James Joyce and the Nineteenth-Century French Novel Finn Fordham, Rita Sakr Rita Sakr, 2011-03 The essays of this volume show how Joyce's work engaged with the many upheavals and revolutions within the French nineteenth century novel and its contexts They delve into the complexities of this engagement tracing its twists and turns and reemerge with fascinating and rich discoveries The contributors explore Joyce's explicit and implicit responses to Alexandre Dumas Honoré de Balzac Victor Hugo and Émile Zola and of course Flaubert Drawing from the wide range of Joyce's writings Dubliners A Portrait Ulysses Finnegans Wake and his life letters and essays they resituate Joyce's relation to France the novel and the nineteenth century

The Classics in Modernist Translation Lynn Kozak, Miranda Hickman, 2019-02-07 This volume sheds new light on a wealth of early 20th century engagement with literature of Graeco Roman antiquity that significantly shaped the work of anglophone literary modernism The essays spotlight translation a concept the modernists themselves used to reckon with the Classics and to denote a range of different kinds of reception from more literal to more liberal translation work as well as forms of what contemporary reception studies would term adaptation refiguration and intervention As the volume's essays reveal modernist translations of Classical texts crucially informed the innovations of many modernists and often themselves constituted modernist literary projects. Thus the volume responds to gaps in both Classical reception and Modernist studies: essays treat a comparatively understudied area in Classical reception by reviving work in a subfield of Modernist studies relatively inactive in recent decades but enjoying renewed attention through the recent work of contributors to this volume. The volume's essays address work significantly informed by Classical materials including Homer, Sophocles, Euripides, Sappho, Ovid, and Propertius, and approach a range of modernist writers: Pound and H.D. among the modernists best known for work engaging the Classics, as well as Cummings, Eliot, Joyce, Laura Riding, and Yeats.

A Long Essay on the Long Poem Rachel Blau DuPlessis, 2023-03-21 For decades Rachel Blau DuPlessis has shown readers how genres, forms, and the literal acts of writing and reception can be understood as sites of struggle. In her own words, writing is a praxis in which the author disappears into a process, into a community, into discontinuities, and into a desire for discovery. It is cause for celebration then that we have another work of warm, incisive, explanatory writing from DuPlessis in A Long Essay on the Long Poem.

Modernism and the Theater of Censorship Adam Parkes, 1996-02-22 Adam Parkes investigates the literary and cultural implications of the censorship encountered by several modern novelists in the early twentieth century. He situates modernism in the context of this censorship, examining the relations between such authors as D.H. Lawrence, James Joyce, Radclyffe Hall, and Virginia Woolf, and the public controversies generated by their fictional explorations of modern sexual themes. These authors located obscenity at the level of stylistic and formal experiment. The Rainbow, Lady Chatterley's Lover, Ulysses, and Orlando dramatized problems of sexuality and expression in ways that subverted the moral, political, and aesthetic premises on which their censors operated. In showing how modernism evolved within a culture of censorship, Modernism and the Theater of Censorship suggests that modern novelists, while shaped by their culture, attempted to reshape it.

James Joyce B.C. Southam, 2013-10-15 The Collected Critical Heritage II comprises 40 volumes covering nineteenth and twentieth-century European and American authors. These volumes will be available as a complete set, mini-boxed sets by theme, or as individual volumes. This second set complements the first 68-volume set of Critical Heritage published by Routledge in October 1995. The Critical Heritage series gathers together a large body of critical figures in literature. These carefully selected sources include contemporary reviews from both popular and literary media. In these, students can read about how Lady Chatterley's Lover shocked contemporary reviewers, or what Ibsen's Doll's House meant to the early women's movement, little-known documentary material such as diaries and correspondence often between authors and their publishers, and critics' landmark essays in the history of criticism, significant pieces of criticism from later periods to demonstrate how an author's reputation changed over time.

Joyce's Web Margot Norris, 2011-01-20 James Joyce has long been viewed as a literary modernist who helped define and uphold modernism's fundamental concepts of the artist as martyr to bourgeois sensibilities and of an idealistic faith in artistic freedom. In this revolutionary work, however, Margot Norris proposes that Joyce's art actually critiques these modernist tenets by revealing an awareness of the artist's connections to and constraints within bourgeois society. In sections organized around three mythologized and aestheticized figures in Joyce's works: artist, woman, and child, Norris readings unravel the web of Joyce's early and late stories, novels, and experimental texts. She shows how Joyce's texts employ multiple mechanisms to expose their own distortions, silences, and lies, and reveal connections between art and politics and art and society. This ambitious new reading not only repositions Joyce within contemporary debates about the ideological assumptions behind modernism and postmodernism but also urges reconsideration of the phenomenon of modernism itself. It will be of interest and importance to all literary scholars.

Philosophical Allusions in James Joyce's Finnegans Wake Robert Baines, 2024-03-04 In this comprehensive and intellectually ambitious study, Robert Baines outlines all of the major philosophical allusions in James Joyce's late masterpiece Finnegans Wake. Drawing on archival material, Baines shows how Joyce first encountered and then developed each philosophical concept, shining light on this famously perplexing text.

Poetry, Modernism, and an Imperfect World Sean Pryor, 2017-03-06 This book shows how modernist poetry understood itself to be complicit in the social injustice and unhappiness of its time. It will appeal to general readers with an interest in poetry, to scholars and students interested in the theory of poetry, and the history of the concept of poetry, and to scholars and students working in modernist studies and on twentieth-century literature.

Writing the City Desmond Harding, 2004-06-01 Writing the City examines and challenges the traditional transatlantic axis of urban modernism: London, Paris, New York, an axis that has often elided the historical importance of other centers that have shaped metropolitan identities and discourses. According to Desmond Harding, James Joyce's internationalist vision of Dublin generates powerful epistemic and cultural tropes that reconceive the idea of the modern city as a moral phenomenon in transcultural and transhistorical terms. Taking up the works of both Joyce and John Dos Passos, Harding investigates the lasting contributions these authors made to transatlantic intellectual thought in their efforts to envisage the city.

Flint on a Bright Stone Kirsten Blythe Painter, 2006 Flint on a Bright Stone closes a significant gap in the history of Modernist poetry by identifying the existence of Tempered Modernism, an international phenomenon exemplified by Akhmatova Rilke H D and Williams and characterized by small poems written with precision restraint simplicity equilibrium and hardness Exiles James Joyce, 2021 James Joyce's only surviving play has divided Joyceans for a century Illuminating the themes of performance that are so prominent throughout Joyce's fiction Exiles sees Joyce staking his claim definitively within the European theatrical tradition
