

The background of the cover is a complex abstract composition. It features a central, blurred, light-colored figure that appears to be in motion, possibly a dancer or a person in a dynamic pose. This figure is set against a dark background filled with a dense network of thin, light-colored lines that radiate from various points, creating a sense of depth and movement. In the lower-left corner, there is a large, stylized star or sunburst shape composed of many small triangles. A diagonal band of alternating light and dark rectangular blocks cuts across the middle of the image, adding to the geometric complexity.

Electronic Shadows The Art Of Tina Keane:

Electronic Shadows Richard Dyer, Tina Keane, Jean Fisher, Peter Wollen, 2004 Tina Keane first came to prominence in the late 1970s with her performance work and involvement in setting up London feminist film collective Circles Since then she has become an internationally acclaimed artist working in a wide variety of media including video neon sculpture and installation Electronic Shadows is the first study of her work bringing together her diverse career and oeuvre in the context of a wider history of the visual arts During the 1980s and 90s Tina Keane developed her video work incorporating a strong decorative aesthetic with personal narratives building on her experimental film video and performance from the 1970s and early 80s Electronic Shadows explores the diversity of Keane's practice considering her relationship to and influence on contemporary video art and situating her films within a broader context of artist's film from the late 70s onwards With extensive illustrations this volume documents Keane's work and her wide influence on contemporary artists such as Tracey Emin Tim Noble and Sue Webster

Renegotiating the Body Kathy Battista, 2012-11-20 What makes art feminist art Although feminist artists do have a unique aesthetic there can be no essential feminist aesthetic argues Kathy Battista in this exciting new art history Domesticity the body its traces and sexuality have become prominent themes in contemporary feminist practice but where did these preoccupations begin and how did they come to signify a particular type of art Kathy Battista's re engagement with the founding generation of female practitioners centres on 1970s London as the cultural hub from which a new art practice arose Emphasising the importance of artists including Bobby Baker Anne Bean Catherine Elwes Rose English Alexis Hunter Tina Keane Hannah O'Shea Kate Walker and Silvia Ziranek and examining works such as Mary Kelly's Post Partum Document Judy Clark's 1973 exhibition Issues Carolee Schneemann's Meat Joy and Cosey Fanni Tutti's Prostitution shown in 1976 Kathy Battista investigates some of the most controversial and provocative art from the era This book not only deals with the famous art events but includes analysis of lesser known exhibitions and performances and explains why so much feminist art has been both marginalised in art history and grossly under represented in institutional archives and collections

Cinesonica Andy Birtwistle, 2021-06-15 Cinesonica sounding film and video explores previously neglected and under theorised aspects of film and video sound drawing on detailed case study analyses of Hollywood cinema art cinema animated cartoons and avant garde film and video Adopting an interdisciplinary approach to the study of the soundtrack and breaking away from the focus on narrative and signification that has tended to dominate the study of film sound the book examines the way in which sound's materiality figures within audiovisual experience Through a close examination of sound image relations in a range of film and video forms and genres including Warner Bros cartoons scratch video and artist's film and video Cinesonica recasts the film and video text as the meeting point of audio and visual materialities cultural practices and perceptual activity The interdisciplinary approach adopted by the book makes its discussion of sound of interest to those studying and working in a range of subject disciplines including film studies sound
