Education For Freedom:

Freedom of Choice in Education Virgil C. Blum, 1958 A roman Catholic priest explains his view that all students should be able to attend private schools of their own choosing and that this should be effected by means of government subsidy to the students or their parents      On education and freedom Harold Taylor, 1954      Education for Freedom Robert Maynard Hutchins, 1943      Education for Freedom and Responsibility Edmund Ezra Day, 1952      On Education and Freedom Harold Taylor, 1967-04      Education for Freedom and World Understanding Conference on the ideals of american freedom and the international dimensions of education (1962. Washington), 1962      The Dialectic of Freedom Maxine Greene, 1988 Special 2018 Edition From the new Introduction by Michelle Fine Graduate Center CUNY Why now you may ask should I return to a book written in 1988 Because in Maxine s words When freedom is the question it is always time to begin In The Dialectic of Freedom Maxine Greene argues that freedom must be achieved through continuing resistance to the forces that limit condition determine and too frequently oppress Examining the interrelationship between freedom possibility and imagination in American education Greene taps the fields of philosophy history educational theory and literature in order to discuss the many struggles that have characterized Americans quests for freedom in the midst of what is conceived to be a free society Accounts of the lives of women immigrants and minority groups highlight the ways in which Americans have gone in search of openings in their lived situations learned to look at things as if they could be otherwise and taken action on what they found Greene presents a unique overview of American concepts and images of freedom from Jefferson s time to the present She examines the ways in which the disenfranchised have historically understood and acted on their freedom or lack of it in dealing with perceived and real obstacles to expression and empowerment Strong emphasis is placed on the focal role of the arts and art experience in releasing human imagination and enabling the young to reach toward their vision of the possible The author concludes with suggestions for approaches to teaching and learning that can provoke both educators and students to take initiatives to transcend limits and to pursue freedom not in solitude but in reciprocity with others not in privacy but in a public space      Freedom to Learn Carl Ransom Rogers, 1969 Focuses on the real problems of contemporary man family stability crime personal growth peace the good life Poses vital foundation questions Approaches science as a human concern not one of rigid rules and approved procedures Cites defects in present methods of educating scientists Deals with the question of human values in science      Teach Freedom Charles M. Payne, Carol Sills Strickland, 2008-04-12 The self conscious use of education as an instrument of liberation among African Americans is exactly as old as education among African Americans This dynamic anthology is about those forms of education intended to help people think more critically about the social forces shaping their lives and think more confidently about their ability to react against those forces Featuring articles by educator activists this collection explores the largely forgotten history of attempts by African Americans to use education as a tool of collective liberation Together these contributions explore the variety of forms those attempts have taken from the shadow of slavery to the contradictions of hip hop Contributors address Lessons from the Past and discuss Citizenship Schools in the South Ella Baker and the Harlem Y Mississippi Freedom Schools and Black Panther Liberation Schools Contemporary models are covered as well demonstrating the depth and tenacity of the tradition in such efforts as the Freedom Schools established by the Children s Defense Fund Education for Freedom Jean-Louis Allard,1982 Education for Freedom Alvin Christian Eurich,1943 Freedom for Education John Fentress Gardner,1976 Cultural Action for Freedom Paulo Freire,1970 Educational Freedom in Urban America David F. race theory in the classroom it has become crystal clear that America's schools aren't working for America's students and parents No one knows this better than Betsy DeVos Long before she was tapped by President Trump to serve as secretary of education DeVos established herself as one of the country's most influential advocates for education reform from school choice and charter schools to protecting free speech on campus She's unflinching in standing up to the powerful interests who control and benefit from the status quo in education which is why the unions the media and the radical left made her public enemy number one Now DeVos is ready to tell her side of the story after years of being vilified by the radical left for championing common sense conservative reforms in America's schools In Hostages No More DeVos unleashes her candid thoughts about working in the Trump administration recounts her battles over the decades to put students first hits back at woke curricula in our schools and details the reforms America must pursue to fix its long and badly broken education system And she has stories to tell DeVos offers blunt insights on the people and politics that stand in the way of fixing our schools For students families and concerned citizens DeVos shares a roadmap for reclaiming education and securing the futures of our kids and America
