

DECISION-MAKING SKILLS

DEFINITION

Decision-making is the process of selecting a course of action among several available options. It involves evaluating and analyzing the benefits and risks of each choice. This cognitive process is vital for problem-solving, planning, and achieving desired outcomes. Effective decision-making often requires gathering information and assessing potential impacts.

EXAMPLES

- Critical Thinking: This aids decision-making by allowing you to analyze, evaluate, and interpret information objectively, leading to more informed choices.
- Cost-Benefit Analysis: This assists in decision-making by quantifying and comparing the anticipated costs and benefits of an action.

Education A Time For Decisions:

The Role of Leaders in Educational Decision-Making Nancy H. Matthews, 2023-07-21 This book presents insights into the experiences and perspectives of educators in formal positions of leadership involved in decision making processes in an education system Drawing on qualitative research conducted in the New Brunswick education system the author identifies factors in the decision making process which influence whether or not a decision is implemented Probing what is required for effective decision making defined as decision making that results in implementation the book examines not only the role of formal educational leaders of schools administrators but also the roles played by district and department of education formal leaders It uses five central themes that surfaced from research to develop a novel leadership model for ensuring implantation of decisions These include knowledge and skill collaboration and communication balance of autonomy accountability and direction political and bureaucratic considerations and strong moral imperative The newfound model is presented in the form of antecedent steps to the decision making process Extending the literature by offering new empirically grounded insights for influencing the likelihood of implementation following a decision making process it will appeal to leaders scholars and students of educational leadership and reform

Fundamentals and Frontiers of Medical Education and Decision-Making Jordan Richard Scheonherr, Meghan McConnell, 2024-07-22

Fundamentals and Frontiers of Medical Education and Decision Making brings together international experts to consider the theoretical practical and sociocultural foundations of health professions education In this volume the authors review the foundational theories that have informed the early transition to competency based education Moving beyond these monolithic models the authors draw from learning and psychological sciences to provide a means to operationalize competencies The chapters cover fundamental topics including the transition from novices to experts the development of psychomotor skills in surgery the role of emotion and metacognition in decision making and how practitioners and laypeople represent and communicate health information Each section provides chapters that integrate and advance our understanding of health professions education and decision making Grounded in psychological science this book highlights the fundamental issues faced by healthcare professionals and the frontiers of learning and decision making It is important reading for a wide audience of healthcare professionals healthcare administrators as well as researchers in judgment and decision making

Higher Education, Place, and Career Development Rosie Alexander, 2024-11-21 Drawing connections between the findings of a research project following young graduates from the Scottish islands of Orkney and Shetland current international evidence and theoretical literature this book argues that understanding rural and island student transitions can expose the wider dynamics of place and mobility at play during student and early career experiences Highlighting the importance of a career perspective Rosie Alexander encourages readers to consider how career pathways develop across time and across transition points unsettling the notion of a straightforward transition through university into the workplace The book uncovers how student trajectories are developed through interweaving dynamics of relationships place and career routes and unpacks the implications for policymakers and practitioners It contends that a much greater spatial awareness is necessary to understand and support the educational and career pathways of higher education students This is a crucial read for higher education researchers policymakers and students interested in rurality as well as access to and transition from higher education Educational Research and Innovation Promoting Education Decision Makers' Use of Evidence in Flanders Shewbridge Claire, Köster Florian, 2021-11-22

The introduction of standardised tests in Flemish schools aims to generate regular reliable data for educators and policy makers At an early stage of development this report uses a research based framework to engage stakeholders in thinking about the opportunities standardised tests could bring for their work
