The Flaming Womb Barbara Watson Andaya, 2006-01-01 The Princess of the Flaming Womb the Javanese legend that introduces this pioneering study symbolizes the many ambiguities attached to femaleness in Southeast Asian societies Yet despite these ambiguities the relatively egalitarian nature of male female relations in Southeast Asia is central to arguments claiming a coherent identity for the region This challenging work by senior scholar Barbara Watson Andaya considers such contradictions while offering a thought provoking view of Southeast Asian history that focuses on women's roles and perceptions Andaya explores the broad themes of the early modern era 1500 1800 the introduction of new religions major economic shifts changing patterns of state control the impact of elite lifestyles and behaviors drawing on an extraordinary range of sources and citing numerous examples from Thai Vietnamese Burmese Philippine and Malay societies

Newsletter, East Asian Art and Archaeology ,1994 Kinship and Food in South East Asia Monica

Janowski,Fiona Kerlogue,2007 There has been a growing acceptance that food has an important role in establishing and structuring social and kin relations in South East Asian societies This study looks at a wide variety of groups in the region and demonstrates that within all of them the feeding relationship is fundamental to the establishment and the nature of relations within generations and between generations Presenting material from ten societies in the region the papers included in this volume argue that the feeding of foods drink and meals based on the focal starch crop grown by these agricultural groups rice in eight of the groups covered here sago in one and cassava in one is used to manipulate biological kinship and to construct a kinship particular to humans which is nevertheless founded in a natural process the flow of life blessings and potency between generations The Encoded Cirebon Mask Laurie Margot Ross,2016-08-29 In The Encoded Cirebon Mask Materiality Flow and Meaning along Java s Islamic Northwest Coast Laurie Margot Ross situates masks and masked dancing in the Cirebon region of Java Indonesia as an original expression of Islam This is a different view from that of many scholars who argue that canonical prohibitions on fashioning idols and imagery prove that masks are mere relics of indigenous beliefs that Muslim travelers could not eradicate Making use of archives oral histories and the performing objects themselves Ross traces the mask s trajectory from a popular entertainment in Cirebon once a portal of global exchange to a stimulus for establishing a deeper connection to God in late colonial Java and eventual links to nationalism in post independence Indonesia Fashion History Linda Welters,Abby Lillethun,2018-02-08 Fashion History A Global View proposes a new perspective on fashion history Arguing that fashion has occurred in cultures beyond the West throughout history this groundbreaking book explores the geographic places and historical spaces that have been largely neglected by contemporary fashion studies bringing them together for the first time Reversing the dominant narrative that privileges Western Europe in the history of dress Welters and Lillethun adopt a cross cultural approach to explore a vast array of cultures around the globe They explore key issues affecting fashion systems ranging from innovation production and consumption to identity formation and the effects of colonization Case studies include the cross cultural trade of silk textiles in Central Asia the indigenous dress of the Americas and of Hawai i the cosmetics of the Tang Dynasty in China and stylistic innovation in sub Saharan Africa Examining the new lessons that can be deciphered from archaeological findings and theoretical advancements the book shows that fashion history should be understood as a global phenomenon originating well before and beyond the fourteenth century European court which is continually and erroneously cited as fashion s birthplace

Providing a fresh framework for fashion history scholarship Fashion History A Global View will inspire inclusive dress narratives for students and scholars of fashion anthropology and cultural studies

Patterned Splendour Lesley Pullen, 2021-03-02 There exist numerous free standing figurative sculptures produced in Java between the eighth and fifteenth centuries whose dress display detailed textile patterns This surviving body of sculpture carved in stone and cast in metal varying in both size and condition remains in archaeological sites and museums in Indonesia and worldwide The equatorial climate of Java has precluded any textiles from this period surviving Therefore this book argues the textiles represented on these sculptures offer a unique insight into the patterned splendour of the textiles in circulation during this period This volume contributes to our knowledge of the textiles in circulation at that time by including the first comprehensive record of this body of sculpture together with the textile patterns classified into a typology of styles within each chapter
