

The background of the entire image is a tropical sunset scene. The sky is a vibrant orange and yellow, with a low sun on the horizon. In the foreground, a person is silhouetted against the bright light, sitting on a sandy beach and looking out at the ocean. The water reflects the warm colors of the sky. In the upper right corner, the fronds of a palm tree are visible, and in the lower right, a portion of a thatched roof is seen. The overall mood is romantic and serene.

Ein Meer Von Leidenschaft:

Humor and Irony in Nineteenth-century German Women's Writing Helen Chambers, 2007 Brings to light unsuspectedly rich sources of humor in the works of prominent nineteenth century women writers Nineteenth century German literature is seldom seen as rich in humor and irony and women's writing from that period is perhaps even less likely to be seen as possessing those qualities Yet since comedy is bound to societal norms and humor and irony are recognized weapons of the weak against authority what this innovative study reveals should not be surprising women writers found much to laugh at in a bourgeois age when social constraints particularly on women were tight Helen Chambers analyzes prose fiction by leading female writers of the day who prominently employ humor and irony Arguing that humor and irony involve cognitive and rational processes she highlights the inadequacy of binary theories of gender that classify the female as emotional and the male as rational Chambers focuses on nine women writers Annette von Droste Hülshoff Ida Hahn-Hahn Ottilie Wildermuth Helene Bielefeld Marie von Ebner-Eschenbach Ada Christen Clara Viebig Isolde Kurz and Ricarda Huch She uncovers a rich seam of unsuspected or forgotten variety identifies fresh avenues of approach and suggests a range of works that merit a place on university reading lists and attention in scholarly studies Helen Chambers is Professor of German at the University of St Andrews Scotland UK
