Expression And The Inner:

Expression and the Inner David H. Finkelstein, 2003-12-29 At least since Descartes philosophers have been interested in the special knowledge or authority we exhibit when we speak about our thoughts attitudes and feelings This book contends that contemporary philosophy of mind fails to account for this sort of knowledge or authority because it does not pay proper attention to the notion of expression

Combinatory Analysis Percy Alexander MacMahon, 1916

Hegel's Grammatical Ontology Jeffrey Reid, 2021-06-17 Reading The Phenomenology of Spirit through a linguistic lens Jeffrey Reid provides an original commentary on Hegel's most famous work Beginning with a close analysis of the preface where Hegel himself addresses the book's difficulty and explains his tortured language in terms of what he calls the speculative proposition Reid demonstrates how every form of consciousness discussed in The Phenomenology involves and reveals itself as a form of language Elucidating Hegel's speculative proposition which consists of the reversal of the roles of the subject and predicate in such a way that the copula of the proposition becomes the lively arena of dialogical ambiguity and hermeneutical openness this book offers new onto grammatical readings of every chapter of The Phenomenology Not only does this bring a new understanding to Hegel's foundational text but the linguistic approach further allows Reid to unpack its complexity by relating it to contemporary contexts that share the same language structures that we discover in Hegel Amongst many others this includes Hegel's account of sense certainty and the critique of the immediacy of consumer culture today

Identity and Image Jutta Vinzent, 2006-06-22 This book explores the image and identity of migr painters sculptors and graphic artists from Nazi Germany in Britain between 1933 and 1945 It focuses on a neglected field of Exile Studies that of exiled artists in Britain Methodologies used in this study have been developed by Exile Studies and History of Art but also by Postcolonialism scholars of which usually apply their ideas to the Afro Asian emigration of the second part of the twentieth century Thus this study represents methodologically a new way of looking at the emigration from Nazi Germany Identity and Image is divided into five chapters After an introductory Chapter One historiography of the topic methodology of the study structure of the book Chapter Two establishes socio political patterns of emigration and provides an historical framework for Chapters Three and Four which concentrate on the image and identity of the refugee artist the former based on written sources and the latter on visual material In detail Chapter Three analyses the British image of the refugee artists and their works on the one hand and the migr's self representations on the other the latter exemplified by refugee organisations the Free German League of Culture Freier Deutscher Kulturbund the Austrian Centre the Anglo Sudeten Club and the Czech Institute and institutions founded by migr artists Jack Bilbo's Modern Art Gallery and Arthur Segal's Painting School Chapter Four examines the works produced in internment and those exhibited and produced for the refugee organisations discussed in Chapter Three Chapter Five discusses the results of this study in the light of three postcolonial concepts diaspora communities the notion of home and the gendered identity of the refugee The appendix lists all painters sculptors and graphic artists from Nazi Germany in Britain with biographical details Apart from visual and written sources discussed for the first time there are two major results of the study First although the artists were united as refugees this unity did not lead to a unity in art refugee art is a construction put forward by the British press and the refugee organisations particularly the Free German League of Culture Second contrary to claims that modern art was international and formed a universal unity that transgressed nationality neither the West Europe nor modernism form unities instead in the 1930s and 1940s cultures in Europe constructed conceptions of other European cultures on the basis of nation state identities

Hegel: The Phenomenology of Spirit Michael Inwood,2018-02-15 G W F Hegel s first masterpiece the Phenomenology of Spirit is one of the great works of philosophy It remains however one of the most challenging and mysterious books ever written Michael Inwood presents this central work to the modern reader in an intelligible and accurate new translation This translation attempts to convey as accurately as possible the subtle nuances of the original German text Inwood also provides a detailed commentary that explains what Hegel is saying at each stage of his argument and also discusses the philosophical issues it raises This volume will therefore prove invaluable to those who want to get to grips with Hegel's thought processes and to follow his complex argument

