Educating Special Learners Education:

Strengths-Based Approaches to Educating All Learners with Disabilities Michael L. Wehmeyer, 2019-03-08

Michael Wehmeyer a leading scholar with over four decades of experience as a teacher teacher educator researcher and advocate provides a cogent but accessible account of the evolution of special education Offering a compelling vision of where the field should be headed in the next decade he notes how the digital revolution has made it possible for all learners to gain access to content and instruction This text focuses on the need to consider how young people with and without disabilities learn and the importance of creating personalizable education as strengths based approaches to disability move education away from diagnosis and remediation to schoolwide instruction for all students This book is not written as a criticism of traditional special education models but instead examines the big ideas for going beyond special education that can improve outcomes for learners with disabilities and prepare them for the 21st century world Book Features Provides a framework for reconceptualizing how students with disabilities are educated Content aligns with changing contexts and innovations in education including personalizable education and self determined learning Identifies current well established practices that can facilitate efforts to address 21st century learning needs for learners with disabilities Written in a conversational voice for a broad audience to stimulate consideration of future directions for special education Mainstream or Special? Josephine

Jenkinson, 2012-10-02 There remains some controversy about how best to meet the needs of pupils with special educational needs Should they be educated in mainstream schools alongside their peers or does this mean that specialist help and resources are denied to them This book explores in depth the ways in which this problem has been tackled in Australia the UK and Canada It looks at the major issues which have been raised and the types of provisions and resourcing which have been offered and then goes on to provide a vision of how future education provision might look for pupils with special educational needs
