documentary analysis of enforcement decisions and speeches and observations, the volume adopts an interdisciplinary approach grounded in social constructivist perspectives on compliance and deviance, regulation theory and socio legal research. Through a multi dimensional analytical framework of regulatory enforcement activism that links shifts in regulatory policymaking, experimentations with legal powers in information gathering, legal and extra legal penalties and individual accountability and the use of enforcement tools in micro level interactions, the book documents a more interventionist and punitive post crisis enforcement agenda. The findings challenge current thinking in the scandal and reform literature. The work argues that despite the increased focus on enforcement, it is not necessarily the case that the power has tilted more towards the regulator. This fine grained socio legal enquiry makes innovative and timely theoretical contributions to our understanding of the limitations of regulatory activism and regulatory control, regulatory relationships, the governance of financial markets and broader thinking on regulating corporations and the individuals within them. It will appeal to academics, researchers, regulators and policymakers working in regulation across law, criminology, sociology and politics.

Regulating the Crypto Economy Iris H-Y Chiu, 2021-10-21 This book focuses on the building of a crypto economy as an alternative economic space and discusses how the crypto economy should be governed. The crypto economy is examined in its productive and financialised aspects in order to distil the need for governance in this economic space. The author argues that it is imperative for regulatory policy to develop the economic governance of the blockchain based business model in order to facilitate economic mobilisation and wealth creation. The regulatory framework should cater for a new and unique enterprise organisational law and the fund raising and financing of blockchain based development projects. Such a regulatory framework is crucially enabling in nature and consistent with the tenets of regulatory capitalism. Further, the book acknowledges the rising importance of private monetary orders in the crypto economy and native payment systems that do not rely on conventional institutions for value transfer A regulatory blueprint is proposed for governing such monetary orders as commons governance The rise of Decentralised Finance and other financial innovations in the crypto economy are also discussed and the book suggests a framework for regulatory consideration in this dynamic landscape in order to meet a balance of public interest objectives and private interests By setting out a reform agenda in relation to economic and financial governance in the crypto economy this forward looking work argues for the extension of regulatory capitalism to this perceived wild west of an alternative economic space It advances the message that an innovative regulatory agenda is needed to account for the economically disruptive and technologically transformative developments brought about by the crypto economy