Hegel on Beauty Julia Peters, 2014-11-20 While the current philosophical debate surrounding Hegel's aesthetics focuses heavily on the philosopher's controversial end of art thesis its participants rarely give attention to Hegel's ideas on the nature of beauty and its relation to art This study seeks to remedy this oversight by placing Hegel's views on beauty front and center Peters asks us to rethink the common assumption that Hegelian beauty is exclusive to art and argues that for Hegel beauty like art is subject to historical development Her careful analysis of Hegel's notion of beauty not only has crucial implications for our understanding of the end of art and Hegel's aesthetics in general but also sheds light on other fields of Hegel's philosophy in particular his anthropology and aspects of his ethical thought

Rearing, Health, and Disease Management of Special Economic Animals: Paving the Way for a Sustainable Special Economy through Animal Agriculture Izhar Hyder Qazi, Ling Tian, 2025-09-12 With society's continuous development and the increasing demands of a growing human population the concept of Special Economy has emerged as a new theory in relation to animal agriculture The rearing and utilization of special economic animals which refer to artificially domesticated animals for economic value have gained attention worldwide In different parts of the world over 50 species of these special economic animals are reared for commercial purposes and as a valuable food resource These include a variety of special breeds of livestock and poultry such as sika deer red deer yak silky chickens pigeons and ostriches Fur animals like fox raccoon dog and mink are raised for their pelts while rare birds honeybees and silkworms are bred for their unique contributions Additionally other valuable insects such as the black soldier fly also hold significance within the realm of special economic animals However the special economic animal industry faces complex pressures and challenges

The Role of Pendrin in Health and Disease Silvia Dossena, Markus Paulmichl, 2017-03-02 This book reviews the current state of knowledge on the genetics molecular biology and physiology of pendrin with a particular focus on pendrin dysfunction and the consequences for human health Pendrin is a membrane transport protein expressed in the thyroid inner ear kidney and airways and was recently found in a variety of other tissues and organs Pendrin malfunction may cause a genetic disease called Pendred syndrome or non syndromic deafness The book provides a thorough description of the multifaceted role of pendrin in human health and disease As such it offers an invaluable tool for physiology and pathology researchers while also providing essential guidance for otorhinolaryngologists and endocrinologists in the diagnosis of Pendred syndrome and pendrin related deafness Attachment-Focused Family Therapy Daniel A.

Hughes,2007-05-17 Over fifty years ago John Bowlby and Mary Ainsworth s research on the developmental psychology of children formed the basic tenets of attachment theory And for years following these tenets the theory s focus has been on how children develop vis vis the attachments whether secure or insecure they form with their caregivers In the therapy room this has meant working with individuals one on one with the therapist assuming the role of the attachment figure in order to provide a secure base for treating clients problems that arose from troubled interpersonal relationships in childhood Here Daniel A Hughes an eminent clinician and attachment specialist is the first to expand this traditional model applying attachment theory to a family therapy setting Drawing on more than 20 years of clinical experience Hughes presents his comprehensive effective and accessible treatment model for working with all members of a family not simply the individual in question to recognize resolve and heal personal and family problems using principles from theories of attachment and intersubjectivity Beginning with an overview of attachment and intersubjectivity the twin theories from which he forms his treatment plan Hughes carefully outlines chapter by chapter the core principles and strategies of his family based approach He elaborates on the need to develop and maintain PACE playfulness acceptance curiosity and empathy the central therapeutic stance of attachment focused family therapy and supplies tips and sample dialogues for implementing this position The importance of fostering affective reflective a r dialogue is covered in detail as well as helping families to manage shame understand and embrace the break and repair cycle of their interactions and explore and resolve childhood trauma Also discussed are the more procedural issues of how to incorporate parents into therapeutic conversations when and how to question them on their own attachment histories and how to be with children Grounded in the fundamental principle of parents facilitating the healthy emotional development of their children Attachment Focused Family Therapy is the first book of its kind to offer therapists a complete manual for using attachment therapy with families Extensive case studies vignettes and sample dialogues throughout clearly demonstrate how Hughes s model plays out in the therapy room By showing therapists how to create a bond of psychological safety and intersubjective discovery with parents and caregivers Hughes reveals how they in turn can bring about similar experiences of safety and discovery for their children Aquaporins Eric Beitz,2008-12-19 The aquaporin field has matured at an exceptionally fast pace and we are at the verge to develop serious strategies to therapeutically modulate aquaporin function directly or via regulatory networks Key prerequisites are available today i a considerable and growing number of aquaporin crystal structures for the rational design of inhibitory molecules ii elaborate molecular dynamics simulation techniques for theoretical analyses of selectivity mechanisms and docking experiments iii comprehensive data on aquaporin immunohistochemistry iv aquaporin knockout animals for physiological studies and v assay systems for compound library screenings The structure of this volume on aquaporins follows the points laid out above and thus covers the developments from basic research to potential pharmacological use Situated between pharmacology textbooks and recent scientific papers this book provides a timely overview for readers from the fundamental as well as the applied disciplines

