Education And Development Lessons From The Third World:

Education and Development Vincent D'Oyley, Adrian Blunt, Ray Barnhardt, 1994-01-01      Resources in Education, 1998      Education Reform and the Learning Crisis in Developing Countries Prema Clarke, 2022-09-15 Over three decades ago international donors declared that there was a learning crisis in developing countries In the years since large investments have been made towards education yet there has been an apparent relative lack of progress in student learning This book unpicks this disparity and explores the implications of evidence based donor programming for quality education It undertakes an in depth analysis of the interventions financed by the main donors in primary education such as infrastructure development provision of instructional material teacher training and community mobilization and argues that the research undertaken during this period was unable to provide answers The author outlines an alternative model for evidence generation that can assist in the design of relevant and targeted interventions for learning to ultimately inform and improve future education programmes Timely and radical this book is essential reading for researchers and students in the fields of education research and education reform      Globalisation and Education Policy Reform in Botswana Richard Tabulawa, 2023-07-21 This book uses the global local dialect approach to explicate education policy reform in Botswana and interrogates the practical effects of the various education policies on curriculum pedagogy and governance of the Botswana General Education system Considering the effect of three reform policies since Botswana's Independence in 1966 the book evaluates the performance of each of the policies and examines their consequences in terms of the interplay of global forces and domestic pressures The result of this interplay has been an education landscape that while reflecting globally circulating education discourses markedly differs from those same discourses The book argues that the State in Botswana has appropriated education policy to legitimate itself in times of crisis and that each policy has improved access to general education but collectively have failed to improve its quality making suggestions for how this can be improved in the future As the first book of its kind to delve into education in Botswana from a single authored critical lens the book will be a highly relevant reading for academics researchers and post graduate students of African education comparative education education policy and curriculum studies      Education Strategy in the Developing World Christopher S. Collins, Alexander W. Wiseman, 2012-03-06 Following the development of a Concept Note for the World Bank Education Strategy 2020 the World Bank engaged in a series of activities to garner feedback about the strategy In early 2011 a revised strategy was published Learning for All Investing in People's Knowledge and Skills to Promote Development This title deals with this topic      Lessons of Cross-national Comparison in Education David Phillips, 1992-01-01 This collection of articles is a contribution to the debate about two important questions in the study of comparative education What lessons can be learned from cross national studies of issues in education and What problems of comparative method do such studies have to address      Teaching and Learning in Context Richard Tabulawa, 2013 Since the 1990s sub Saharan Africa has experienced unprecedented attempts at reforming teacher and student classroom practices with a learner centred pedagogy regarded as an effective antidote to the prevalence of teacher centred didactic classroom practices Attempts at reform have been going on all over the continent In fact learner centred pedagogy has been described as one of the most pervasive educational ideas in contemporary sub Saharan Africa and elsewhere Research has revealed that the major attempts have largely failed mainly because teachers have not been able to adopt instructional innovations to technical problems This failure is also related to lack of resources and poor teacher training programmes which lead to poor teacher quality among others This book attempts to explain why pedagogical change has not occurred in spite of the much energy and resources that have been committed to such reforms The book also takes us inside what the author calls the socio cultural world of African classrooms to help us understand the reasons teachers dominate classroom life and rely disproportionately on didactic methods of teaching Its conceptual analyses capture the best of both the sociology and the anthropology of education in contexts of poverty as well as the politics of education The book concludes that a socio cultural approach should be the basis for developing culturally responsive indigenous pedagogies though these may or may not turn out to be in any way akin to constructivist learner centred pedagogies

Higher Education, Public Good and Markets Jandhyala B. G. Tilak, 2017-10-16 This book critically examines some of the major trends in the development of higher education It demonstrates how in the context of liberalisation globalisation and marketisation the crisis in higher education has assumed different dimensions in all advanced and emerging societies The author shows how the state tends to slowly withdraw from the responsibility of higher education including in the arena of policy making or simply adopts a policy of laissez faire of non involvement which helps in the rapid unbridled growth of private sector in higher education The notion of higher education as a public good is under serious contestation in current times The book argues for the need to resurrect the compelling nature of higher education along with its several implications for public policy and planning while providing a broad portrayal of global developments comparative perspectives and key lessons The volume will be of interest to scholars and researchers of education political science public policy and administration governance development studies economics and those working in the higher education sectors think tanks policymakers as well as NGOs

