Advances in Art Therapy Harriet Wadson, Jean Durkin, Dorine Perach, 1991-01-16 Presents new ways in which art therapy is being used Describes a wealth of cases where art therapy has been used with bereaved children refugees psychotics psychosomatic patients and many others Discusses a variety of methods employed by art therapists including the creative use of photography video computers and psychodrama Describes ways of introducing art therapy to children and a new method of working with depressed patients Also covers training issues such as countertransference through art making using art in supervision and training in termination Horticultural Therapy and the Older Adult Population Suzanne Wells, 2014-02-04 Horticultural Therapy and the Older Adult Population is the guidebook you've been waiting for since the American Horticultural Therapy Association's AHTA 1981 publication With an updated collection of chapters in the area of horticultural therapy and older adults ranging from a review of relevant literature to descriptions of existing horticultural therapy programs this book will stimulate networking and information sharing among horticultural therapists and other professionals working with older adults spur new ideas and foster continuing research in the field The book's importance is recognized internationally and it is soon to be published in Japanese In Horticultural Therapy and the Older Adult Population you will find chapters on garden designs to enhance the horticultural therapy experience descriptions of existing horticultural therapy programs for older adults and new research to evaluate the effectiveness of horticultural therapy with this population Whether you're an established horticultural therapist a nursing home administrator or a gerontology educator

this book will help you design gardens set up and evaluate programs and develop curriculum Horticultural Therapy and the Older Adult Population also includes the results of a survey sent to all registered members of AHTA who work with the older adult population The survey responses provide information about the institutions and the population served programming activities program staffing program evaluation and funding Another beneficial feature of the book is a resource packed bibliography Prepared as a service to horticultural therapists and others working with older adults it covers the most relevant publications giving you more places to find inspiration and ideas for improving care to the elderly through horticultural therapy

Art Psychotherapy Groups SALLY SKAIFE, Val Huet, 2014-02-25 A growing number of art therapists are also trained in group analytic psychotherapy This book explores the new theories and models for practice arising from the merging of these two disciplines Contributors ask whether a model can be applied universally to art therapy group work with diverse client groups They present in depth case studies looking at work with the following children drug and alcohol abusers forensic patients patients on acute psychiatric wards the cognitively impaired elderly institutionalised patients moving into the community A common theme which emerges is that the physical use of art materials and the space of the art room offer a possibility for communication of feelings which is not possible in purely verbal groups This allows clients who would not normally be considered for group therapy to benefit from a psychodynamic group process

Printmaking as Therapy Lucy Mueller White, 2002-04-17 The author explores the therapeutic advantages of printmaking She also describes its roots outside art therapy Relief printing intaglio planographic or surface processes and stencilling are all covered in detail with many ideas for incorporating them into art therapy sessions

Professional Care for the Elderly Mentally Ill Liz Matthew, 2013-11-11 Services to older people with mental health problems have gone through radical change in recent years Legislation has had a profound effect by dictating how care to older people is delivered both within hospital and within the community The recent government agenda emphasizes cost effectiveness value for money and accountability This too is an important driving force in re evaluating the service although not everyone would agree with many of the proposed strategies and there are clearly different views as to the appropriateness of many of the services One thing is certain however the move towards interdisciplinary working is here to stay Not all change has been led by legislation and many innovations have been founded in the day to day practices in the care of older people with mental health problems A service of course does not become integrated merely by imposing joint working on a number of professionally based disciplines and in many ways this may not be desirable At its worst it produces duplication where people from different background are all doing the same job This is not the intention of joint working instead it should attempt to improve the quality of service by a rich mix of skills and experience from a number of related disciplines
