Gruchalla-Wesierski, 1990-01-01 Extraterritorial Application of Export Control Legislation A.L.C. de Mestral, T.
Gruchalla-Wesierski, 2024-02-19 Jurisdiction in International Law Cedric Ryngaert, 2015 This fully updated second edition of Jurisdiction in International Law examines the international law of jurisdiction focusing on the areas of law where jurisdiction is most contentious criminal antitrust securities discovery and international humanitarian and human rights law Since F A Mann s work in the 1980s no analytical overview has been attempted of this crucial topic in international law prescribing the admissible geographical reach of a State s laws This new edition includes new material on personal jurisdiction in the U S extraterritorial applications of human rights treaties discussions on cyberspace the Morrison case Jurisdiction in International Law has been updated covering developments in sanction and tax laws and includes further exploration on transnational tort litigation and universal civil jurisdiction The need for such an overview has grown more pressing in recent years as the traditional framework of the law of jurisdiction grounded in the principles of sovereignty and territoriality has been undermined by piecemeal developments Antitrust jurisdiction is heading in new directions influenced by law and economics approaches new EC rules are reshaping jurisdiction in securities law the U S is arguably overreaching in the field of corporate governance law and the universality principle has gained ground in European criminal law and U S tort law Such developments have given rise to conflicts over competency that struggle to be resolved within traditional jurisdiction theory This study proposes an innovative approach that departs from the classical solutions and advocates a general principle of international subsidiary jurisdiction Under the new proposed rule States would be entitled and at times even obliged to exercise subsidiary jurisdiction over internationally relevant situations in the interest of the international community if the State having primary jurisdiction fails to assume its responsibility Extraterritorial Jurisdiction in Theory and Practice Karl M. Meessen, 1996-08-01 This work contains the proceedings of a symposium held in Dresden addressing the topic of extraterritorial jurisdiction with respect to financial services tax arms control environmental law antitrust matters and mergers and acquisitions It provides an overview of how differently jurisdictional issues are perceived and dealt with especially in the USA and UK Contributions are from experts in the field The book differs from others in the field in that it provides a resolution on extraterritorial jurisdiction Audience Civil servants practising lawyers and academics in the field of international public law and private international law International Contracts and National Economic Regulation: Dispute Resolution Through International Commercial Arbitration Mahmood Bagheri, 2000-12-06 The growth of national economic regulation and the process of globalisation increasingly expose international transactions to an array of regulations from different jurisdictions These developments often contribute to widespread international contractual failures when parties claim the incompatibility of their contractual obligations with regulatory laws The author challenges conventional means of dispute resolution and argues for an interdisciplinary approach whereby disciplines such as international economic law conflict of laws contract law and economic regulations are functionally united to resolve international and multifaceted regulatory disputes He identifies the normative foundation of contract law as an important determinant in this process contending that contract law is essentially neutral and underpinned by the concept of corrective justice while economic regulations are mainly prompted by distributive justice Applying this corrective distributive justice dichotomy to international contracts the author critically assesses major conflict of laws approaches such as proper law the Rome Convention and governmental interest analysis which could disregard either public interest or private rights The author taking these theories into account proposes an alternative two dimensional interest analysis approach He tests the viability of this approach with reference to arbitral awards and court decisions in various jurisdictions and concludes that it uniquely fits into the structure of international commercial arbitration In adopting this approach arbitrators would take into account both corrective and distributive justice and to the extent that corrective justice prevails would be able to avert a total failure of the contract

Space Technology Export Controls and International Cooperation in Outer Space Michael Mineiro, 2011-11-08 Export controls definitively impact international cooperation in outer space Civil and commercial space actors that engage in international endeavors must comply with space technology export controls In the general discourse members of the civil and commercial space community have an understanding of their domestic export control regime However a careful reading of the literature on space technology export controls reveals that certain questions relevant to international engagements have not been identified or answered What is the legal political origin of space technology export controls How do they relate to the current international legal structure What steps can be taken to evolve our current unilateral paradigm of space technology within the context of peaceful exploration and use of outer space In this book these and other relevant questions on space technology export controls are identified and assessed through an insightful case study of the U S commercial communication export control regime The findings of this case study are used in an international legal political analysis of international space law public international law and international cooperation Breaking new ground in international legal theory a self justified security dilemma that is manifest in international law is identified and explained as the origin for the current paradigm of space technology export controls