Research Handbook on Measuring Poverty and Deprivation Jacques Silber, 2023-03-02 Encompassing chapters that address both unidimensional and multidimensional poverty this timely Research Handbook explores all aspects of poverty and deprivation measurement not only detailing broad issues but also scrutinising specific domains and aspects of poverty such as health energy and housing Its succinct and highly focussed chapters written by a diverse range of authors employ a combination of theoretical and empirical methodologies to offer well rounded explorations of complex topics

Education and Disability in the Global South Nidhi Singal, Paul Lynch, Shruti Taneja Johansson, 2018-12-13 Education and Disability in the Global South brings together new and established researchers from a variety of disciplines to explore the complexities and dilemmas encountered in providing education to children and young people with disabilities in countries in South Asia and Africa Applying a range of methodological theoretical and conceptual frameworks across different levels of education systems from pre school to higher education the contributors examine not just the barriers but also the opportunities within the educational systems in order to make strong policy recommendations Together the chapters offer a comprehensive overview of a range of issues including a nuanced appreciation of the tensions between the local and global in relation to key developments in the field critiquing a globalized notion of inclusive education as well as proposing new methodological advancements in taking the research agenda forward Empirical insights are captured not just from the perspectives of educators but also through engaging with children and young people with disabilities who are uniquely powerful in providing insights for future developments

School Management and Effectiveness in Developing Countries Clive Harber, Lynn Davies, 2006-02-08 This book is quite different from existing Western books on school effectiveness It describes and analyses the way in which schools operate in developing countries and also tries to explain why they are as they are Examining them at three levels the macro the meso and the micro the authors use a theoretical framework that they have termed post bureaucracy The book has four interlinked sections First the authors examine the existing economic and theoretical contexts around school effectiveness including an analysis of the causes of economic crisis and its impact on school management In the second section the analysis of schools as bureaucratic facades is proposed The reality of school life from which any theory of school effectiveness must derive is illustrated by an ethnographic account of the job of the headteacher in developing countries The third section explores different ways to understand this reality operating on three levels global relationships national and community cultures and individual agency In the final section Haber and Davies draw these levels and realities together They argue for the democratization of schools as the only way forward for effective education for development

Reforms in Higher Education Keith Watson, Celia Modgil, Sohan Modgil, 1997-01-01 This text addresses the reforms in the financial and administrative structure of higher education government intervention in introducing new managerial techniques and quality audits and the implications of these changes for both academics and administrators It is one of a series of four volumes which look at the educational dilemmas facing governments professional educators and practising administrators in the current climate in education The issues are addressed from international and comparative perspectives

Open and Distance Learning in the Developing World Hilary Perraton, 2012-11-12 This revised and updated edition of Open and Distance Learning in the Developing World sets the expansion of distance education in the context of general educational change and explores its use for basic and non formal education schooling teacher training and higher education Engaging with a range of topics this comprehensive overview includes new material on non formal education mass communication approaches to education about HIV AIDS and recent literacy work in India South Africa and Zambia schooling new research projects in open schooling in Asia and subsaharan Africa and interactive radio instruction in South Africa the impact of new technology and globalisation learning delivered through the internet and mobile learning the political economy international agencies the role of private sector and funding With its critical appraisal of the facts and examination of data about effectiveness this book provides answers to problems and poses key questions for the consideration of policy makers educational practitioners and all professionals involved in implementing and delivering sustainable open and distance learning

