Extraordinary Encounters In An Ordinary Life:

Extraordinary Encounters Katherine Smith, James Staples, Nigel Rapport, 2015-03-01 Given the anthropological focus on ethnography as a kind of deep immersion the interview poses theoretical and methodological challenges for the discipline This volume explores those challenges and argues that the interview should be seen as a special productive site of ethnographic encounter a site of a very particular and important kind of knowing In a range of social contexts and cultural settings contributors show how the interview is experienced and imagined as a kind of space within which personal biographic and social cues and norms can be explored and interrogated The interview possesses its own authenticity therefore true to the persons involved and true to their moment of interaction whilst at the same time providing information on human capacities and proclivities that is generalizable beyond particular social and cultural contexts Ordinary People Serving an Extraordinary God Paul Adams, 2019-08-12 Saint Paul claimed to be the chief sinner but the man that Paul Adams once was could rival him but not anymore The life of deceit selfishness and pain that the author engaged in is now in the rearview mirror When he reads about the people who will not inherit the kingdom of God he can see the man he used to be walking toward eternal destruction While Adams was close to certain death many times God kept him here so he could become a soldier for His cause Ever since Adams was saved he has sought to win souls for the Lord In this testimony he asks powerful questions such as How can we work on a daily basis for God's glory Where can we find opportunities to be part of God's work What can we do to be sensitive to the Holy Spirit While Adams is just an ordinary man his journey of slowly moving toward Christ until being born again holds valuable lessons for everyone Discover how you too can be redeemed and live in God's love and grace Practicing the Kingdom Justin Bronson Barringer, Maria Russell Kenney, 2022-02-07 Throughout her academic career Christine D Pohl has helped the church rediscover practices that used to be central to its life like hospitality community and friendship Perhaps best known for her groundbreaking Making Room Recovering Hospitality as a Christian Tradition she has also contributed significantly to discussions on Christian community feminism and the academy and the practice of friendship Yet behind this lies a lifetime of lived theology that informs her life and her work both inside and outside the academy Containing biblical systematic and moral theology these essays are scriptural and liturgical multidisciplinary and missional Several of them could be described as offering essays of lived theology writing and reflecting from within years of action and contemplation They build upon particularly fruitful aspects of Pohl's work through expansion clarification and occasional disagreement A mix of scholars and practitioners colleagues former students and friends the contributors represent a wide variety of theoretical and practical expertise This volume honors Pohl most when its readers choose to take the wisdom within its pages and embody that in life together Policing and Social Media Christopher J. Schneider, 2016-04-04 This book investigates various public aspects of the management use and control of social media by police agencies in Canada This book aims to illustrate the process by which new information technology namely social media and related changes in communication formats have affected the public face of policing and police work Schneider argues that police use of social media has altered institutional public police practices in a manner that is consistent with the logic of social media platforms Policing is changing to include new ways of conditioning the public cultivating self promotion and expanding social control While each case study presented here focuses on a different social media platform or format his concern is less with the particular format per se as these will undoubtedly change and more with developing suitable analytical and methodological approaches to understanding contemporary policing practices on social media sites

Affective Landscapes in Literature, Art and Everyday Life Christine Berberich, Neil

Campbell, 2016-03-09 Bringing together a diverse group of scholars representing the fields of cultural and literary studies cultural politics and history creative writing and photography this collection examines the different ways in which human beings respond to debate and interact with landscape How do we feel sense know cherish memorise imagine dream desire or even fear landscape What are the specific qualities of experience that we can locate in the spaces in and through which we live While the essays most often begin with the broadly literary the memoir the travelogue the novel poetry the contributors approach the topic in diverse and innovative ways The collection is divided into five sections Peripheral Cultures dealing with dislocation and imagined landscapes Memory and Mobility concerning the road as the scene of trauma and movement Suburbs and Estates contrasting American and English spaces Literature and Place foregrounding the fluidity of the fictional and the real and the human and nonhuman and finally Sensescapes tracing the sensory response to landscape Taken together the essays interrogate important issues about how we live now and might live in the future

Running with Expanding Heart Mary

Reuter, 2010-02-01 Mary Reuter recalls how as a child taking piano lessons she often skipped practicing scales and thought her teacher would not notice Reuter admits she never did advance to the level of a skilled pianist But in Running with Expanding Heart readers will discover that she is well practiced and thus skilled in paying attention to the extraordinary in the ordinary in discovering the presence of God in the events of daily life Through Reuter's poignant and humorous stories and through her careful listening to Scripture and the Rule of Benedict readers will also take up the practice of looking for God in unexpected places and in doing so they will find their hearts expanding with the unconditional and all embracing love of God Mary Reuter OSB is a member of Saint Benedict's Monastery in St Joseph Minnesota where she served as prioress from 1989-1995. She currently teaches in the department of theology at the College of Saint Benedict and Saint John's University.

