Education, Management, and Participation Sherry Keith, Robert Henriques Girling, 1991 New Directions in Educational Leadership Paul Harling, 2018-05-11 Originally published in 1984 The argument of this book is that the preceding 12 to 15 years saw significant changes in educationalists understanding and application of the concepts of leadership and because of these changes two things happened One the relationship between participants changed and two policy and practice also changed The papers in this collection have been specially commissioned or collected together with this thesis in mind Each of them examines leadership with special reference to one or more aspects sectors roles or interests within the educational system of England and Wales The History of Educational Administration Viewed Through Its Textbooks Thomas E. International Handbook of Educational Leadership and Administration Kenneth A. Leithwood, Judith Chapman, P. Corson, P. Hallinger, Ann Hart, 2012-12-06 EDITORS This introduction to the International Handbook of Educational Leadership and Administration describes some of the motivation for developing the book and several assumptions on which is based much of the work represented in its 31 chapters A synopsis of the contents of those chapters is also provided SOME KEY ASSUMPTIONS It is sometimes suggested that the search for an adequate understanding of leadership is doomed to fail After all there is little evidence of agreement about the concept in spite of prodigious efforts dating back hundreds if not thousands of years Such a view is captured for example in Bennis observation that Of all the hazy and confounding areas in social psychology leadership theory undoubtedly contends for top nomination Probably more has been written and less is known about leadership than any other topic in the behavioural sciences 1959 page 259 We do not find this state of affairs discouraging nor entirely accurate and of course it did not prevent Bennis from proceeding either One reason for our desire to continue in the face of such discouraging words is that a great deal of leadership research aspires to develop a general theory a theory which applies to all or most domains of organized human activity This aspiration inevitably produces decontextualized and therefore abstract categories of practice Howard Gardner s 1995 depiction of leadership as story telling is a case in point

Educational Administration Judith Chapman, 2020-08-04 Both the theory and practice of educational administration have undergone major changes in recent years There is now more theoretical diversity in the field than at any other time with influences from traditional and post positivist science subjectivism ethics critical theory and cultural studies Similarly social political and economic factors have brought about new approaches to practice Schools administration in particular is increasingly being dominated by decentralization and pressures for accountability on curriculum and educational outcomes Educational Administration is the first Australian text to offer a comprehensive survey of theory context and practice It includes chapters from leading Australian scholars such as Richard Bates Hedley Beare Brian Caldwell Gabriele Lakowski and Fazal Rizvi