Effects of Globalization on Education Systems and Development Macleans A. Geo-JaJa,Suzanne Majhanovich,2016-11-04 With its comprehensive coverage and quality this provocative book is concerned with the future of developing countries in Africa Asia and Latin America By providing in depth analysis of the economic social and educational challenges of emerging states it offers an alternative roadmap to development The authors in this collection substantiate the notion that emerging states often do not participate in policy choices related to their development when faced with universalization of curriculum and internationalization of education The authors make explicit the direct and indirect effects of globalization on educational systems social equity and the path of development In demonstrating the impact of neoliberalism or market based reforms on the developing world the authors show that education without human rights is vulnerable to negative forces of globalization and internationalization The message of the book is quite pessimistic about possibilities to widen the economic space or increase freedom unless development cooperation is made possible by Helping People Help Themselves as suggested by David Ellerman The authors note that in the past the issue of emerging states as an appendage to the world economy was a fundamental question related to colonialism but now has become a question of imperialism which needs to be examined when considering the current patterns of development

Teaching and Learning Strategies for Sustainable Development Enakshi Sengupta,Patrick Blessinger,Taisir Subhi Yamin,2020-05-27 This timely book explores the sustainable development goals how well universities have been able to integrate them into their curriculum and how universities can institutionalize the goals and sustainable development into their strategic plans and institutional culture

Global Education Policy and International Development Antoni Verger,Hulya K. Altinyelken,Mario Novelli,2013-03-28 Exploring the interplay between globalization education and international development this book surveys the impact of global education policies on local policy in developing countries With chapters written by leading international scholars drawing on a full range of theoretical perspectives and offering a diverse selection of case studies from Africa Asia and South America this book considers such topics as How are global education agendas and policies formed and implemented What is the impact of such policy priorities as public private partnerships child centred pedagogies and school based management What are the effects of political and economic globalization on educational reform and change How do mediating institutions affect the translation of global policies to particular educational contexts What are the limitations of globalised policy solutions and what problems do they encounter at local levels From students of education development and globalization to practitioners working in developing contexts this book is an important resource for those seeking to understand how global forces and local realities meet to shape education policy in the developing world      Teaching in Primary Schools in China and India Nirmala Rao, Emma Pearson, Kai-ming Cheng, Margaret Taplin, 2013 This book compares primary education in urban and rural China and India It focuses on how the sociocultural context including educational policy educators and parents beliefs and the conditions under which teaching and learning occur shape classroom pedagogy and determine children s attainment This in depth authentic comparative analysis of the two largest educational systems in the world is a must read for scholars interested in the teaching and learning in these two rapidly developing Asian cultures A common set of questions has been addressed in diverse contexts The empirical work on which this book is based is most impressive videotaping of mathematics and language lessons interviews with parents and educators questionnaires with parents teachers and children and tests of children s mathematics attainment and this done in 3 locations in China 3 in India and 12 schools in total      SADC Initiative in Education Policy Development, Planning, and Management Linda Chisholm, 1998      Higher Education in the Developing World David W. Chapman, Ann E. Austin, 2002-04-30 Identifies five critical issues with which higher education institutions in the developing world must grapple as they respond to changing external contexts offers examples of institutional responses to these issues and considers these within a systems perspective which recognizes that each response impacts how institutions handle other critical issues Half of the students enrolled in higher education worldwide live in developing countries Yet in many developing countries government and education leaders express serious concerns about the ability of their colleges and universities to effectively respond to the pressures posed by changing demographics new communication technologies shifts in national political environments and the increasing interconnectedness of national economies This book identifies five critical issues with which higher education institutions in the developing world must grapple as they respond to these changing contexts seeking a new balance in government university relationships coping with autonomy managing expansion while preserving equity raising quality and controlling costs addressing new pressures for accountability and supporting academic staff in new roles These papers offer examples of institutional responses and consider these within a systems perspective that recognizes that each response has a rippling effect impacting institutions responses to other critical issues Only as government and education leaders understand the interwoven nature of the problems now facing colleges and universities and the interconnections among the intended solutions they seek to implement can they offer effective leadership that strengthens the quality and improves the relevance of higher education in their countries      The Cambridge Handbook of Literacy David R. Olson, Nancy Torrance, 2009-02-16 This volume demonstrates how literacy is more than learning to read and write Literacy creates communities organizes personal and social lives makes possible civil society and the rule of law and underwrites the commitment of both modern and developing societies to universal education and ever higher levels of literate competence Everything that is involved in being and becoming literate is the concern of this interdisciplinary group of distinguished scholars
