Face Of Exile:

Exiled Intellectuals: Encounters, Conflicts, and Experiences in Transnational Context Latife Akyüz, Hakan Altun, Eylem Çamuroğlu Çığ, Melehat Kutun, 2024-12-07

Right after the Gezi Resistance a new tendency of authoritarianism rapidly emerged in Turkey and AKP government started targeting anyone it perceives as a threat to its rule especially academics journalists politicians actors directors i.e. the intellectuals who produce oppositional art and critical knowledge criminalizing them as enemies of the state. The authoritarian regime has permeated every aspect of economic social cultural and political life institutionalized primarily through the ongoing state of emergency declared in the wake of the July 15 2016 coup attempt. One might also consider this as a controlled and manipulated toxic coup. This new climate has started to limit the opportunities of production and reproduction for the intellectuals and artists and even holding a dissident stance became a source of risk on its own. The Republic of Turkey limited oppressed and punished the means of expression by giving one of the harshest and maybe the most violent reactions of its history against critical thought and opposition. The culture of democracy which was almost already non-existent has been completely abolished through the suspension of democracy on the ostensible level. This ongoing period is one in which producers of critical knowledge and opposing artists are being faced with immense oppression and penal sanctions. One of the outcomes of this process is a kind of new nomadism that we can sketch out as leaving behind. And one of the forms of this leaving is voluntary or involuntary exile. The majority of those whom we call new exile intellectuals today have relocated generally to Western Europe Great Britain the United States and especially to Germany. This new wave of political forced migration which started in the aftermath of the Gezi uprisings and gained momentum following the coup attempt has been defined by the editors of the book as new exile in order to draw a framework as it has some unique characteristics different from the previous waves. The fundamental property of this experience is the simultaneous mobilization of intellectual capital and bi-polar opposition. This oppositional stance is both against the dominant global order and against German style authoritarianism as well as Turkish style fascism. It is bi-polar in the context of exile. The form of the opposition in question has the ability to take root in the lands it arrives at. It does not point towards a single direction forward or backward and a single place the place it was ruptured it is here now and multidirectional. This state of new exile bears the efforts of existing critical knowledge and art producers in the home to which they have relocated as critical knowledge and art producers are opposed to the dominant world system as well as to fascism in Turkey. As political subjects of the resistance against authoritarianism they are continuously and collectively fighting against the structural fate of displacement. As both subjects and researchers of this current state of new exile it is our primary responsibility to understand and produce knowledge of these intellectuals' responses in this new life to monitor the creation processes of the new mechanisms to cope with the challenges and to understand investigate the effects of all these on the transnational social space. We have tried to determine the content of this book based on our own experiences as new exiled intellectuals We believe that in this period of new exile we are subjects and witnesses of a historic period due to our individual struggle for existence as well as our modes of organization and solidarity as a group of new exiled intellectuals On one hand we know that while transforming ourselves we pave the way for mutual interaction and the transformation of the structures in which we relate This is precisely why the motivation behind the idea of compiling this book lies not only in academic concerns such as analyzing the process and contributing to the literature on new exile but also in keeping a record of our own stories creating memories of our new exilic lives strategies of existence solidarity and experiences of activism and in sharing them with intellectuals around the globe who face the same fate We believe that this book with academic analyses and personal stories of new exile intellectuals from different professions will also serve as a guide for the steps towards transnational collaborations

Intimate afterlives of empire Astrid Rasch, 2025-09-02 Through close readings of almost twenty autobiographies written after the break up of the British Empire the book examines how individuals engage with the changing narrative landscape brought about by decolonisation It considers the autobiographies less for what they may teach us about the moment remembered and more as windows on the act of remembering This adds a crucial dimension to our understanding of the legacies of colonialism and how the ongoing process of decolonisation is reflected on the level of the individual It argues that autobiographers are at once influenced by and seek to influence the cultural memory of empire and its legacies and the authors own position in both Situated at the intersection of imperial decolonisation history memory studies and life writing studies the book uncovers this intimate afterlife of empire

An Exile's Romance Arthur Louis Keyser, 1887 Elizabeth Barrett Browning's Spiritual Progress: Face to Face with God Linda M. Lewis, 1998 Lewis English Bethany College studies Browning's religion as poetry and her poetry as religion interpreting her literary life as an arduous spiritual quest Using insights from contemporary feminist thought she argues that Browning's religious assumptions and insights range from the conventional to the iconoclastic and that her political and social ideology are consistent in light of her spiritual quest Draws on Browning's most admired poetry as well as her early poems and her political works and compares her ideology to that of early feminists conservatives and male Victorian poets Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Rabbi William Kolbrener,2016-09-19 Joseph Soloveitchik 1903 1993 was a major American Orthodox rabbi Talmudist philosopher and theologian In this new work William Kolbrener takes on Soloveitchik s controversial legacy and shows how he was torn between the traditionalist demands of his European ancestors and the trajectory of his own radical and often pluralist philosophy A portrait of this self professed lonely man of faith reveals him to be a reluctant modern who responds to the catastrophic trauma of personal and historical loss by underwriting an idiosyncratic highly conservative conception of law that is distinct from his Talmudic predecessors and also paves the way for a return to tradition that hinges on the ethical embrace of multiplicity As Kolbrener melds these contradictions he presents Soloveitchik as a good deal more complicated and conflicted than others have suggested The Last Rabbi affords new perspective on the thought of this major Jewish philosopher and his ideas on the nature of religious authority knowledge and pluralism The Bible Knowledge
