Eliezer Ben Yehuda and the Revival of Modern Hebrew Galila Whitmarsh,2009-11 The resurrection of ancient Hebrew and its transformation to a Modern Language is unparalleled in linguistic history Almost unaided and without precedent Eliezer Ben Yehuda 1858 1922 known as the father of spoken Hebrew initiated the revival of Classical Hebrew a language which for 2 000 years had not been spoken as a vernacular Affected by a time of national turmoil throughout Europe Ben Yehuda developed the idea that the key to Jewish national entity was the revival of the Jewish people on their ancestral soil via their ancestral language Hebrew While still in Europe he wrote about uniting the Jewish People using the Hebrew Language as a common tongue He felt that having their own language would be a unifying force for all Jews impeding future assimilation and ultimate annihilation This idea was furthered by his own immigration to the Holy Land and his work toward the revival of the Hebrew language and culture there The unprecedented success of the revival of Modern Hebrew will interest anyone who cares about language development and the impact one person can have as its ardent pioneer
