Elusive Culture Schooling Race Identity In Global Times:

Critical Approaches Toward a Cosmopolitan Education Sandra R. Schecter, Carl E. James, 2021-08-29 This book aims to reconceptualize teaching and learning in spaces with diverse populations of young people Chapters focus on the schooling experiences and social and cultural adaptation issues of individuals who through the meaning that they assign to their lived experiences ascribe to multiple identity qualifiers Contributors explore the impact of this cosmopolitan awareness on students educators and educational institutions presenting issues such as curricular concerns around civic engagement individual subjectivity versus social identity and the convergence of context specific policy and teaching environments on global dynamics in education reform An emphasis on this understanding promises to better equip educators and policy makers to plan instructional approaches and devise pedagogic resources that serve the needs and career aspirations of an expanding cohort of multifaceted learners     Exploring Social Justice Elizabeth Gould, June Countryman, Charlene

Morton, Leslie Stewart Rose, 2009-09-15 The twenty seven contributors to this book are professors teachers and students representing all parts of Canada as well as the USA Brazil Norway Finland and South Africa They wrestle with the meaning and practice of social justice in and through music education     Conceptions of Culture Thomas E. Wren, 2012-07-16 The concept of culture stands clearly but unsteadily at the heart of multicultural education This book provides a systematic in depth understanding of the role that culture plays in the massive literature of multicultural education as multiple and antithetical definitions of culture exist The book also shows multicultural educators how to discern the definition used in any particular book or article Thomas Wren deploys methods and concepts from philosophy and the social sciences to provide an analytic framework within which the history and current state of culture theory can be understood both for its own sake and for its educational significance Although the book is full of theory it is not a theoretical book in the usual sense It is a road map accompanied by the related theoretical information and tools that graduate students and faculty need to 1 navigate the complex terrain of multicultural education literature 2 apply the book s analytical framework to that literature and to their own future practice and 3 anticipate the social changes and accompanying conceptual changes in our notions of culture that are now occurring as part of the cultural hybridity of today s students     War or Common Cause? Kimberly

Anderson, 2009-01-01 This book on bilingual education policy represents a multidimensional and longitudinal study of policy processes as they play out on the ground a single school in Los Angeles and over time both within the same school and also within the state of Georgia In order to reconstruct this complex policy process Anderson impressively marshals a great variety of forms of discourse Most of this discourse of course comes from overheard discussions and spontaneous interviews conducted at a particular school the voices of teachers and administrators Such discourse forms the heart of her ethnographic findings Yet Anderson also brings an ethnographer s eye to national and regional debates as they are conducted and represented in different forms of media especially newspapers and magazines She then uses the key theoretical concept of articulation to conceptually link these media representations with local school discourse The result is an illuminating account of how everyday debates at a particular school and media debates occurring more broadly mutually inform one another

Religion in Multicultural Education Farideh Salili, Rumjahn Hoosain, 2006-05-01 The National Association for Multicultural Education in Washington D C listed a number of issues that the school curriculum should address with reference to multicultural education including racism sexism classism linguisticism ablism ageism heterosexism and religious intolerance It is noteworthy that of all these issues religion is about the only one that throughout history people are willing to die for although whether what is at issue is really religion or other things such as territory is another matter It is also interesting that all the others have isms in their names but religious issues are characterized by intolerance Perhaps we should try to understand this intolerance and look at what steps might help to alleviate it However while intolerance might seem a simple thing understanding what is behind it and how it plays such a crucial role in religion requires what we refer to in the Introduction chapter as a multifaceted approach at multiple levels It is not enough just to try to dispel stereotypes of followers of other religions or to point out commonalities in world religions We should for example try to understand and appreciate how adherents of other religions try to answer questions regarding their adaptation to the contemporary environment It is through understanding how different religions coexist side by side at various levels that we truly come to learn about religion in multicultural education

Adolescents and Online Fan Fiction Rebecca W. Black, 2008 This book presents an ethnographic and discourse analytic study of a highly popular online fan fiction writing space Its analyses highlight the range of sophisticated literacy practices that English language learning youth engage in through their fan related activities Discussion also centers on how opportunities for language socialization literacy and identity development converge and diverge between academic settings and informal learning contexts such as fan fiction sites

Students' Identities and Literacy Learning Sarah J. McCarthey, Ira, 2013-09-13 Educators will find in this book an opportunity to examine the multiple dynamic identities of the students they instruct and to consider the ways in which all teachers and students are shaped by their social and cultural settings The volume is the first to examine theories of identity and elementary literacy practices by presenting data in a teacher friendly format The chapters highlight the influences of school and to some extent home contexts on students identities as readers and writers and give numerous implications for practice McCarthey collected data from three sites in which teachers implemented writing workshop and literature based instruction in grades 3 6 This book focuses on the students in these sites who were from diverse cultural and social backgrounds By providing information about the contexts in which students read and wrote McCarthey demonstrates the power of the teacher student relationship the importance of the classroom curriculum and the influence of parents and peers on students Published by International Reading Association

