Tracks on the Trail Dana Gorzelany-Mostak,2023-10-23 From Bill Clinton playing his saxophone on The Arsenio Hall Show to Barack Obama referencing Jay Z s song Dirt Off Your Shoulder politicians have used music not only to construct their personal presidential identities but to create the broader identity of the American presidency Through music candidates can appear relatable show cultural competency communicate values and ideas or connect with a specific constituency On a less explicit level episodes such as Clinton s sax playing and Obama s shoulder brush operate as aural and visual articulations of race and racial identity But why do candidates choose to engage with race in this manner And why do supporters and detractors on YouTube and the

Twittersphere similarly engage with race when they create music videos or remixes in homage to their favorite candidates With Barack Obama Ben Carson Kamala Harris and Donald Trump as case studies Tracks on the Trail Popular Music Race and the US Presidency sheds light on the factors that motivate candidates and constituents alike to articulate race through music on the campaign trail and shows how the racialization of sound intersects with other markers of difference and ultimately shapes the public discourse surrounding candidates popular music and the meanings attached to race in the 21st century Gorzelany Mostak explores musical engagement broadly including official music in the form of candidate playlists and launch event setlists as well as unofficial music in the form of newly composed campaign songs mashups parodies and remixes

Cold War Country Joseph M. Thompson, 2024-03-22 Country music maintains a special decades long relationship to American military life but these ties didn't just happen This readable history reveals how country music's Nashville based business leaders on Music Row created partnerships with the Pentagon to sell their audiences on military service while selling the music to servicemembers Beginning in the 1950s the military flooded armed forces airwaves with the music hosted tour dates at bases around the world and drew on artists from Johnny Cash to Lee Greenwood to support recruitment programs Over the last half of the twentieth century the close connections between the Defense Department and Music Row gave an economic boost to the white dominated sounds of country while marginalizing Black artists and fueling divisions over the meaning of patriotism This story is filled with familiar stars like Roy Acuff Elvis Presley and George Strait as well as lesser known figures industry executives who worked the halls of Congress country artists who dissented from the stereotypically patriotic trappings of the genre and more Joseph M Thompson argues convincingly that the relationship between Music Row and the Pentagon helped shape not only the evolution of popular music but also race relations partisanship and images of the United States abroad
