Blindness and Writing Heather Tilley, 2018 In this innovative and important study Heather Tilley examines the huge shifts that took place in the experience and conceptualisation of blindness during the nineteenth century and demonstrates how new writing technologies for blind people had transformative effects on literary culture Considering the ways in which visually impaired people used textual means to shape their own identities the book argues that blindness was also a significant trope through which writers reflected on the act of crafting literary form Supported by an illuminating range of archival material including unpublished letters from Wordsworth's circle early ophthalmologic texts embossed books and autobiographies this is a rich account of blind people's experience and reveals the close and often surprising personal engagement that canonical writers had with visual impairment Drawing on the insights of disability studies and cultural phenomenology Tilley highlights the importance of attending to embodied experience in the production and consumption of texts      2 letters from Elizabeth Barrett Browning, 1 [to Mr Chorley] and 1 to H. S. Boyd Elizabeth Barrett Browning, 1843      Time, Space, and Gender in the Nineteenth-Century British Diary R. Steinitz, 2011-10-24 Through close examinations of diaries diary publication and diaries in fiction this book explores how the diary's construction of time and space made it an invaluable and effective vehicle for the dominant discourses of the period it also explains how the genre evolved into the feminine emotive private form we continue to privilege today      The Formation of the Victorian Literary Profession Richard Salmon, 2013-06-27 Richard Salmon provides an original account of the formation of the literary profession during the late Romantic and early Victorian periods Focusing on the representation of authors in narrative and iconographic texts including novels biographies sketches and portrait galleries Salmon traces the emergence of authorship as a new form of professional identity from the 1820s to the 1850s Many first generation Victorian writers including Carlyle Dickens Thackeray Martineau and Barrett Browning contributed to contemporary debates on the Dignity of Literature professional heroism and the cultural visibility of the man of letters This study combines a broad mapping of the early Victorian literary field with detailed readings of major texts The book argues that the key model of professional development within this period is embodied in the narrative form of literary apprenticeship which inspired such celebrated works as David Copperfield and Aurora Leigh and that its formative process is the disenchantment of the author

Feminist Criticism and Social Change (RLE Feminist Theory) Deborah Rosenfelt, Judith Newton, 2013-05-20 This lively and controversial collection of essays sets out to theorize and practice a materialist feminist criticism of literature and culture Such a criticism is based on the view that the material conditions in which men and women live are central to an understanding of culture and society It emphasises the relation of gender to other categories of analysis such as class and race and considers the connection between ideology and cultural practice and the ways in which all relations of power change with changing social and economic conditions By presenting a wide range of work by major feminist scholars this anthology in effect defines as well as illustrates the materialist feminist tendency in current literary criticism The essays in the first part of the book examine race ideology and the literary canon and explore the ways in which other critical discourse such as those of deconstruction and French feminism might be useful to a feminist and materialist criticism The second part of the book contains examples of such criticism in practice with studies of individual works writers and ideas An introduction by the editors situates the collected essays in relation both to one another and to a shared materialist feminist project Feminist Criticism and Social Change demonstrates the important contribution of materialist feminist criticism to our understanding of literature and society and fulfils a crucial need among those concerned with gender and its relation to criticism

William Wordsworth Stephen Gill, 2020-04-08 In this second edition of William Wordsworth A Life Stephen Gill draws on knowledge of the poet's creative practices and his reputation and influence in his life time and beyond Refusing to treat the poet's later years as of little interest this biography presents a narrative of the whole of Wordsworth's long life 1770 to 1850 tracing the development from the adventurous youth who alone of the great Romantic poets saw life in revolutionary France to the old man who became Queen Victoria's

Poet Laureate The various phases of Wordsworth's life are explored with a not uncritical sympathy the narrative brings out the courage he and his wife and family were called upon to show as they crafted the life they wanted to lead While the emphasis is on Wordsworth the writer the personal relationships that nourished his creativity are fully treated as are the historical circumstances that affected the production of his poetry Wordsworth it is widely believed valued poetic spontaneity He did but he also took pains over every detail of the process of publication The foundation of this second edition of the biography remains as it was of the first a conviction that Wordsworth's poetry which has given pleasure and comfort to generations of readers in the past will continue to do so in the years to come