Community Fieldwork in Teacher Education Heidi L Hallman, Melanie Burdick, 2015-04-10 In teacher education field work in community based spaces including foster homes and programs for homeless youth is frequently contrasted with traditional field experiences in classroom settings where beginning teachers are immediately introduced to teacher centered models of instruction This volume works against such a model presenting a counter narrative of new teachers understanding of the act of teaching By exploring their work with at risk youth in community based sites the authors uncover how non traditional spaces for teaching and learning have the potential to open new doors for reimagining the teaching act and teacher identity This volume examines how prospective teachers have used writing within unconventional spaces as catalysts for considering what it means to become a teacher as well as how the work of teaching can be conceptualized It unites the practical aspects of field work and with theoretical conceptions of teaching and envisions how the work and the definition of teaching can be broadened

Marking the "Invisible" Andrea M. Hawkman, Sarah B. Shear, 2020-04-01 Substantial research has been put forth calling for the field of social studies education to engage in work dealing with the influence of race and racism within education and society Branch 2003 Chandler 2015 Chandler Husband 2010 King Ladson Billings 2003 Ooka Pang Rivera Ladson Billings 2003 Woyshner Bohan 2012 In order to challenge the presence of racism within social studies research must attend to the control that whiteness and white supremacy maintain within the field This edited volume builds from these previous works to take on whiteness and white supremacy directly in social studies education In Marking the Invisible editors assemble original contributions from scholars working to expose whiteness and disrupt white supremacy in the field of social studies education We argue for an articulation of whiteness within the field of social studies education in pursuit of directly challenging its influences on teaching learning and research Across 27 chapters authors call out the strategies deployed by white supremacy and acknowledge the depths by which it is used to control manipulate confine and define identities communities citizenships and historical narratives This edited volume promotes the reshaping of social studies education to support the histories experiences and lives of Students and Teachers of Color challenge settler colonialism and color evasiveness develop racial literacy and promote justice oriented teaching and learning Praise for Marking the Invisible As the theorization of race and racism continues to gain traction in social studies education this volume offers a much needed foundational grounding for the field From the foreword to the epilogue Marking the Invisible foregrounds conversations of whiteness in notions of supremacy dominance and rage The chapters offer an opportunity for social studies educators to position critical theories of race such as critical race theory intersectionality and settler colonialism at the forefront of critical examinations of whiteness Any social studies educator researcher concerned with the theorization or teaching of race should engage with this text in their work Christopher L Busey University of Florida

Color in the Classroom Zoe Burkholder, 2011-10-05 Between the turn of the twentieth century and the Brown v Board of Education decision in 1954 the way that American schools taught about race changed dramatically This transformation was engineered by the nation s most prominent anthropologists including Franz Boas Ruth Benedict and Margaret Mead during World War II Inspired by scientific racism in Nazi Germany

these activist scholars decided that the best way to fight racial prejudice was to teach what they saw as the truth about race in the institution that had the power to do the most good American schools Anthropologists created lesson plans lectures courses and pamphlets designed to revise what they called the race concept in American education They believed that if teachers presented race in scientific and egalitarian terms conveying human diversity as learned habits of culture rather than innate characteristics American citizens would become less racist Although nearly forgotten today this educational reform movement represents an important component of early civil rights activism that emerged alongside the domestic and global tensions of wartime Drawing on hundreds of first hand accounts written by teachers nationwide Zo Burkholder traces the influence of this anthropological activism on the way that teachers understood spoke and taught about race She explains how and why teachers readily understood certain theoretical concepts such as the division of race into three main categories while they struggled to make sense of more complex models of cultural diversity and structural inequality As they translated theories into practice teachers crafted an educational discourse on race that differed significantly from the definition of race produced by scientists at mid century Schoolteachers and their approach to race were put into the spotlight with the Brown v Board of Education case but the belief that racially integrated schools would eradicate racism in the next generation and eliminate the need for discussion of racial inequality long predated this Discussions of race in the classroom were silenced during the early Cold War until a new generation of antiracist multicultural educators emerged in the 1970s

Transformative Change through Educational Leadership Kenneth H. MacKinnon, 2024-08-02 Transformative Change through Educational Leadership explores educational leadership with an emphasis on social justice This text invites those in positions of leadership to re imagine institutional standards responsibilities and leadership methodology through an equity focused anti oppressive and anti colonial lens Diverse leaders and education experts from across Canada share their lived experiences stories models and wonderings of the challenges that educational leaders face including Indigenous queer and Afrocentric perspectives The chapters delve into the critical question of what it takes to be a successful leader and offer practical strategies on various aspects of the school leader role such as building relationships centring student needs connecting with the community and parents and caregivers and supporting wellness and well being This essential volume is well suited for undergraduate and graduate courses on educational leadership including courses focusing on diversity in leadership leading for social justice principles and processes of educational leadership and education leadership for transformation