Brain, Mind and the Signifying Body Paul Thibault, 2006-09-17 Brain Mind and the Signifying Body is an exploration of a multimodal theory of cognitive science Using linguistic theories first developed by Saussure and more latterly by M A K Halliday Paul Thibault analyses how social and biological systems interact to produce meaning This fascinating study will be of interest to undergraduates and academics researching cognitive linguistics and advanced semiotics The book engages with the current dialogue between the human and life sciences to ask questions about the relationship between the physical biological aspects of a human being and the sociocultural framework in which a human being exists Paul J Thibault argues that we need to understand both the semiotic discursive nature of meaning making and the physical context in which this activity takes place The two are inseparable and hence the only way we can understand our subjective experience of our environment and our perceptions of our inner states of mind is by giving equal weight to both frameworks This ecosocial semiotic theory engages with linguistics semiotics activity theory biology and psychology In so doing the book produces a new way of looking at how a human being makes sense of his or her environment but also how this environment shapes such meanings

Hegel Charles Taylor, 1975 A major and comprehensive study of the philosophy of Hegel his place in the history of ideas and his continuing relevance and importance Professor Taylor relates Hegel to the earlier history of philosophy and more particularly to the central intellectual and spiritual issues of his own time He engages with Hegel sympathetically on Hegel s own terms and as the the subject demands in detail We are made to grasp the interconnections of the system without being overwhelmed or overawed by its technicality We are shown its importance and its limitations and are enabled to stand back from it

SENSORY HAIR CELL DEATH AND REGENERATION, 2nd Edition Michael E. Smith, Andrew K. Groves, Allison B. Coffin, 2025-01-23 Sensory hair cells are the mechanosensory receptors of the auditory and vestibular systems in all vertebrates and of the lateral line system of some aquatic vertebrates Hair cells can be damaged and lost due to such factors as aging ototoxic chemicals acoustic trauma infection or genetic factors Loss of these hair cells lead to deficits in hearing and balance and in mammals such deficits are permanent In contrast non mammalian vertebrates exhibit the capability to regenerate missing hair cells Researchers have been examining the process of hair cell death and regeneration in animal models in an attempt to find ways of either preventing hair cell loss or stimulating the production of new hair cells in mammals with the ultimate goal of finding new therapeutics for human sensorineural hearing and balance deficits This has led to a wide array of research on hair cells such as understanding the factors that cause hair cell loss and finding agents that protect them from damage elucidating the apoptotic pathways activated during hair cell death examining the genes and cellular pathways that are regulated during the process of hair cell death and regeneration and characterizing the functional sensory loss and recovery following hair cell death and regeneration This research has involved cell and developmental biologists physiologists geneticists bioinformaticians and otolaryngologists In this Research Topic we wish to summarize and review recent progress of hair cell regeneration research and collate original articles advancing sensory hair cell death and regeneration research into the future *Official Report of the ...