Life after God: An Encounter with Postmodernism Mark Bevir, 2022-03-16 In this volume Mark Bevir argues that postfoundationalism is compatible with humanism and historicism. He shows how postmodernists especially Derrida and Foucault drew on structuralism and the avant garde in ways that led them to downplay human agency and historical context. He then explores how we today might recover and rethink humanism and historicism. And finally he discusses the critical and ethical practices that such ideas might inspire.

The Sublime in Everyday Life Anastasios Gaitanidis, Polona Curk, 2020-12-30 Notions of the sublime are most often associated with the extraordinary and include the intra-psychic, high-cultural and exceptional occurrences of elation and exaltation as part of the experience. Using psychoanalytic and aesthetic theories, this book aims to revitalise the sublime by re-evaluating its significance for contemporary life and in a unique and fascinating endeavour opens up a space that explores the sublime in the ordinary, everyday and quotidian. Through the exploration of familiar (i.e. love, death, art and nature) and unfamiliar (pornography, education and politics) threads of the sublime experience, this book posits the sublime as invoking an ordinary human response which contains minute inter-psychic, inclusive and even mass-media cultural elements and carries within it therapeutic and political potential. It explores loving and caring as well as hateful, traumatic and destructive encounters with the sublime, demonstrating how it can overflow and destabilise our psychological and social symbolic structures and expose their fictional and constructed nature, but also shows it as something we can engage with in order to re-create and heal ourselves above and beyond what any given form of reality can offer us. Demonstrating the urgent need to understand the sublime as something that is immanent in our everyday life, a source of energy and inspiration that can be invoked to support our mental health and well-being, this book will be of great interest to psychoanalysts, psychotherapists and art therapists as well as scholars and students of philosophy and popular culture.

anthropological assignments and the record of ethnographic works Textures of the Ordinary Veena Das, 2020-05-05 How might we speak of human life amid violence deprivation or disease so intrusive as to put the idea of the human into question How can scholarship and advocacy address new forms of war or the slow corrosive violence that belie democracy's promise to mitigate human suffering To Veena Das the answers to these questions lie not in foundational ideas about human nature but in a close attention to the diverse ways in which the natural and the social mutually absorb each other on a daily basis Textures of the Ordinary shows how anthropology finds a companionship with philosophy in the exploration of everyday life Based on two decades of ethnographic work among low income urban families in India Das shows how the notion of texture aligns ethnography with the anthropological tone in Wittgenstein and Cavell as well as in literary texts Das shows that doing anthropology after Wittgenstein does not consist in taking over a new set of terms such as forms of life language games or private language from Wittgenstein's philosophy Instead we must learn to see what eludes us in the everyday precisely because it is before our eyes The book shows different routes of return to the everyday as it is corroded not only by catastrophic events but also by repetitive and routine violence within everyday life itself As an alternative to normative ethics this book develops ordinary ethics as attentiveness to the other and as the ability of small acts of care to stand up to horrific violence Textures of the Ordinary offers a model of thinking in which concepts and experience are shown to be mutually vulnerable With questions returned to repeatedly throughout the text and over a lifetime this book is an intellectually intimate invitation into the ordinary that which is most simple yet most difficult to perceive in our lives Understanding

Relational Archaeologies Christopher Watts,2014-04-11 Many of us accept as uncontroversial the belief that the world is comprised of detached and disparate products all of which are reducible to certain substances Of those things that are alive we acknowledge that some have agency while others such as humans have more advanced qualities such as consciousness reason and intentionality So deeply seated is this metaphysical belief along with the related distinctions we draw between subject object mind body and nature culture that many of us tacitly assume past groups approached and apprehended the world in a similar fashion Relational Archaeologies questions how such a view of human beings other than human creatures and things affects our reconstruction of past beliefs and practices It proceeds from the position that in many cases past societies understood their place in the world as positional rather than categorical as persons bound up in reticular arrangements with similar and not so similar forms regardless of their substantive qualities Relational Archaeologies explores this idea by emphasizing how humans animals and things come to exist by virtue of the dynamic and fluid processes of connection and transaction In highlighting various counter Modern notions of what it means to be and how these can be teased apart using archaeological materials contributors provide a range of approaches from primarily theoretical historicized treatments of the topic to practical applications or case studies from the Americas the UK Europe Asia and Australia