Problem Girls Gwynedd Lloyd, 2013-01-11 This book explores the issues surrounding girls and young women who are seen as troubled or troublesome It sets out to further our understanding of young women who face or cause difficulties offering a diverse and complex view Recognising the increasing importance of schools as the primary source of support for girls and young women the chapters discuss the implications for practice of teachers and other professionals covering important issues like girls classroom behaviour mental health problems violence and sexuality exclusion and community offences By presenting a range of theoretical perspectives readers of this book will be encouraged to reflect on what underpins the actions of girls and young women and take their voices seriously It will be essential reading for practitioners and professionals in Education as well as students and academics in the field Schools and Society Jeanne H. Ballantine, Joan Z. Spade, 2008 Presents the most recent theories research terms concepts ideas and histories on educational leadership and school administration as taught in preparation programs and practiced in schools and colleges today

Portraits of Literacy Across Families, Communities, and Schools Jim Anderson, Maureen Kendrick, Theresa Rogers, Suzanne Smythe, 2005-05-06 Designed to stimulate debate and critical thinking and to draw readers attention to the ideological nature of literacy education across a broad range of literacy contexts this book crosses traditional boundaries between the study of family community and school literacies to offer a unique global perspective on multiple literacies from theory to case studies of various settings These examples suggest ways that literacy practices should be created by simultaneously shaping relationships and identity and by privileging particular literacy practices in particular situations The dialogue within the book among chapter authors writing across traditionally distinct fields highlights the interconnections among diverse literacy sites and stimulates the pursuit of a more integrated and interdisciplinary approach to literacy education The critical and dialogic approach serves to challenge and extend many conventional notions surrounding literacy education in communities schools and families Portraits of Literacy Across Families Communities and Schools Intersections and Tensions is particularly relevant for scholars and students in the area of literacy broadly speaking including family literacy community literacy adult literacy critical language studies multiliteracies youth literacy English as a second language language and social policy and global literacy Additionally the inclusion of studies derived from a variety of research methods and designs makes this is a useful text in research methodology courses that aim to present and analyze real life examples of literacy research designs and methods Doing Visual Research with Children and Young People Pat Thomson, 2009-05-07 This book explores the methodological ethical representational and theoretical issues surrounding image based research with children and young people Curriculum Studies Handbook - The Next Moment Erik Malewski, 2009-09-10 What comes after the reconceptualization of curriculum studies What is the contribution of the next wave of curriculum scholars Comprehensive and on the cutting edge this Handbook speaks to these questions and extends the conversation on present and future directions in curriculum studies through the work of twenty four newer scholars who explore each in their own unique ways the present moment in curriculum studies To contextualize the work of this up and coming generation each chapter is paired with a shorter response by a well known scholar in the field provoking an intra inter generational exchange that illuminates both historical trajectories and upcoming moments From theorizing at the crossroads of feminist thought and post colonialism to new perspectives that include critical race currere queer southern studies Black feminist cultural analysis post structural policy studies spiritual ecology and East West international philosophies present and future directions in the

U S American field are revealed      Continuing Perspectives on the Black Diaspora Aubrey W. Bonnett, Calvin B. Holder, 2009-07-16 Continuing Perspectives on the Black Diaspora is a response to a 1990 publication that studied the persistence and resilience of black African diasporic populations in the Caribbean Latin America North America and the United Kingdom In that book the authors used the themes of persistence and resilience to interrogate the social processes and the coping repertoire of these diasporic populations This volume investigates the often overlooked African presence in Asia Researchers sought to determine how many of these diasporic populations have fared in the context of political independence globalization economic marginalization and the presence of ethnic conflict and institutional racism even with positive class formations and declining significance of race in other geographical areas Prescriptions for the continued viability of these diasporic populations are provided India and China are undergoing a global renaissance emerging as potentially significant economic political and cultural actors on the world scene Meanwhile ancestral Africa is still socially politically and economically fragmented thereby causing a new migratory push to North America and Europe      Culture and Public Relations Krishnamurthy Sriramesh, Dejan Vercic, 2012-05-04 Culture and Public Relations explores the impact of culture societal and organizational through the global lens of public relations Structuring the volume around three themes culture as an environment for public relations the culture of PR globally and the impact of PR on culture the editors bring together compelling discussions on such questions as how spirituality religion and culture have affected public relations and how public relations culture has been affected by the corporate cultures of business enterprises Additionally the volume provides studies on the effect of culture on public relations practice in specific countries With contributors from Europe Asia Australia and North America this collection offers international perspectives on a topic that is growing increasingly important in public relations study and practice It is required reading for scholars researchers and students in public relations and also has much to offer the business discipline for those seeking to integrate culture and communication to their practices

Young People, Popular Culture and Education Chris Richards, 2011-02-17      Ethical Issues in Literacy Research Carole S. Rhodes, Kenneth J. Weiss, 2013-04-12 Literacy educators and researchers at all stages of their careers face ethical issues whenever they embark on research studies In this book experienced literacy researchers identify and address multi faceted multi dimensional ethical issues related to conducting studies in school home community and virtual settings and share actions taken when faced with ethical dilemmas in their own investigations Each chapter addresses a specific literacy research ethical issue Part I focuses on conducting research in settings such as schools or literacy clinics Part Two addresses research with pre service teachers in college university and school settings Part Three looks at research in virtual worlds and online environments Pedagogical features in each chapter engage readers in making connections between what they are reading and their own teaching and learning situations A vignette to help readers understand the issue pre reading questions background information drawn from current research literature suggested engagement activities chapter summary
